The Modern Man: An Individual

One's-Self I sing, a simple separate person,
Yet utter the word Democratic, the word En-Masse.

Of Life immense in passion, pulse, and power,
Cheerful, for freest action form'd under the laws divine,
The Modern Man I sing.

WALT WHITMAN

Though democracy extols the equality of all mankind, the essence of her strength lies in the individual, the sovereign man, free to shape his own destiny. Liberated by innate virtues—selflessness, awareness, courage, self-respect, wisdom—the soul of man strides forth to meet the challenge of Life. He who would survive as a free man in this modern world must be an individual.

DEDICATION

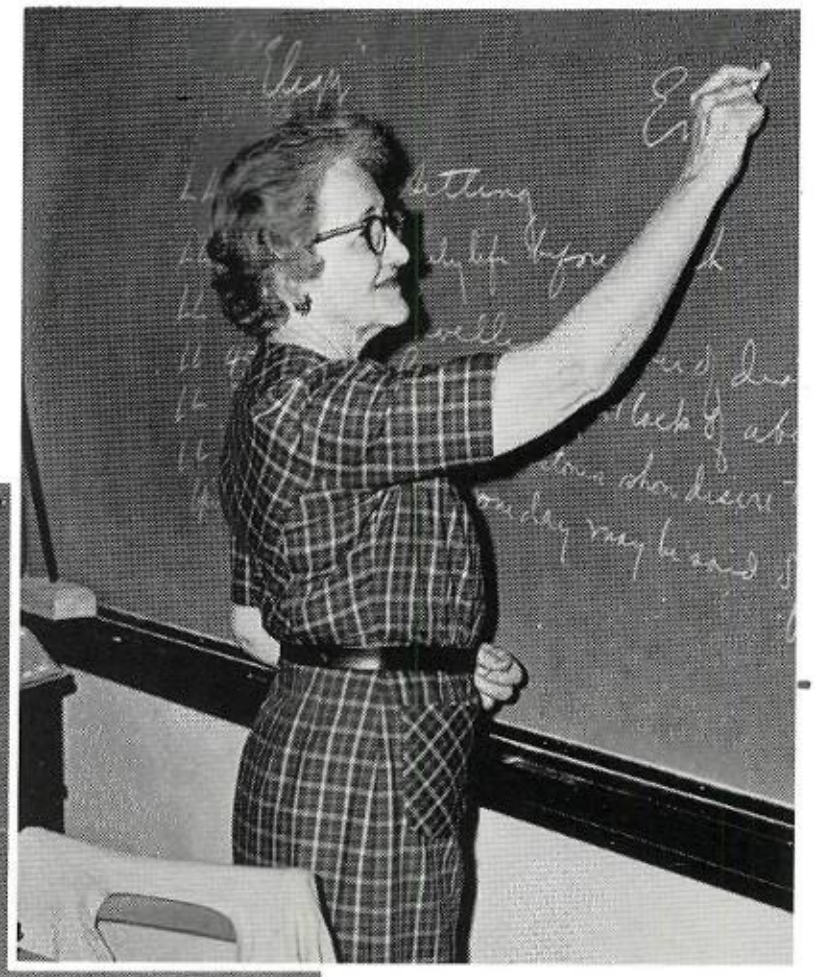
Mrs. Flossie Poston

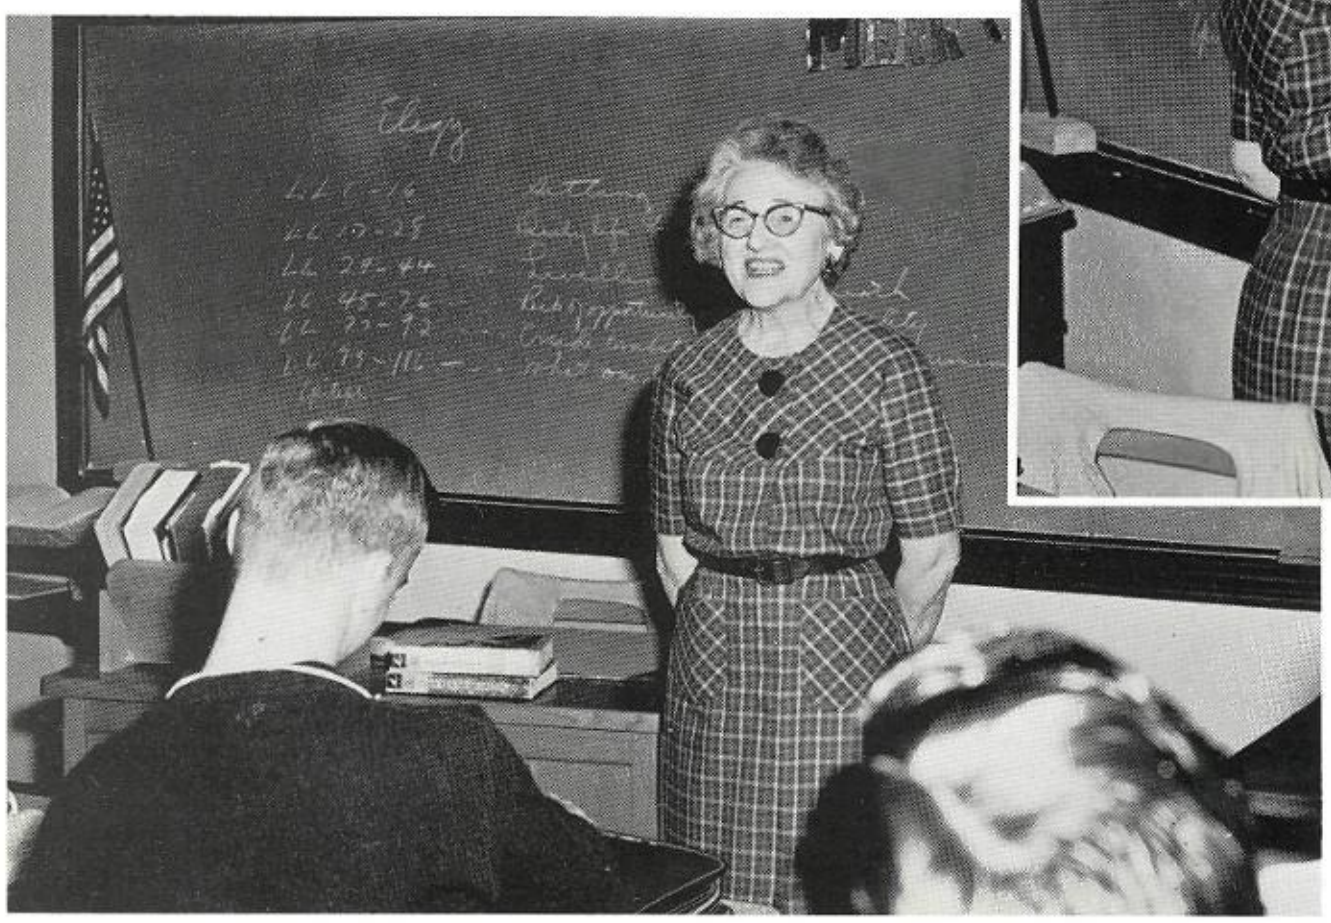
That certain spark which distinguishes one as above the ordinary is difficult to define, and yet we recognize it in every outstanding person. Exemplifying the ideal of the true individual is Mrs. Flossie Poston, English teacher at Heights for eleven years.

Varied interests and talents contribute to her unique personality. Genuine selflessness and sparkling humor endear her to students and faculty alike. A member of Delta Kappa Gamma, national teachers' honor society, and of the Fort Worth Music Club, Mrs. Poston guides young people as a sponsor of Young Citizen's Forum. One of her greatest pleasures is attending plays in this area and in New York.

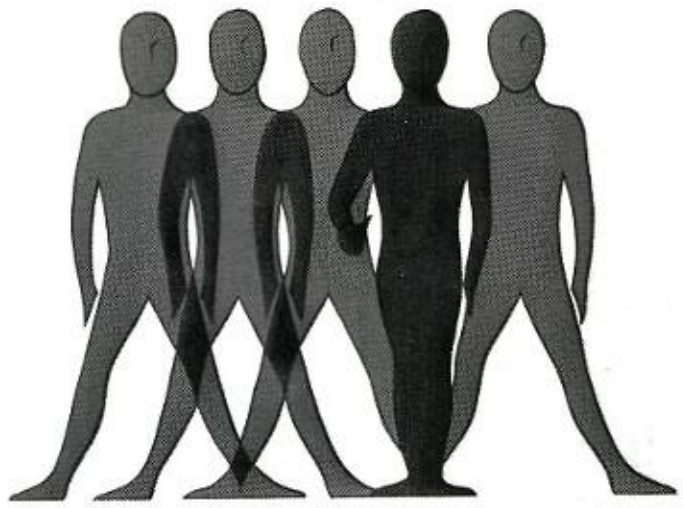
Mrs. Poston imparts to her students far more than a knowledge of English literature and grammar, for she values highly the individuality of every young person and attempts to lead each a few steps nearer to self-realization.

And thus, to Mrs. Flossie Poston, we dedicate the 1965 Yellow Jacket.





SELFLESSNESS



In this world it is not what we take up, but what we give up that makes us rich.

Languages Extend Cultural Interests

Basic to the understanding of all peoples, languages and history provide an insight into the world's diverse cultures and societies, both past and present. Practical experience in German, French, and Spanish, is gained in Heights' modern language lab, while those interested in studying ancient life may take three years of Latin offered here.

For the comprehension of the contributions of the past and for the appreciation of our heritage, world and American history, and government are available in the school's curriculum.

Innovations Mark Science Progress

Challenged to keep pace with the increased stress on scientific achievement, the science department has both expanded and adopted new teaching methods. Innovated this year was a second year chemistry course which allowed students a more intensive preparation in the field for college. New equipment, including an overhead projector, was added to aid teachers in presenting the basic concepts of biology, chemistry, and physics.

By using the overhead projector, Mr. Bob Phillips explains the principles of the three temperature scales.

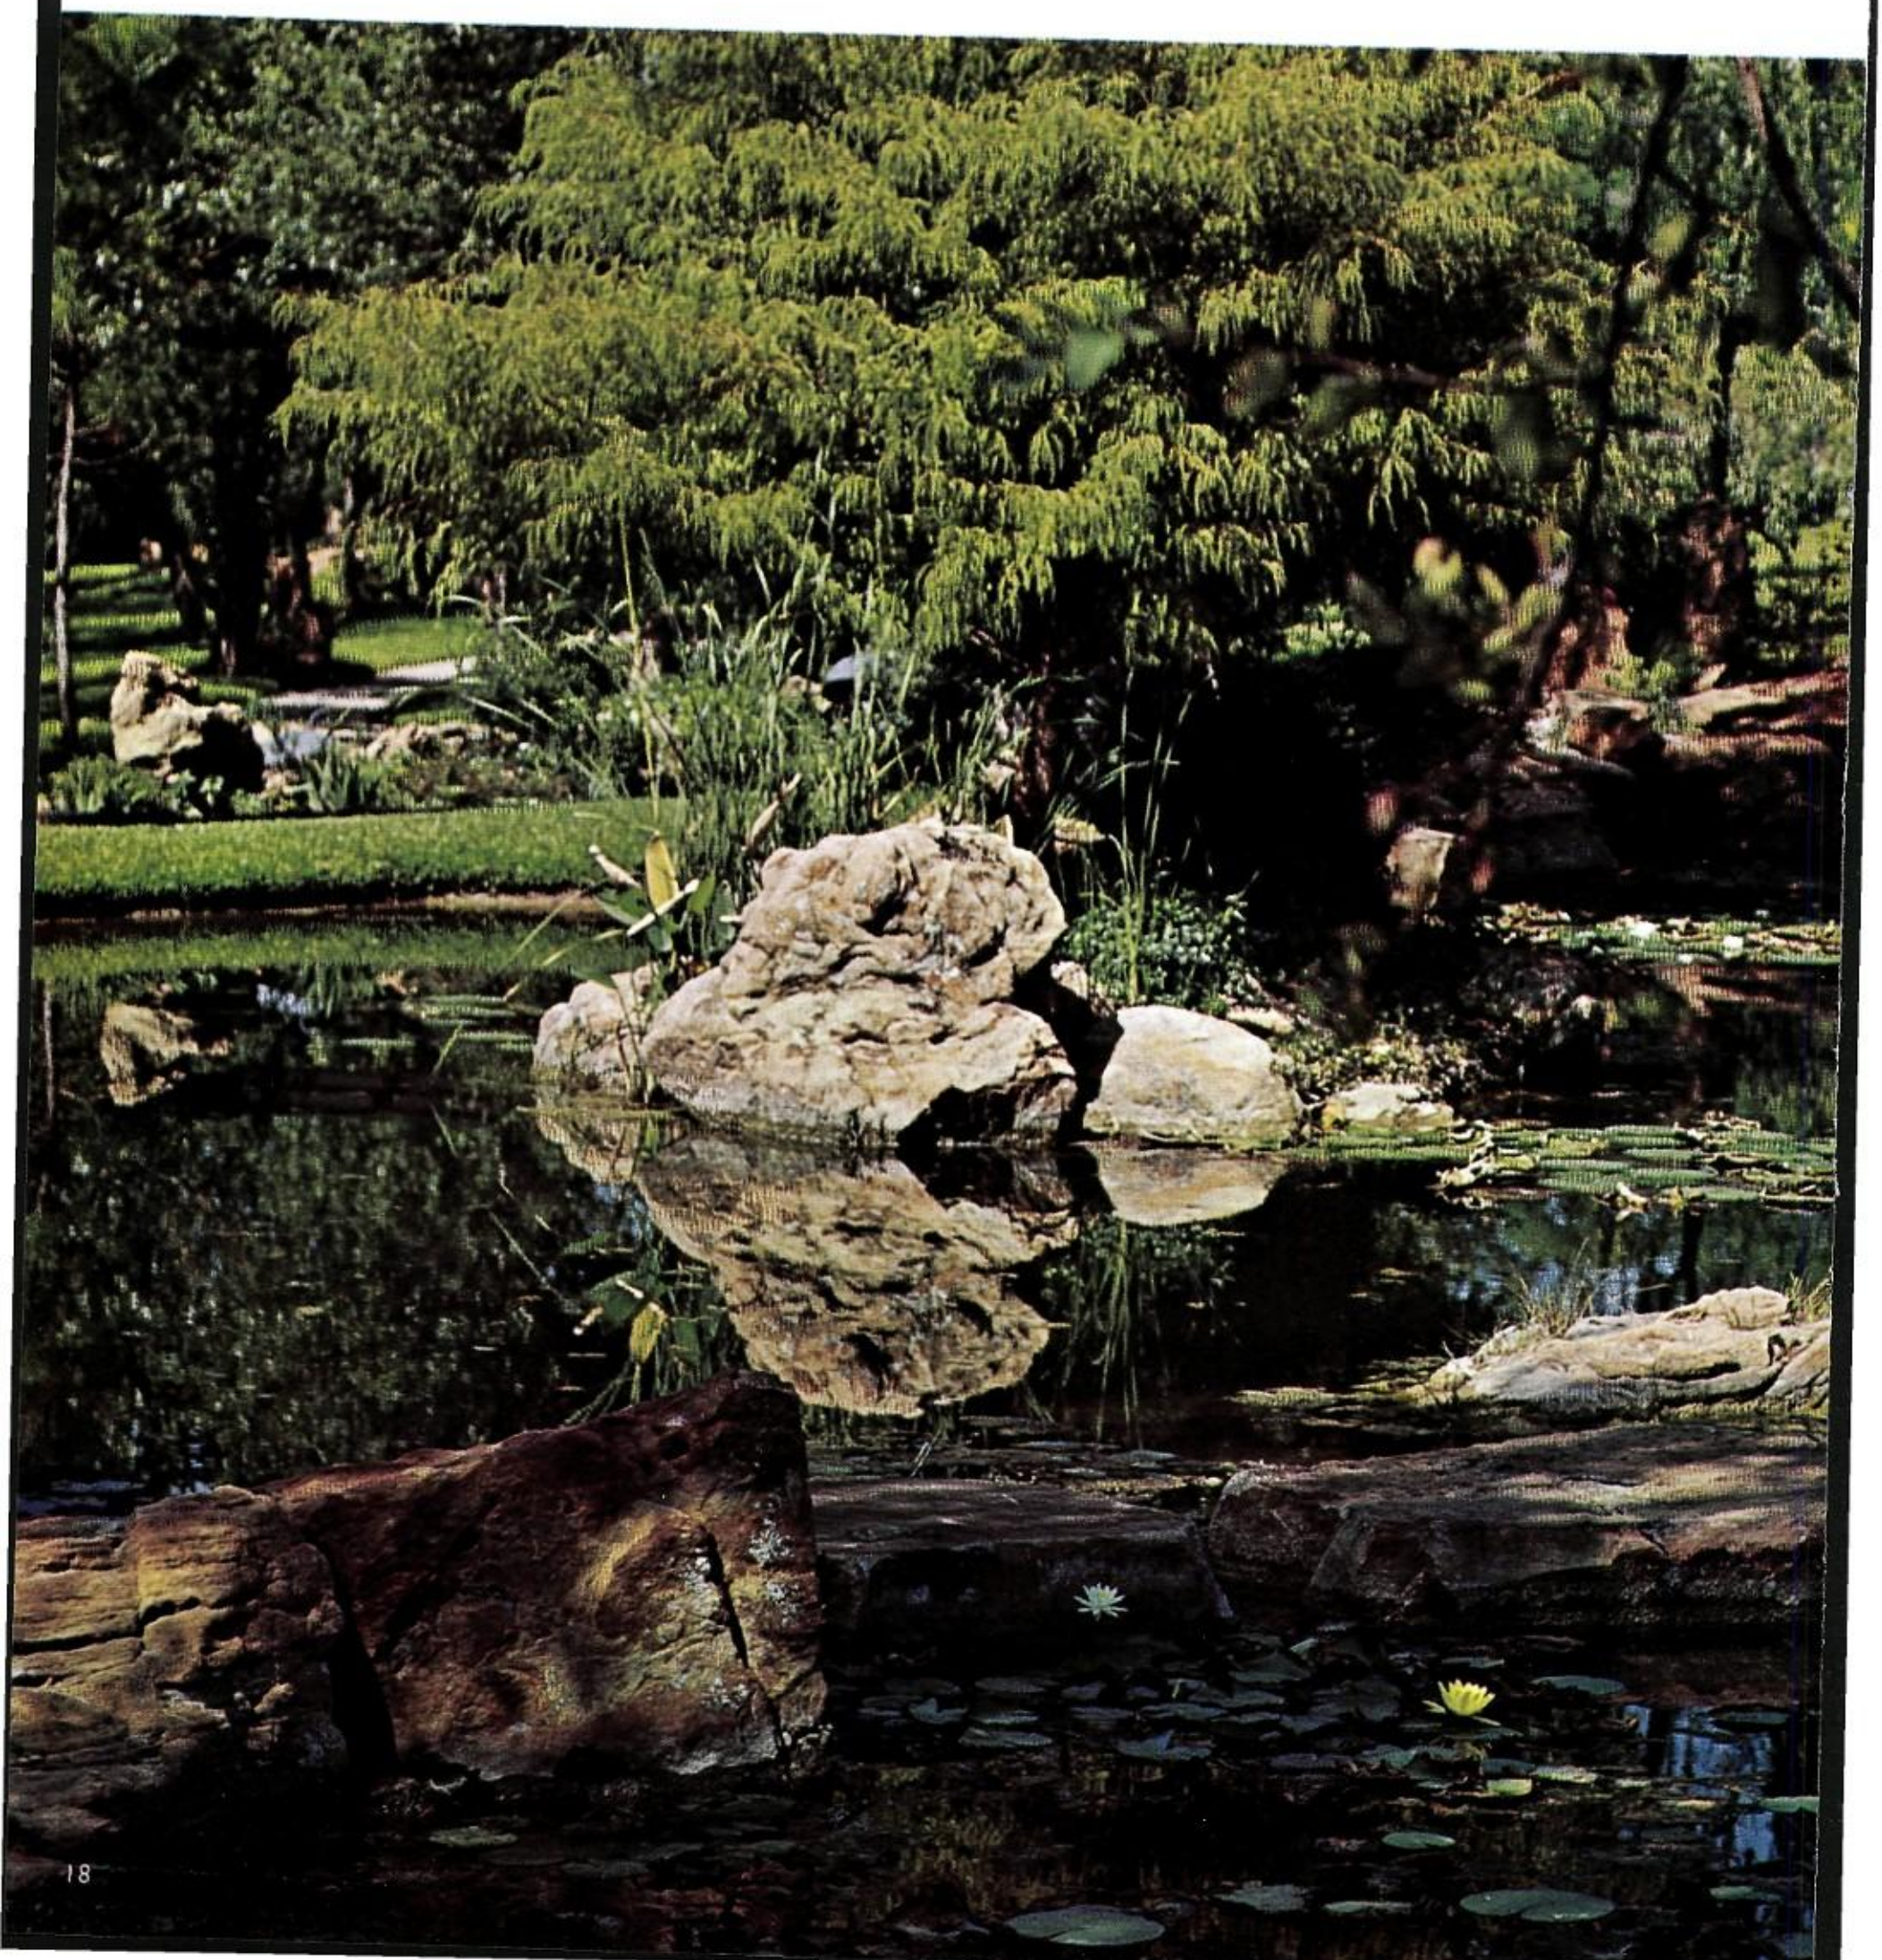
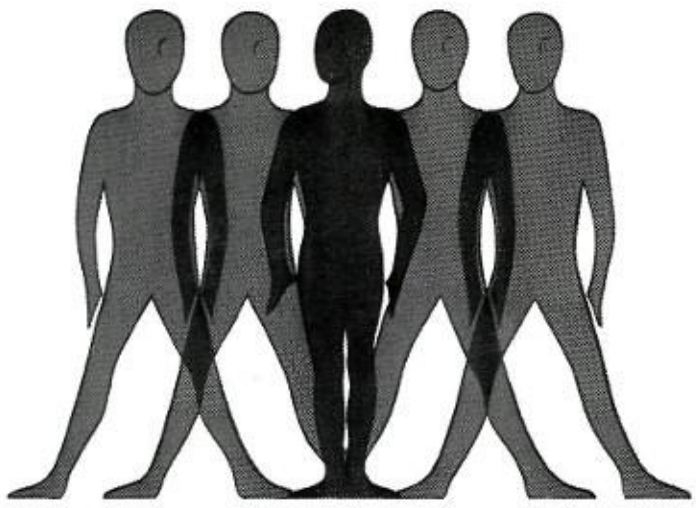
AWARENESS

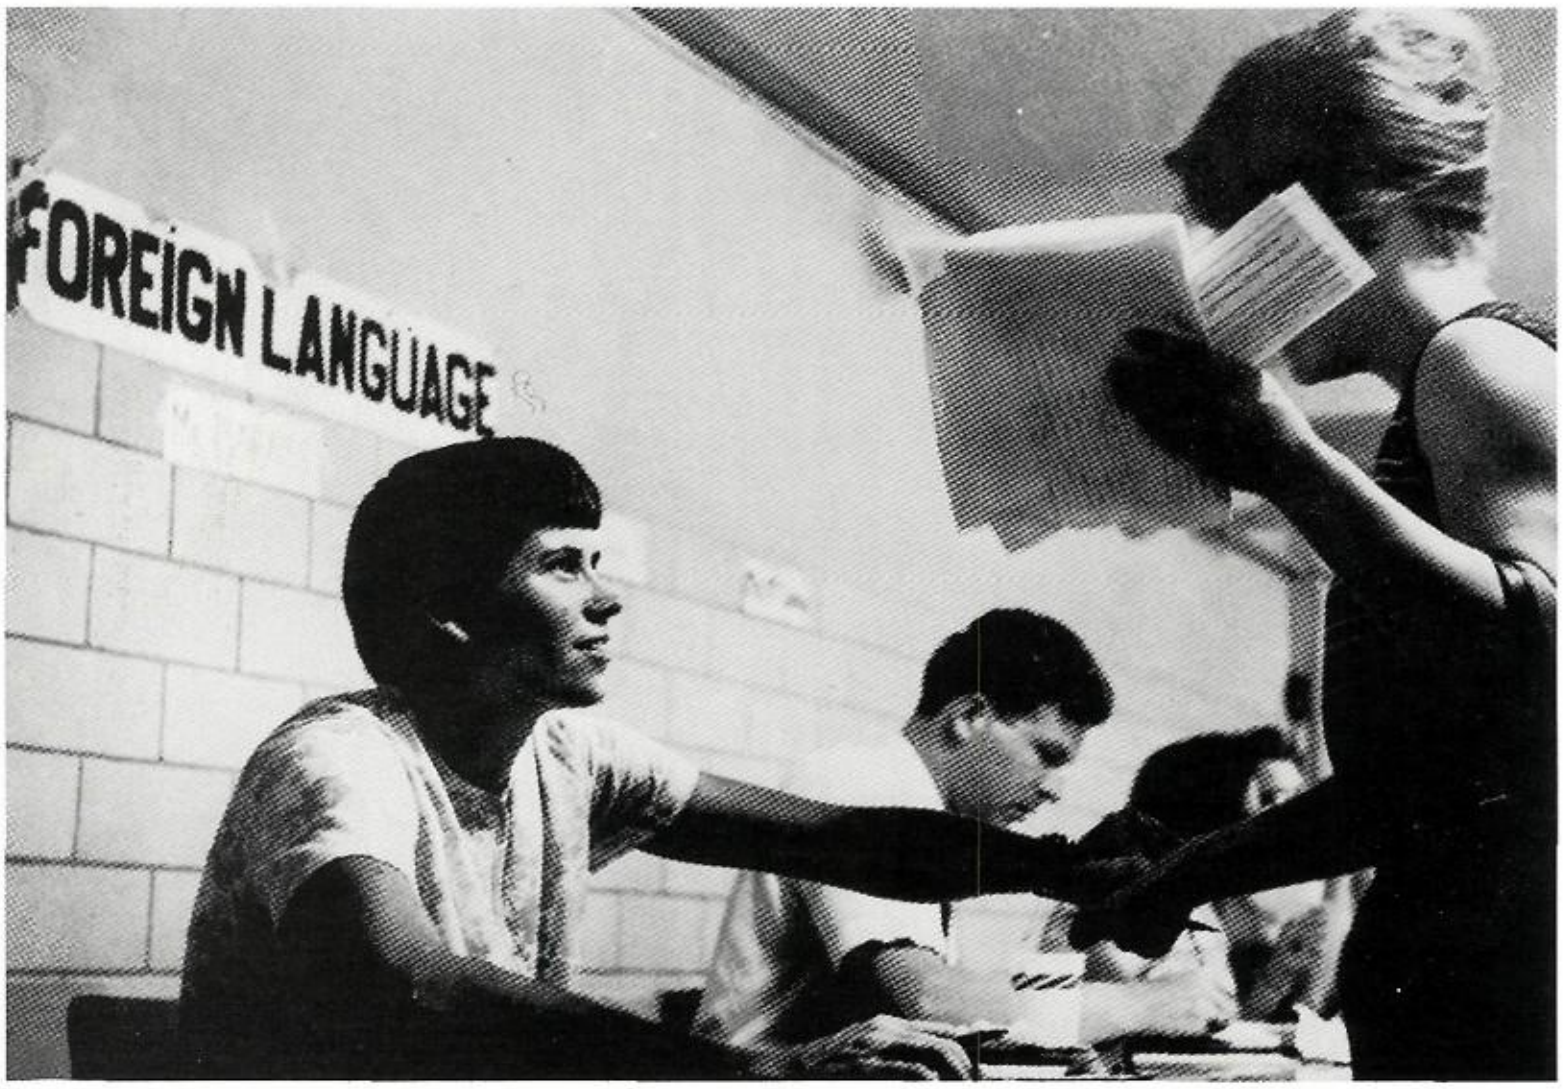




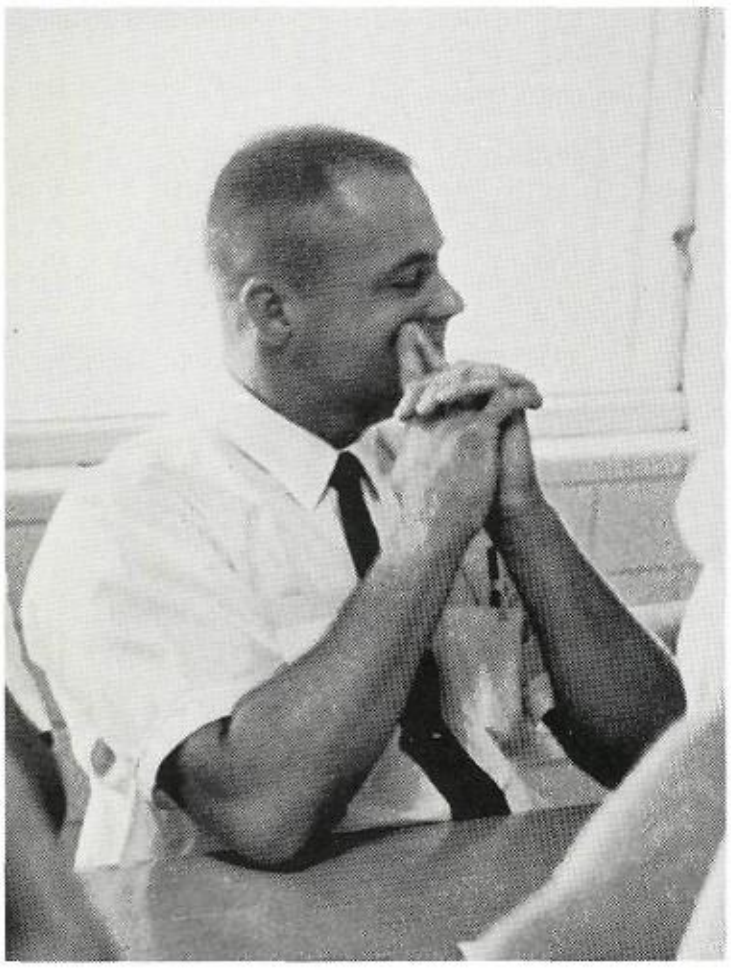
Genius, in truth, means little more than the faculty of perceiving in an unhabitual way.

WILLIAM JAMES

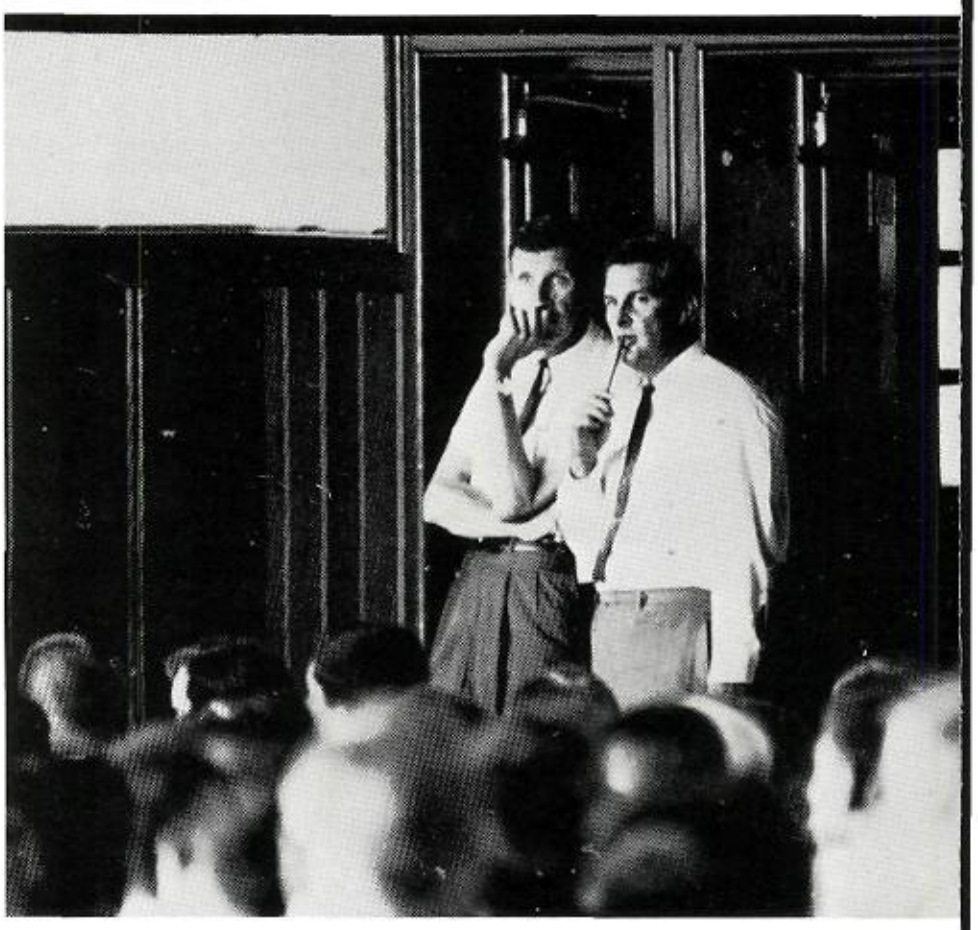
Come September There Is



"Keep this quiet, kid. We don't want Mrs. McCluney to know the going price for 'A' students," propositions Miss Hale to a prospective student.



"Here's the church; here's the steeple . . ." ponders Coach Priddy, "Open the doors and see 35 girls and one boy in my fifth period biology class?"



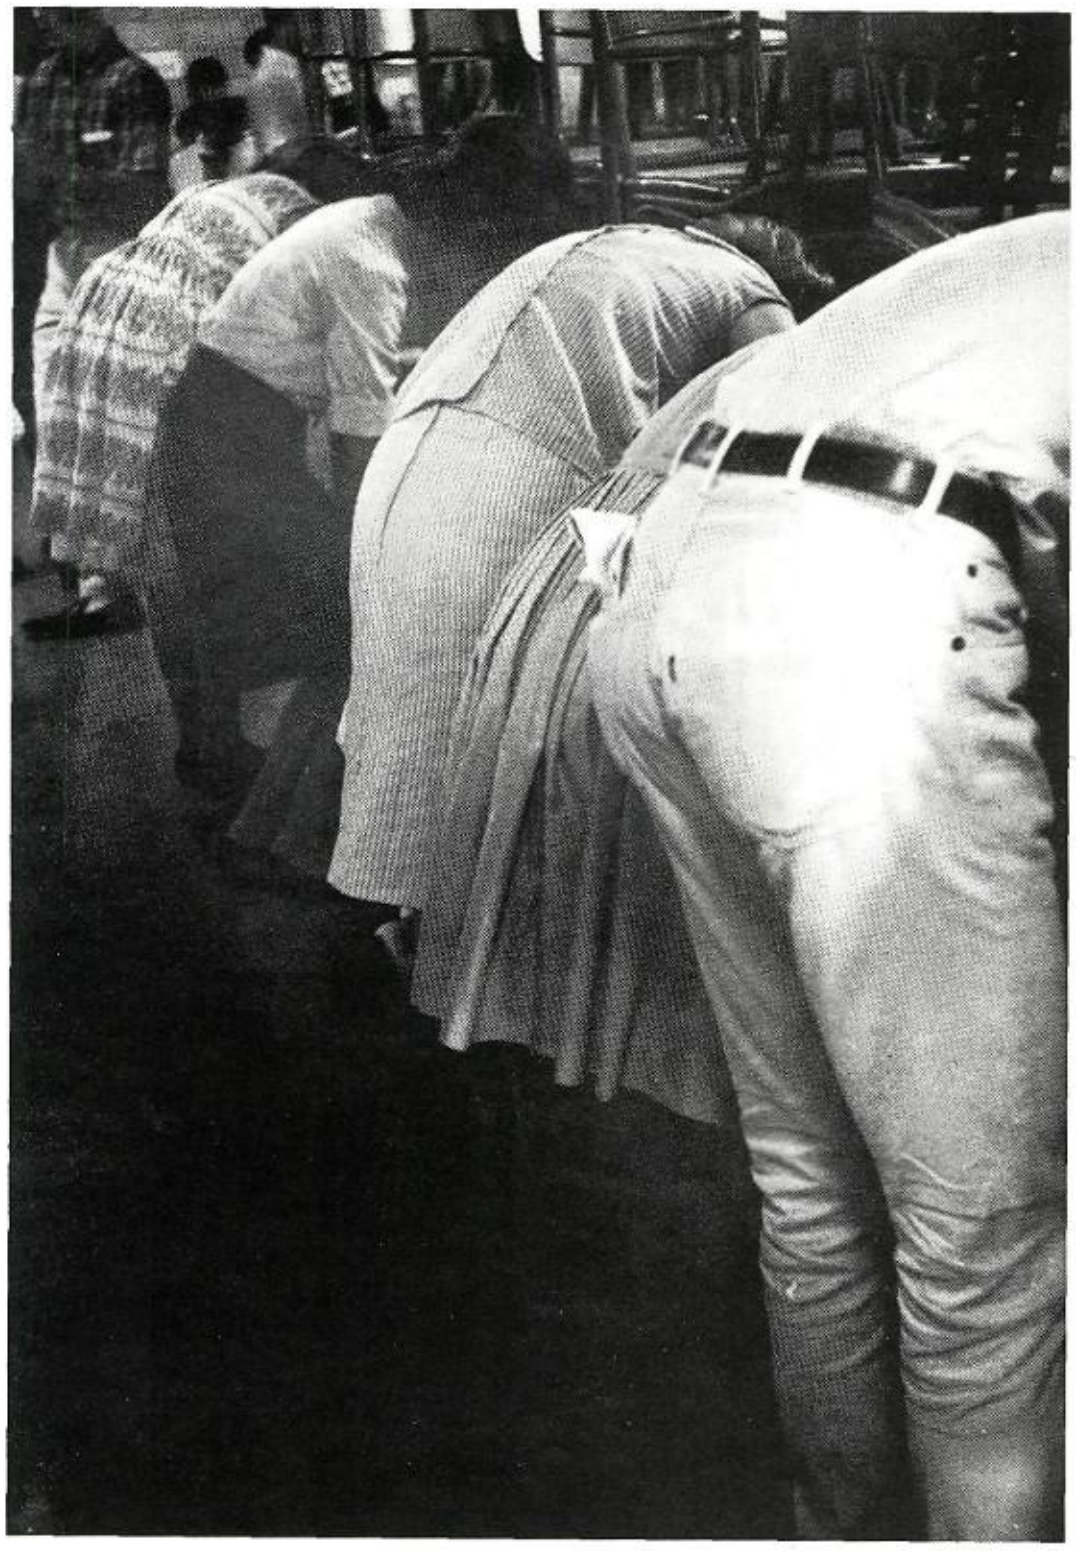
"Okay, Frank, but I don't think Miss Becker is gonna like it," advises Mr. Morrow, as he and Mr. Kudlaty plan their strategy for the coming year.

a Tide . . .

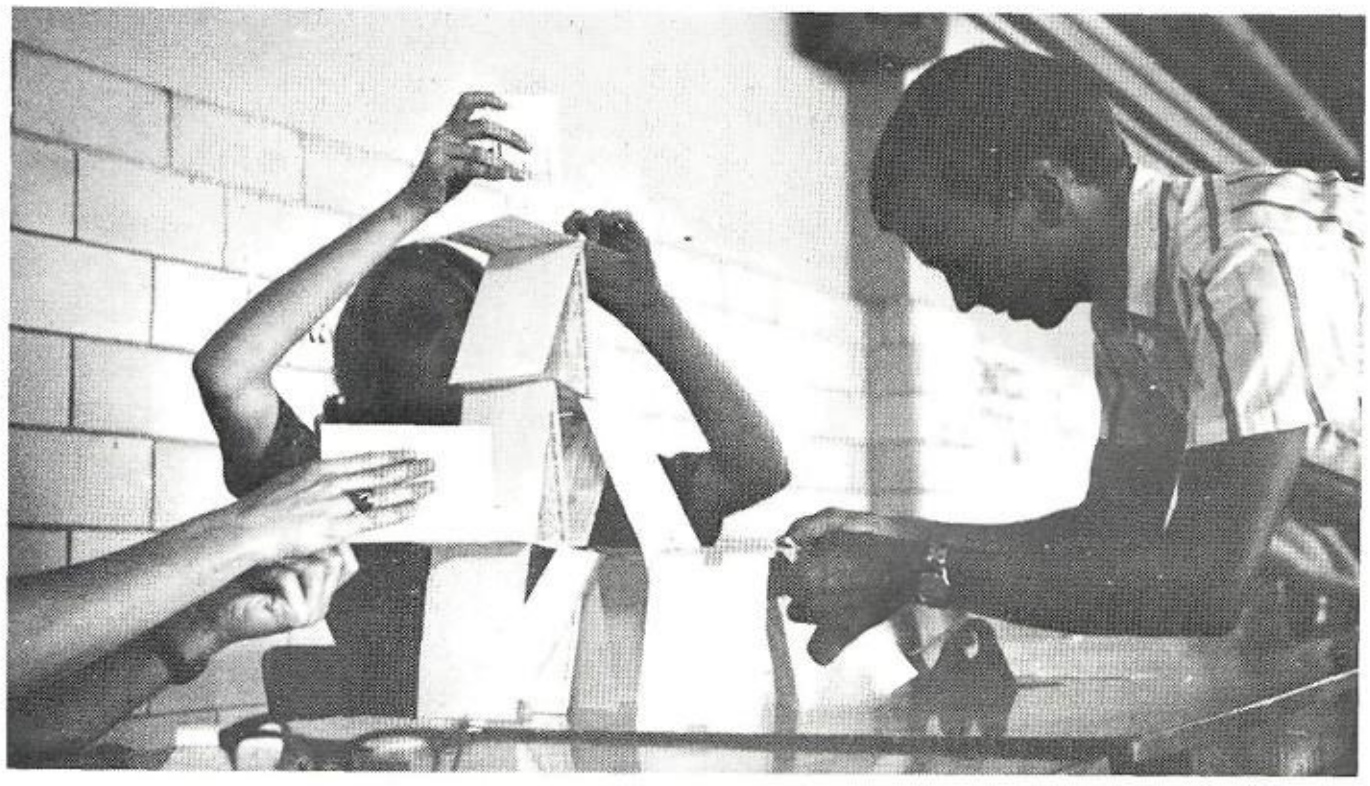
. . . in the affairs of students which, taken at registration, leads on to education.

Plunging into the initial current of student activities this year were 1412 sleepy, but excited, Heightsters. After a conditioning steam bath in the auditorium, contestants in the meet crept to their homerooms, drew numbers, and prepared for the start. Over the public address system came the long awaited words: "On your mark, get set, GO!" Swimming through a sea of sweat at speeds unfathomed by any man, they reached the finish line in less than 5 seconds. (It's uncanny how the cheerleaders and football boys always come out ahead of the rest!) Then came the long, hour-and-a-half rubdown (in the stairway to the cafeteria) supervised by Coach Ludiker and Mr. Morrow.

Registration followed.

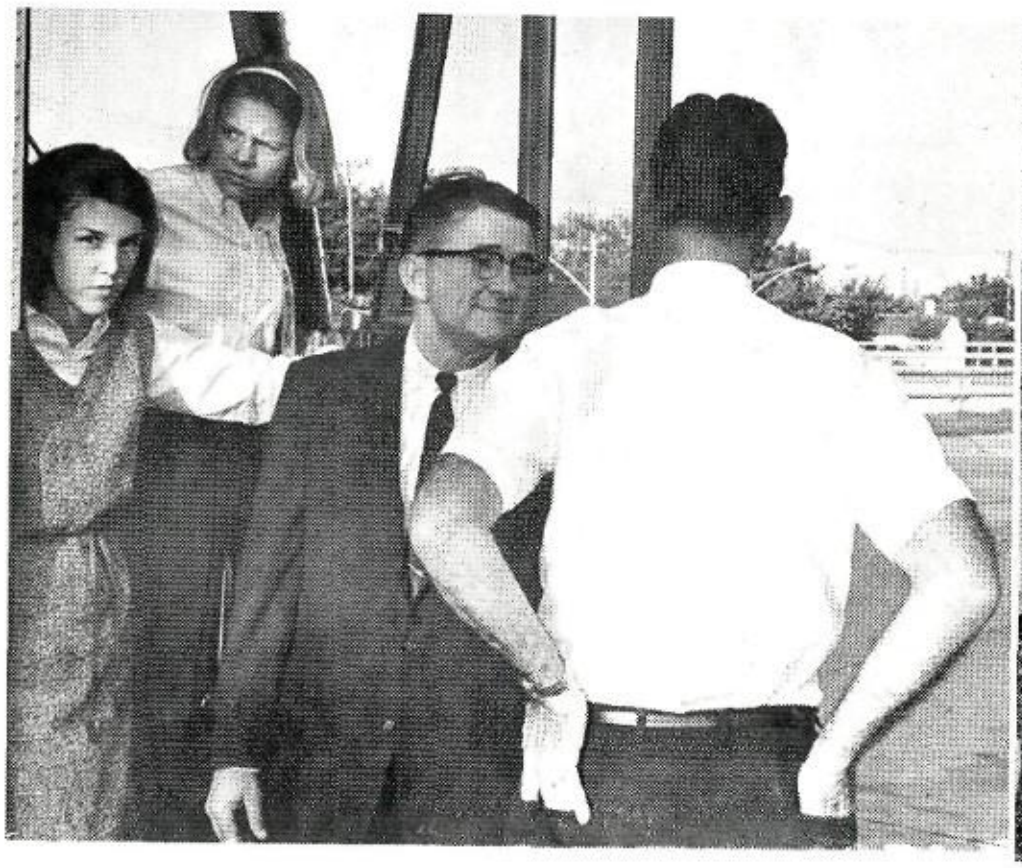


"Bottoms up!"—Anonymous

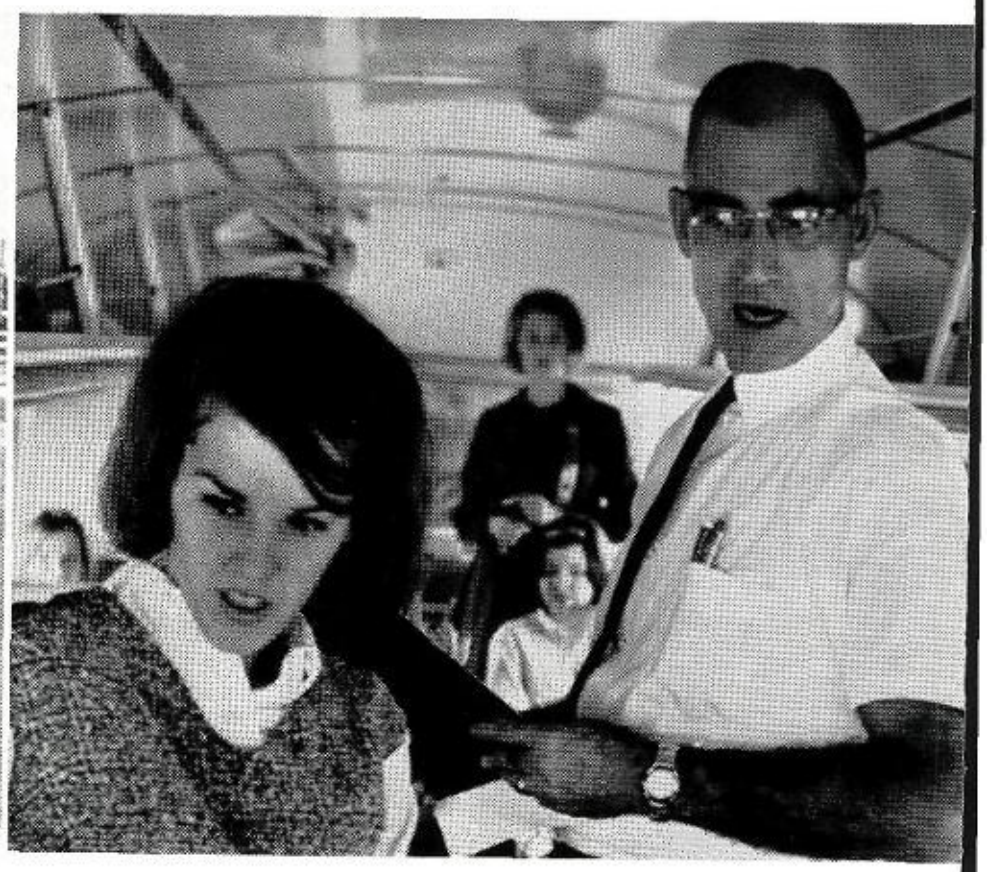


"Hold it! It's putting too much additional stress upon the foundation," warns Sammy Austin, as he and fellow students pass away the leisure hours of registration.

Waco-Bound Cowtowners

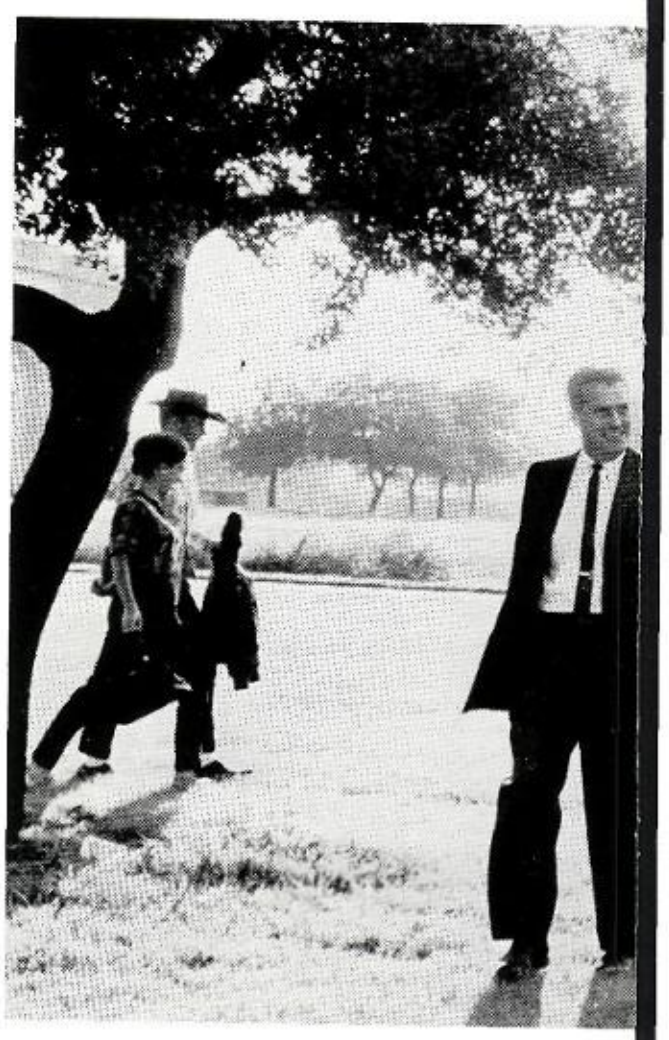


"This trip would be a lot more fun without sponsors," plōts Ellen Horn.



"Mr. Miller, look! We've got a flat tire! You had better go help Mr. Stevens."

"He won't take my bent penny," sighs Joan Gale.



Go Greyhound to Showdown

"You should have seen the looks on their faces when I closed the door and left them both behind," cackles Ellen to Anita Harper and Tamara Smith.

Representing Cowtown with western togs of cowboy hats and boots were the Heights eleven and fellow enthusiasts who traveled to Waco for the school sponsored bus trip. Although the Jackets were defeated 18-7 by the Rams, their spirit was not subdued. The rowdy singing, yelling, and guitar playing that was present en route also prevailed during the return trip.

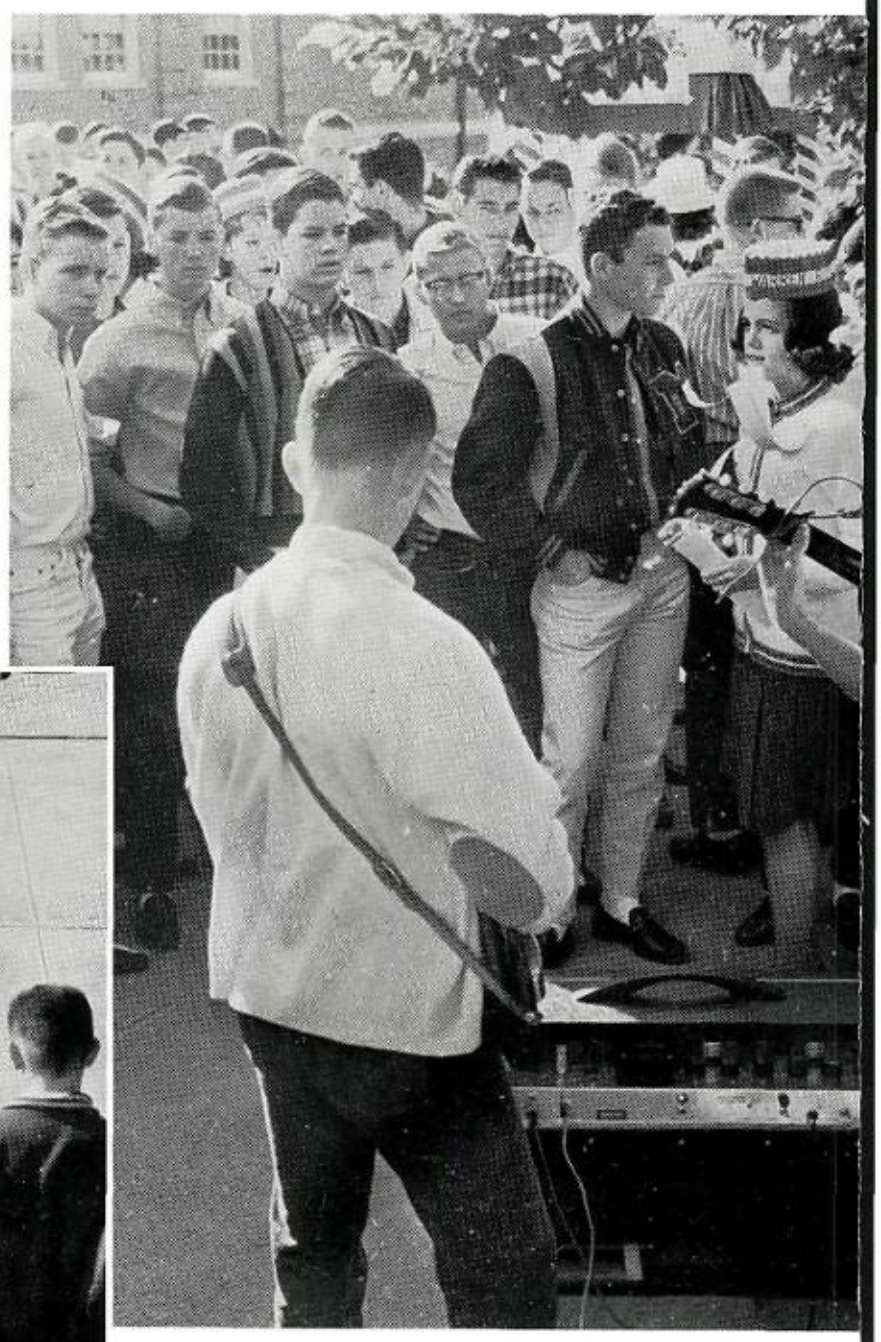
"Howdy, folks!" wave, scream, shout, shreik, and holler enthusiastic supporters.

"I knew I could count on you to bring the goodies," chortles Mr. Morrow to bus sponsors Mr. and Mrs. Kudlaty.

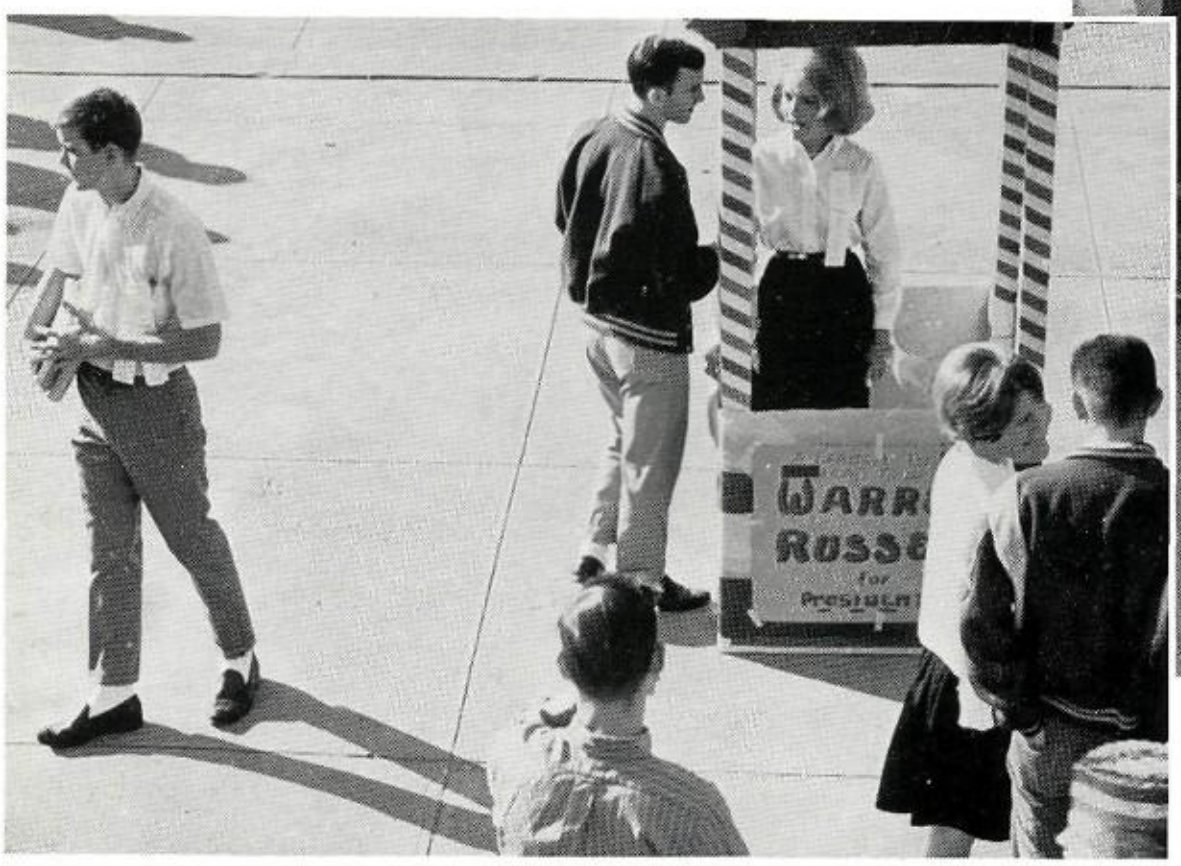
Speeches, Slogans Sway Students

"Just a half inch down," suggests Warren Russell to supporter Bruce Patrick. "You know I can't be accused of crooked campaigning."

Parades and the distribution of ribbons, hammers, and black eyes to those who would rather fight than switch were a few of the final campaign efforts that highlighted the Student Council elections. After much intense campaigning throughout election week, speeches given by the nine prospective candidates climaxed the activities. Emerging as president was Warren Russell, while other officers elected were Vice-President Judy Maske, Secretary Caro Thompson, and Treasurer Julie Montgomery.



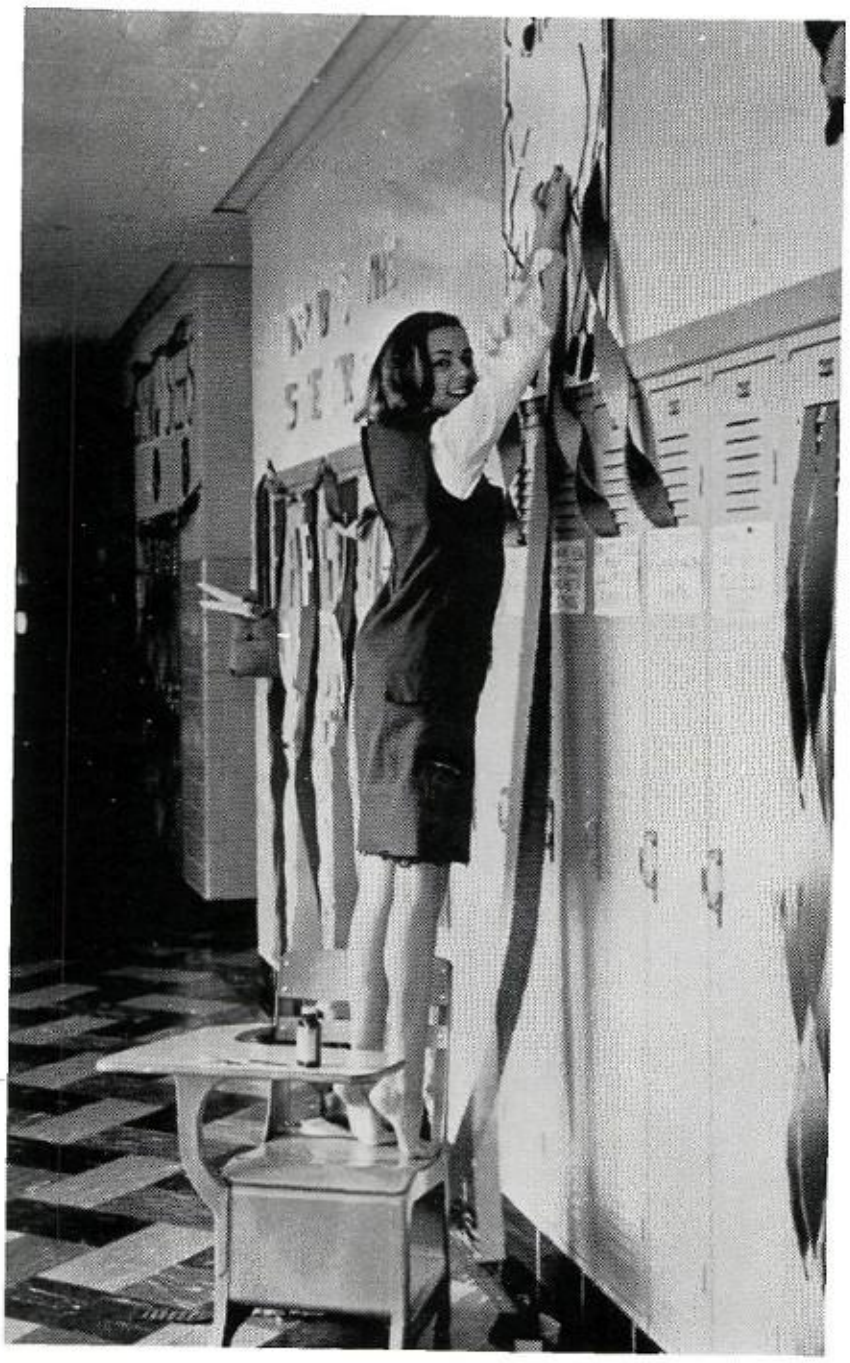
"Can Your Monkey Do the Dog?" strums the vote getting combo. "Listen," sighs Melinda Broyles to Doyle Walter, "they're playing our song."



"No . . . one buck or no pucker," protests Jan Weaver to eager Eddie Baggett.

"I put this one in." "This one's mine." "I did this one." Proudly displaying the finished product of many hours of work are Sharon McClesky, Leslie Smith, Janie McDaniel, John McDuff, Al Lilly, and Jug Lowder.

Steers Steaked at Jacket Bar-B-Q

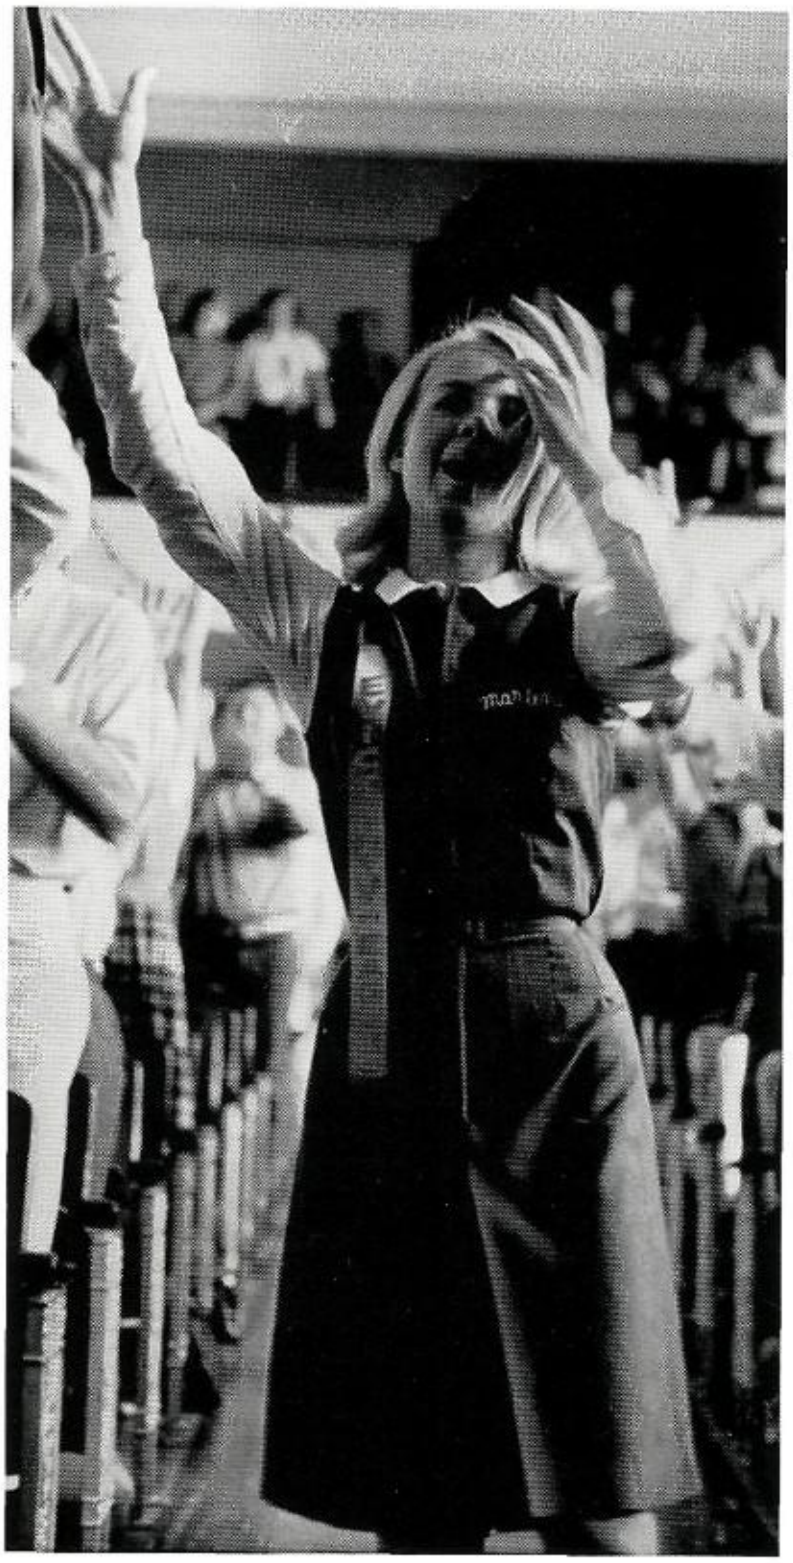


Pirouetting on the world's smallest stage, Toni Duban performs the Dance of the Crepe as she festoons the halls for Homecoming activities.

Slated against the North Side Steers, the Jacket eleven returned to the Hill with the first Homecoming victory in 13 years. Specimens ranging from ferocious bulls to a mooing bossy heralded the annual festival for returning exes. The winning homeroom display featured a miniature factory with cans of steer glue on the production line. This heartfelt sentiment turned the trick, and the mighty Steers became "the herd shot round the world" by an 8 point margin.

Byron Searcy, captain of the last Heights team to win the Homecoming game, urges the '65 players to give their best the entire game.

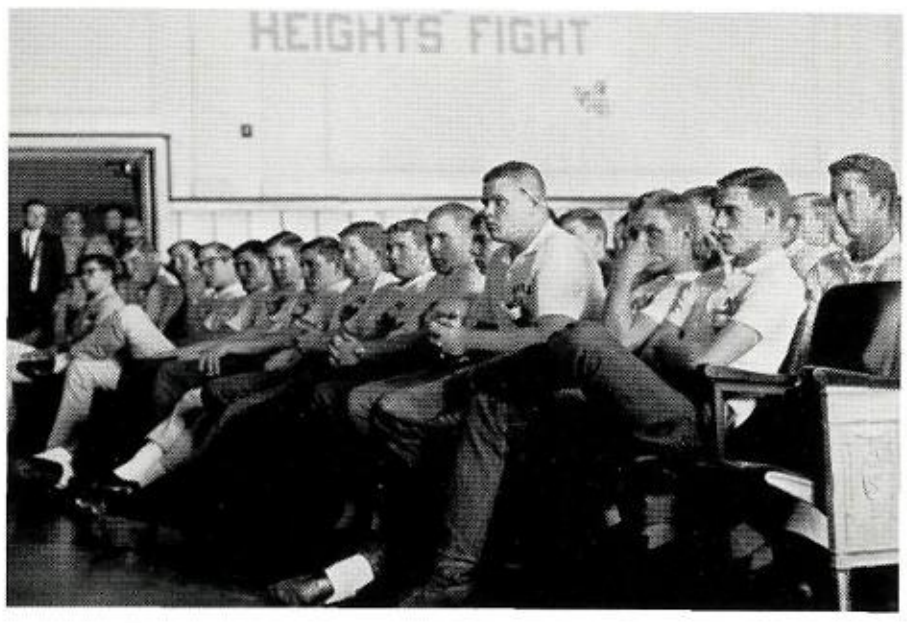
Jackets . . . Sick 'em



"Yes, blondes really do have more fun," exclaims alternate cheerleader Marlena Reiners at an afternoon pep rally.

Students who wished to vent their frustrations, or more appropriately to support their football team, found ample opportunity at the numerous pep rallies held before school as well as during assembly periods. For those whose needs demanded physical outlet, the band provided the Heights Boogie and cheerleaders presented new yells and skits with "Wild Bill Willet" demonstrating his famous side kick. Others were inspired by the encouraging pep-talks of Mrs. Hanley, Mrs. Eggleston, Mrs. Marsh, Mrs. Halbert and Miss Hale and by the haunting melody of the Alma Mater. All students united with the cheerleaders and faculty to make the most spirited 12th man on the team ever.

"Hear that boys? That's the sound of the fastest drum in the West!" laughs cheerleader Jean Hubbard.



"Man! This is worse than a lecture on the birds and the bees!" moans Grady Hentz to fellow team mates Frank Sullivan and Larry Burns.

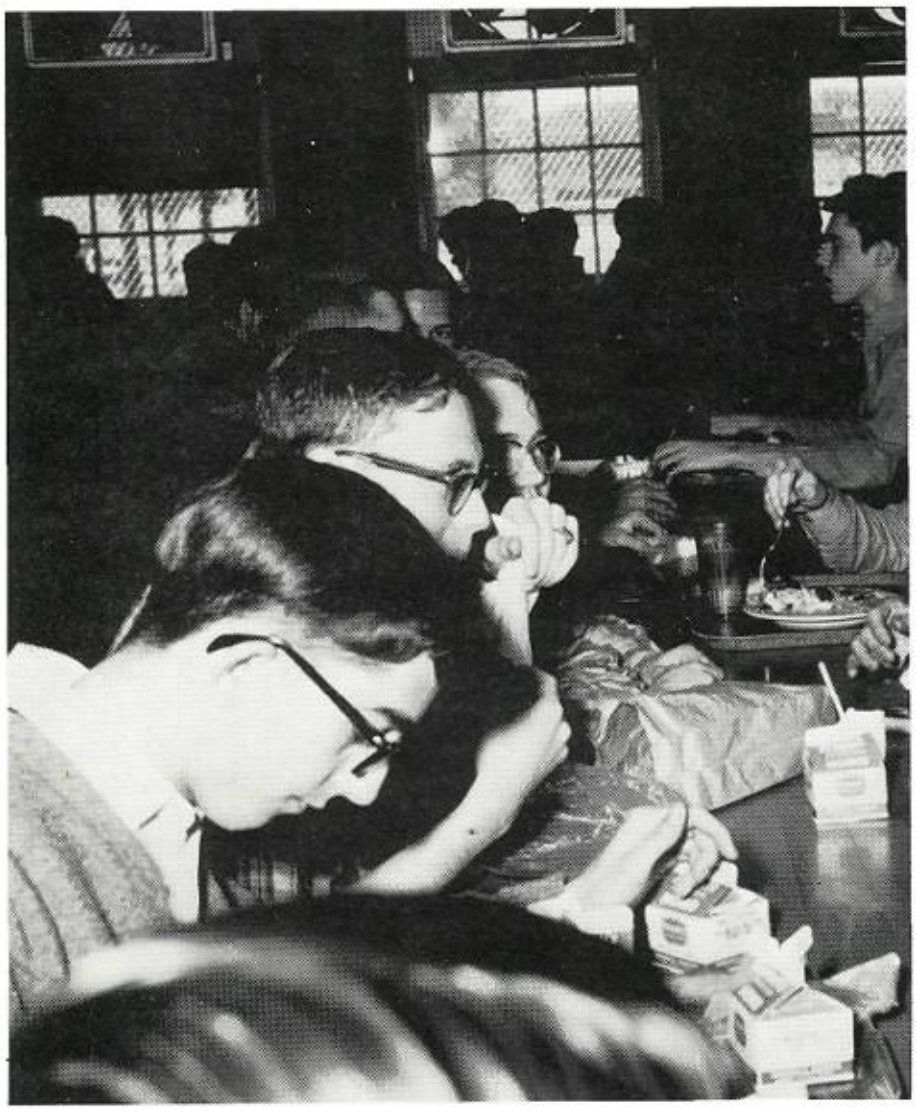
"May I please be excused?"

Miss Hale, cheerleader sponsor, seeks to inspire Jackets on to victory.

"Do I hear a final bid on this lovely little maiden?" inquires James Willet.

It's a bird! It's a plane! It's . . . "Super-York!"

Council Conquers Cafe Chaos



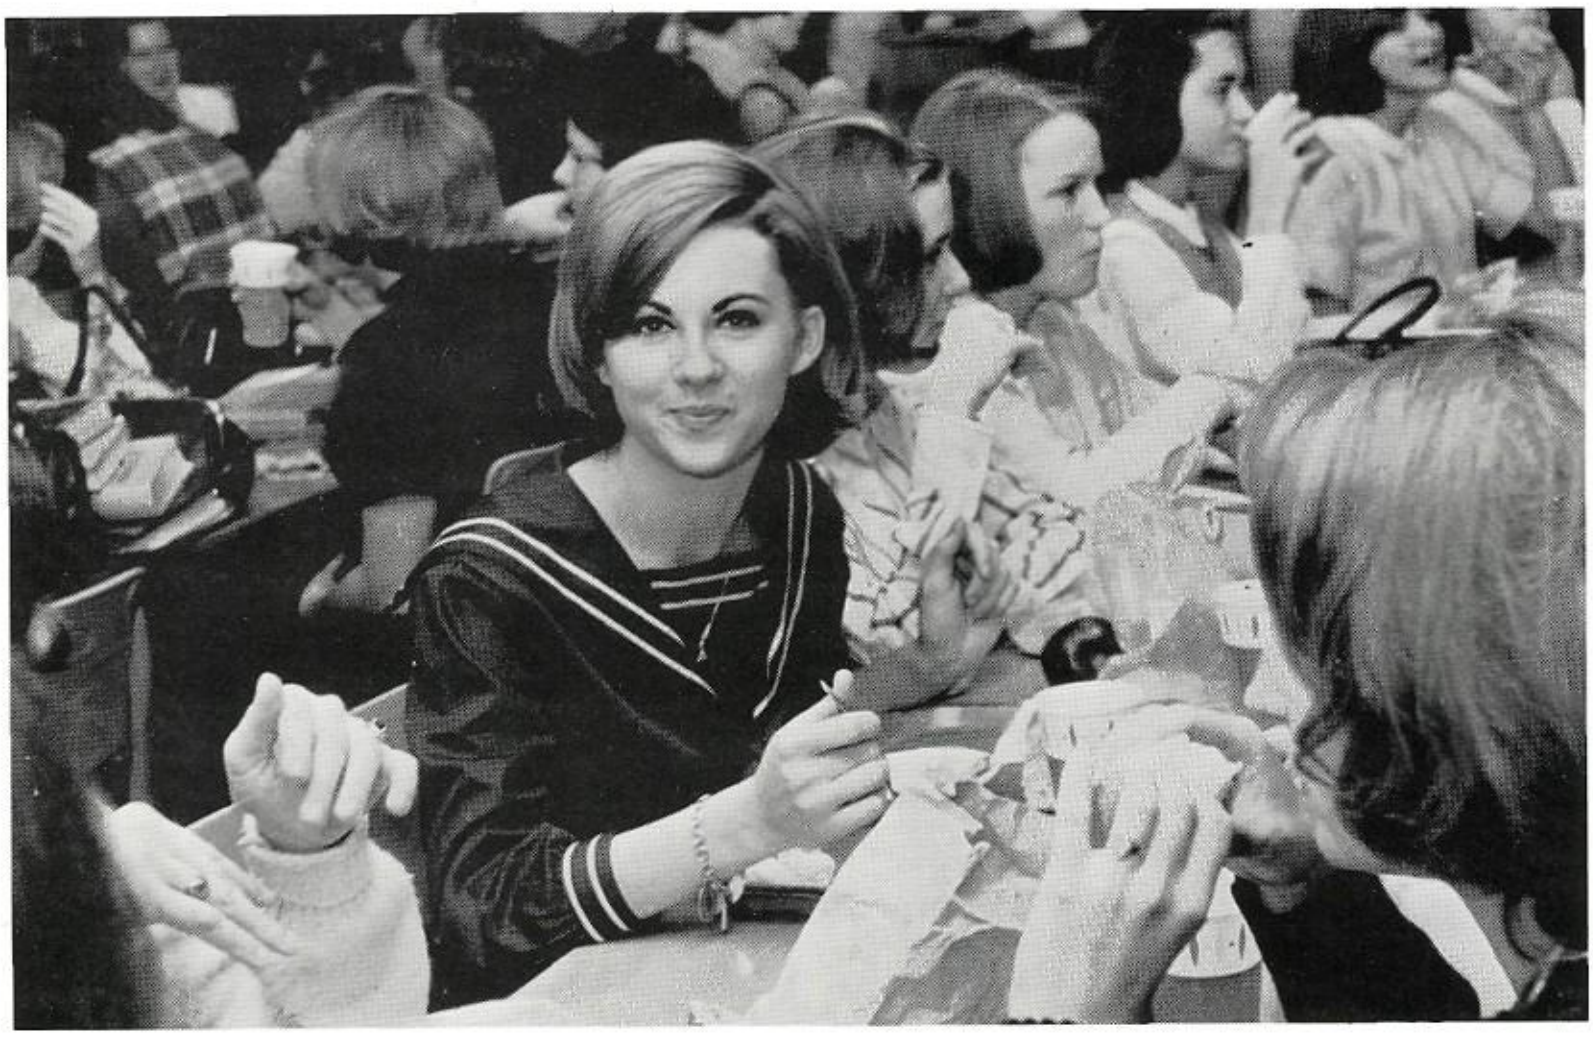
"Ah, yes!" I can always count on this table to have an ample supply of bacterii," observes Robert Brock.

While President Lyndon B. Johnson promoted his War on Poverty, Student Council President Warren C. Russell was making tentative plans for a War on Trash.

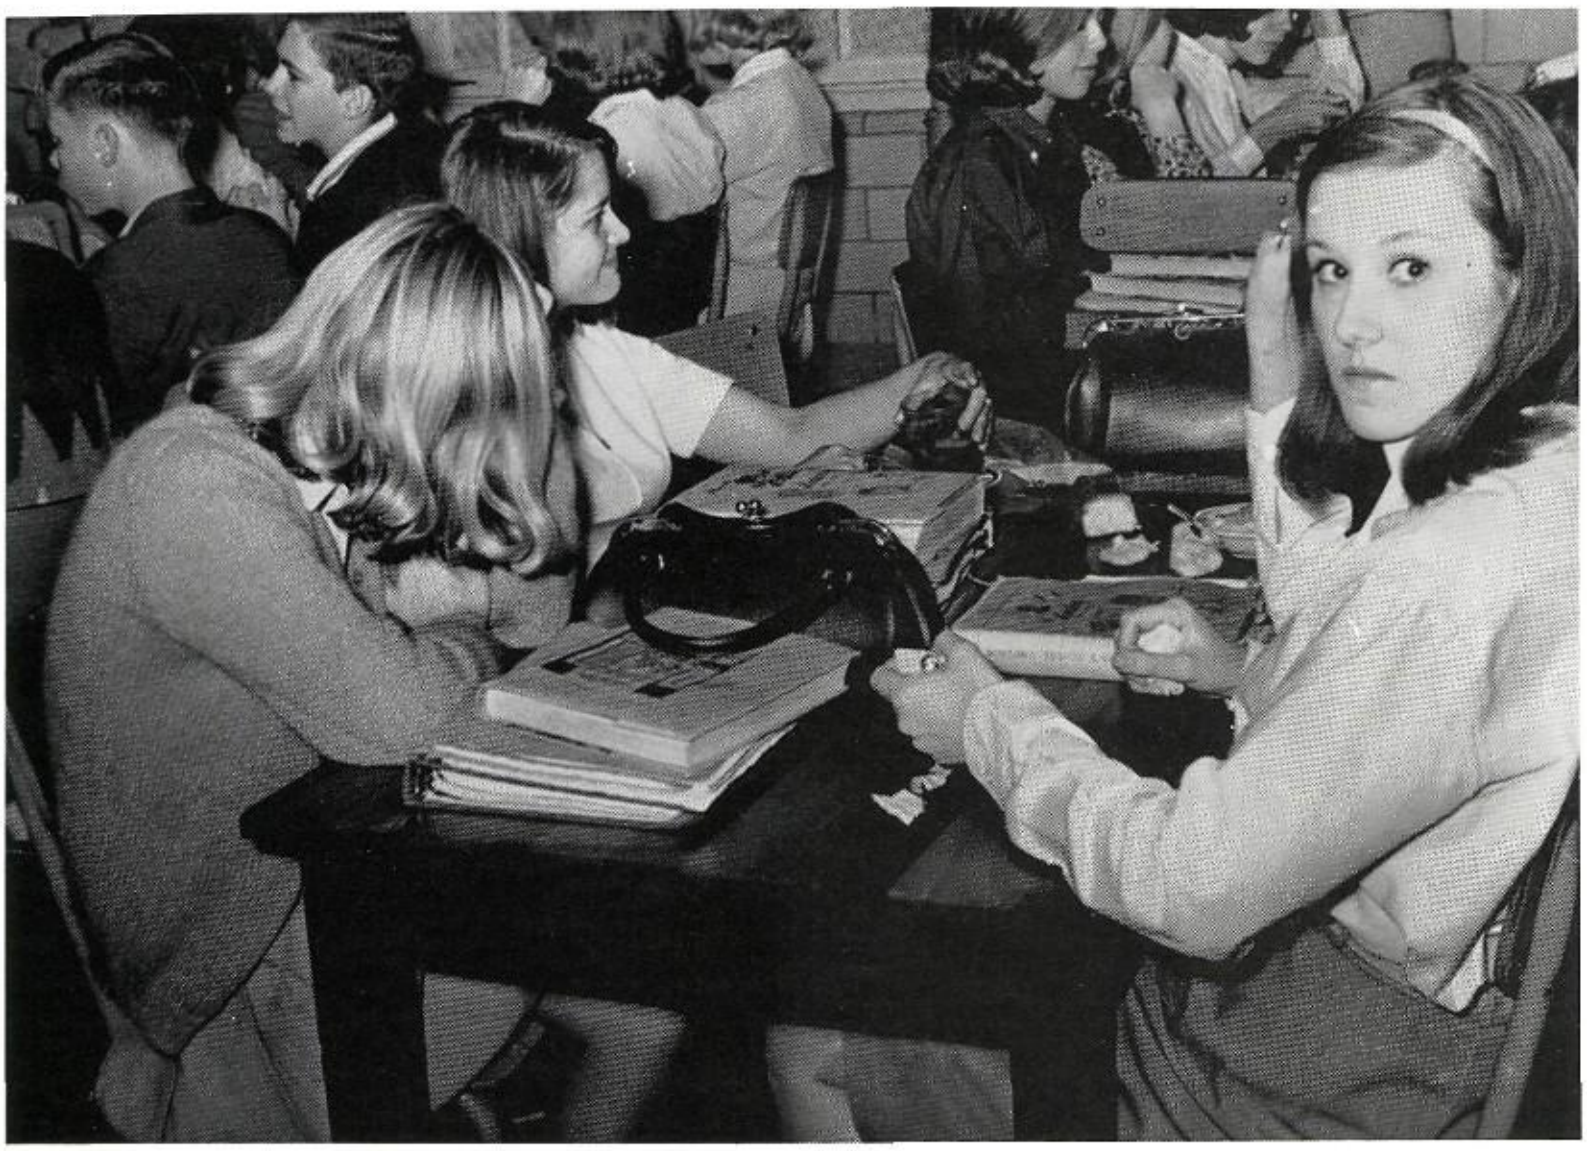
Taking the initiative, the Council declared the cafeteria a major disaster area and enacted a bill that would provide for immediate relief. Each morning the President's State of the Cafe Message was broadcast to the student body. Protest demonstrations arising at the scene of the conflict were quickly put down by the Cafe Patrol.

With the introduction of what some hail as the greatest innovation in the history of Heights —trash cans— the general welfare was restored, and domestic tranquility prevailed. In short, the campaign proved to be the greatest thing since knives and forks.

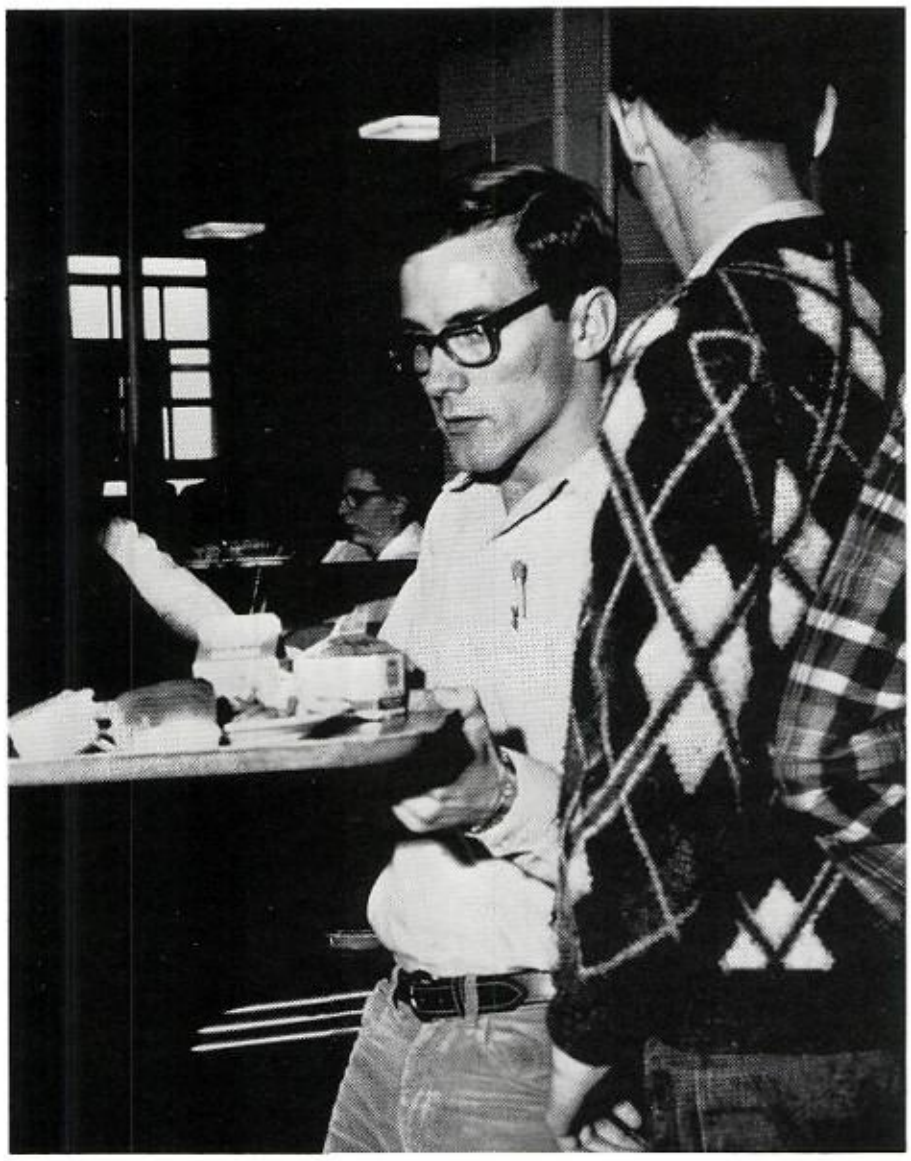
"I think I'm 'gonna' be sick!" warns Anne Guerrant.



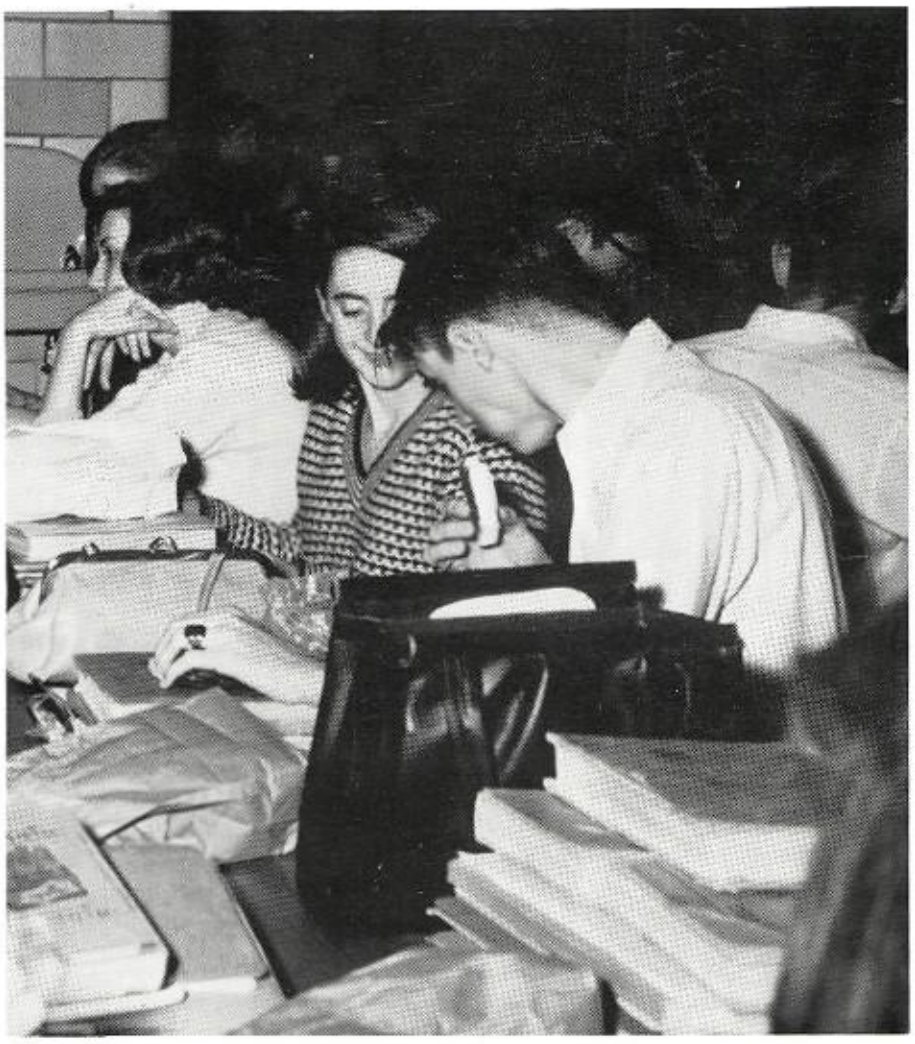
"It's pwemium bwewed fwom a hundwed pwecent natuwal ingwedients," listhps Karen King.



"Don't ask me! I just watched it devour three pickle and mustard sandwiches in fifteen minutes!" puzzles Tammy Howard as Kay Redus looks away in disgust.



"I knew their steaks were rare, but this one just walked away?" puzzles Charlie Adams.



"Are you enjoying your ice-cream sandwich, Tim?" inquires a suspicious Martha Miles of Tim Shropshire.

Ranch Day Dudes

Some walked, some crawled, and some rode their horses to Ranch Day '65. Some waddled beneath floor length sombreros as others formed a line outside Marshall Morrow's office to check in their "Zip 45's." Such was the beginning of another episode in the history of Heights.

As sponsors of the day the student council planned decorations, before-school entertainment, and the Ranch Day Program. There were hay laid halls, cactus covered walls, western combos, and "Dirty Work at the Crossroads." The latter was a special Comedy presentation by the Footlight Players. Ranch Queen and Foreman Arden Westbrook and Hugh Massey provided a stirring intermezzo followed by "Long Tall Texan," a western burlesque executed by the senior girls as a conclusion.

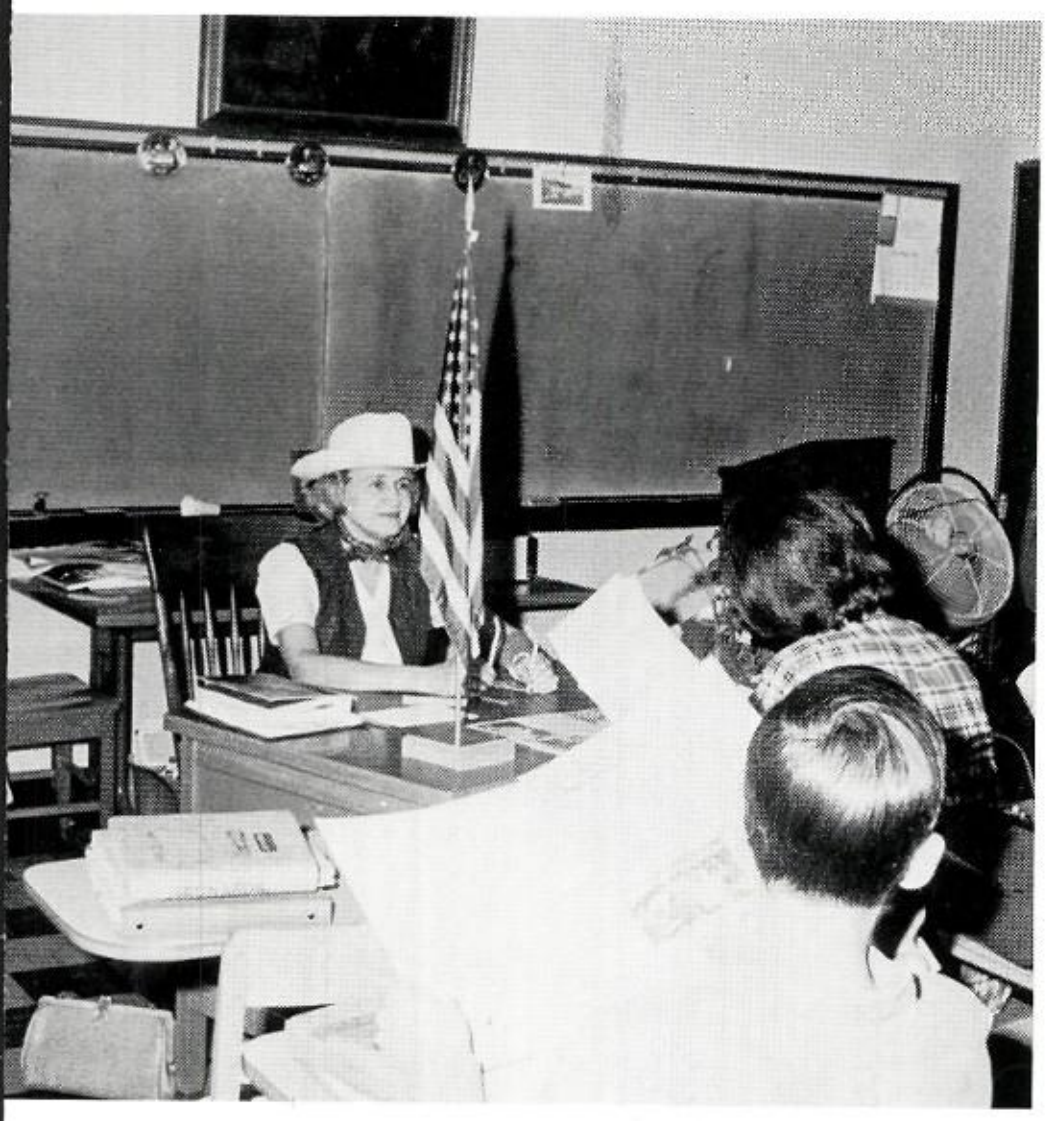
"Ma never told me what to do in cases like this," moans Steve Lord helplessly supporting Cherie Durham. "Man, just play it by ear," advises Robert Drew, nonchalantly rolling a cigar.

"Let's combine brands, honey, and someday we'll have a little ranch of our own," snows Foreman Hugh Massey to Queen Arden Westbrook.

"Joan's always been a sucker for high pressure hat salesmen," observes Mary Andrews of "Long Tall Texan" Moore.

Don Dandy Duds

"Paleface speak with forked tongue! No firewater in cafeteria," protest disappointed Indians Dave Shambaugh, Daryl Duer, kidnapping hostage.



"And then Bat Masterson said to me, 'Belle, Honey . . .' "

"Dear Señorita Haden, I think the time has come for you to take a long vacation. Regretfully, Señor Sharp."

As representative of the Yellow Jacket Staff, Linda Hutchins presents trophy to Most Handsome winner Gary Angle as Most Beautiful winner, Alicia Wagner, looks on.

Lights! Camera! Action!

Contenders for the 1965 Jacket Journal-Yellow Jacket "Mostest Contest" astounded the audience with their diversified talents. The smooth production of the acts, from vocal to magic, seemed to move hand in hand with the Most Handsome and Beautiful finalists. A hush fell over the audience, their anticipation heightened by the prolonged deliberation of the judges. Thunderous applause exploded as the Most Talented, Marlena Reiners and John McCluney, and Most Beautiful and Handsome, Alicia Wagner and Gary Angle were announcd.

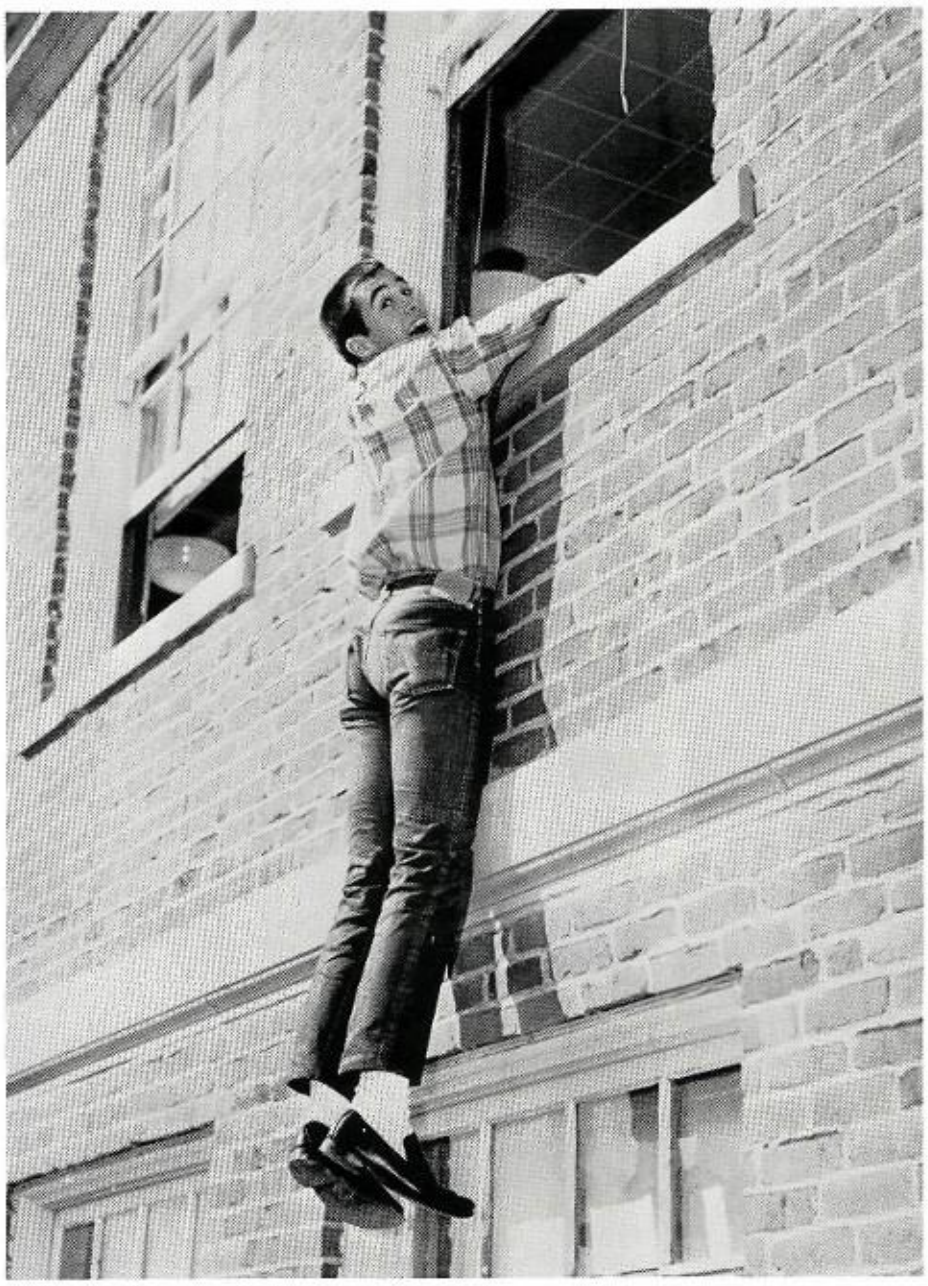
"Psst! Chet, wake up!" hisses Linda Hutchins to her napping colleague Chet Turnock as they wait to present winners with their trophies.

"As some old gypsy once told me; 'A bird in a hat is worth a fan in the hand,'" philosophies George Ferrier.

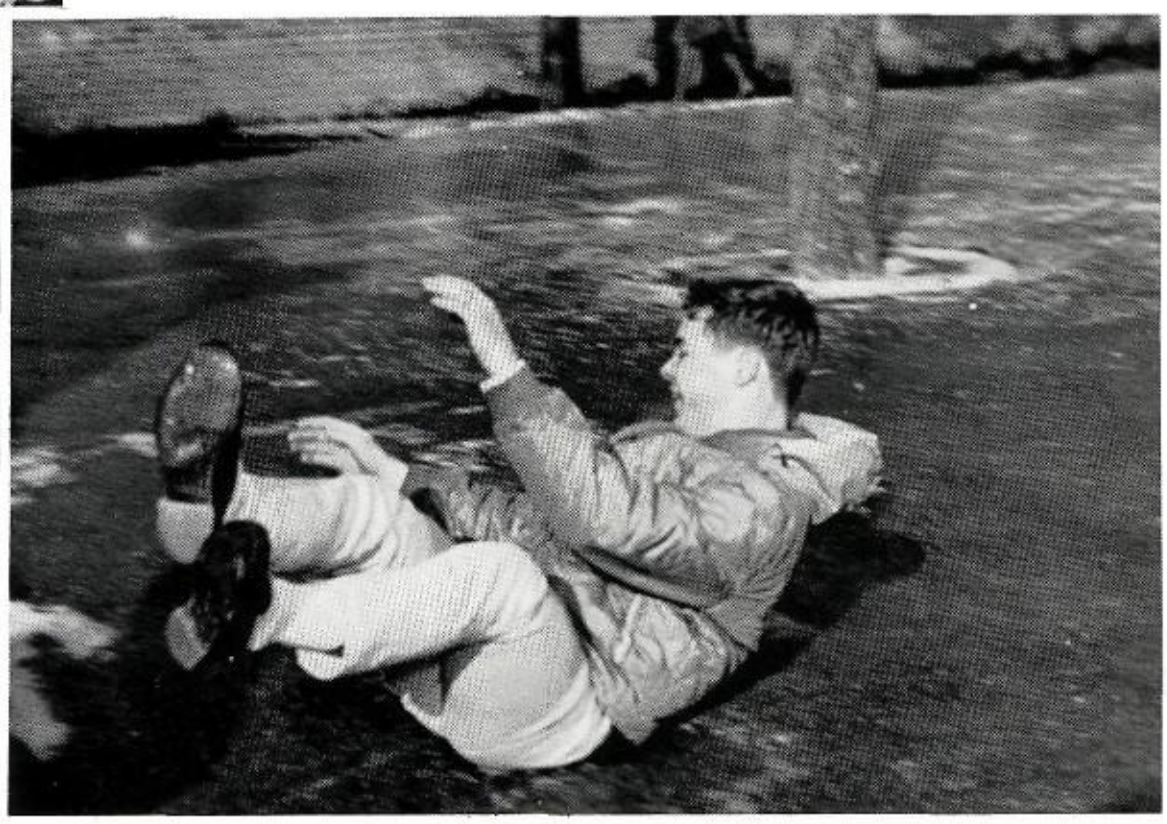
Dramalets Spark Daily Grind

Captured on this page is the daily drama which serves as a departure from the routine of school life. Tromping the path to class, braving the lunchroom crowds and roaming deserted halls after the final bell a hundred people in a hundred places set the stage for those unforgettable moments of stark melodrama. Though hardly of epic proportion, these tiny incidents provide temporary sparkle best described as inspiration for living on. Formal occasions build the lasting recollections one turns to again and again, but split second hilarity encountered in the daily grind shapes every soul's private collection of treasured memories.

"According to my scientific calculations you will marry a tall dark Tibetan prince, have twelve children, and live to be 103 years old," predicts Herff-Jones representative.

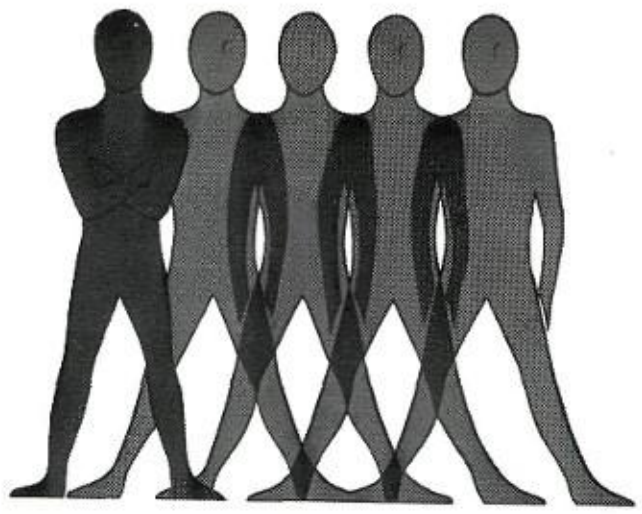


"Help! When Miss Garrett said somebody was going out the window, I didn't know she meant me," shrieks Brooks Harrington helplessly.



"Mother told me not to get my feet wet," explains Billy Gunn, solving his problem logically.

COURAGE



The intent and not the deed is in our power; and, therefore, who dares greatly does greatly.

BROWNE

RESPONSIBILITY

Responsibility gravitates toward him who gets ready for it, and power flows to him and through him who can use it.

GEORGE WALTER

Advisory Council Unifies Efforts

Composed of one representative from each of the Heights-sponsored clubs, the Advisory Council cooperates in school-wide projects by coordinating the efforts of the various organizations. The twelve members of the council, provided for in the constitution of the Student Council, attend meetings as non-voting delegates.

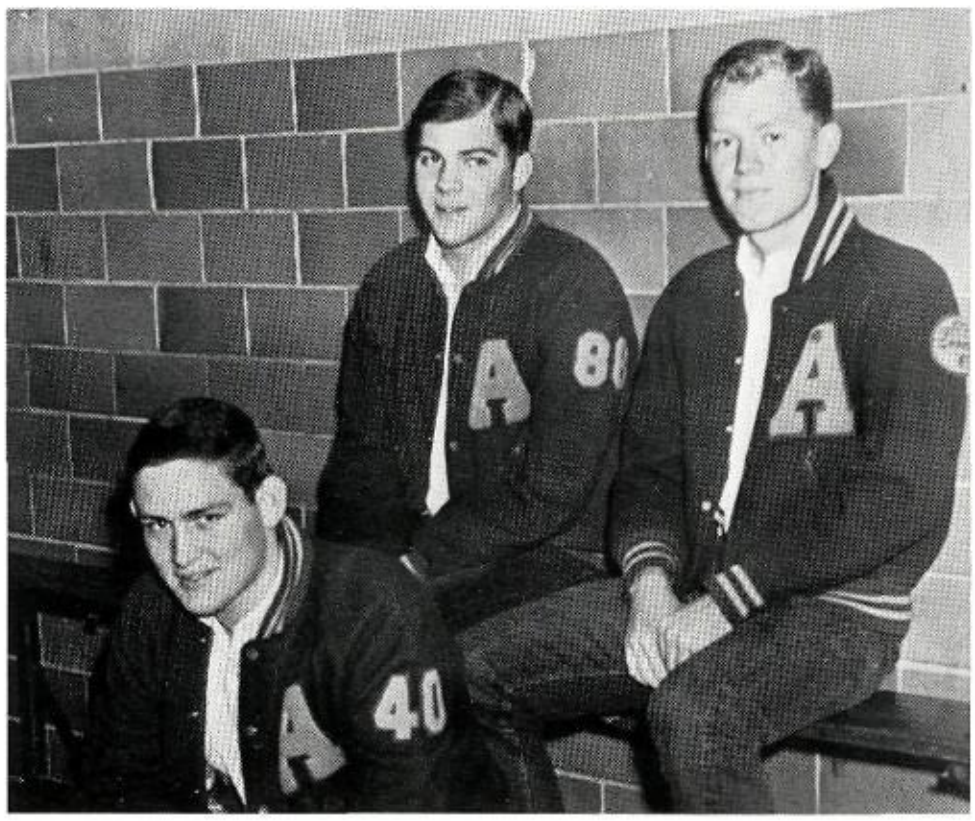
President Warren Russell inaugurates the lunchroom cleanliness program by putting the new trash cans to good use.

'A' Club Links Phases of Sports

Open to all lettermen, "A" Club attempts to cultivate good will between the various sports organizations and the student body and faculty. One of their chief good will projects is the faculty tea held at Christmas. The club also takes the responsibility of sending flowers whenever there is a death at Arlington Heights.



"A" Club officers this year are Tommy Croft, president; Gene Mahurin, treasurer; and Jimmy Wehman, vice-president.

Allied Youth Promotes Teen Morality

Delegates to the national convention held for the first year in Washington, D.C. are Wayne Hueppelsheuser, Al Lilly, Linda Barnes John Lanford, and sponsor Mrs. Martha Austin.

Trips, beauty contests, programs—all these are offered members of Allied Youth, a national organization combating teenage drinking. After the fall membership drive, Arlington Heights retained its title of largest AY chapter in the nation. Assemblies included a film on smoking and an inspirational address by Dr. Chester Sword, noted youth group lecturer, while social highlights were the annual talent show and Beauty Contest.

"Never have so few done so much for the soft drink industry," boasts Mr. Jerry Hamrick. Fellow sponsors Mr. James York, Mrs. Mary Marsh, and Mrs. Frances Caveness listen with mixed reactions.

"Mary, doesn't it depress you to see people working so hard?" jokes Judy Pat Routh, historian, to Mary Andrews, vice-president, as fellow executive committee members Sally Potter, secretary, Sherry Hardin, vice-president, Al Lilly, president, Wayne Hueppelsheuser, and Tim Carpenter, (back row); Linda Braly, vice-president, and Barbara Hairston, vice-president, plan future projects and meetings.

Exhibiting library skills are Book Jacket officers Martha May Morris, president; Sue Ann Allen, vice-president; Mary Lee Morris, secretary; and Lorinda Webb, district secretary.

Book Jackets Initiate New System

Student library assistants, composing the Book Jacket Club, this year purchased an electric charging system from fines collected the preceding year to speed the check-out process and added many new volumes to the shelves. To enlarge the club's treasury, bookmarks were designed and sold. Delegates to the annual convention in El Paso cheered the election of Nancy Rux to the position of State Historian of the Teenage Library Association. Lorinda Webb served as District VII secretary.

"And this little book will tell you the many facets of the safety pin," explains Mrs. Christine Sherman as fellow Book Jacket sponsors Mrs. Georgia Bennison and Mrs. Mary Hood delve into the mysteries of Sanskrit in another volume.

Pam Joyce, library assistant, and Roni Branson thumb through old issues of magazines in search of new, fresh ideas.

Student musicians enrich their music experience through the marching and lab bands. The Castleberry Band Festival, University Interscholastic League Marching Contest, and Arlington Heights Music Festival challenged members' best efforts. Football game, Stock Show parade, and junior high concert appearances completed the activity schedule. Formed to experiment with progressive jazz rendition, the smaller lab band won the Showmanship Trophy at the Brownwood Stage Band Contest, while individual members Richard Powell and Bobby Blood were named All-Star Musicians. Led by senior Jim Lieth, the group supports itself by professional appearances at dances.

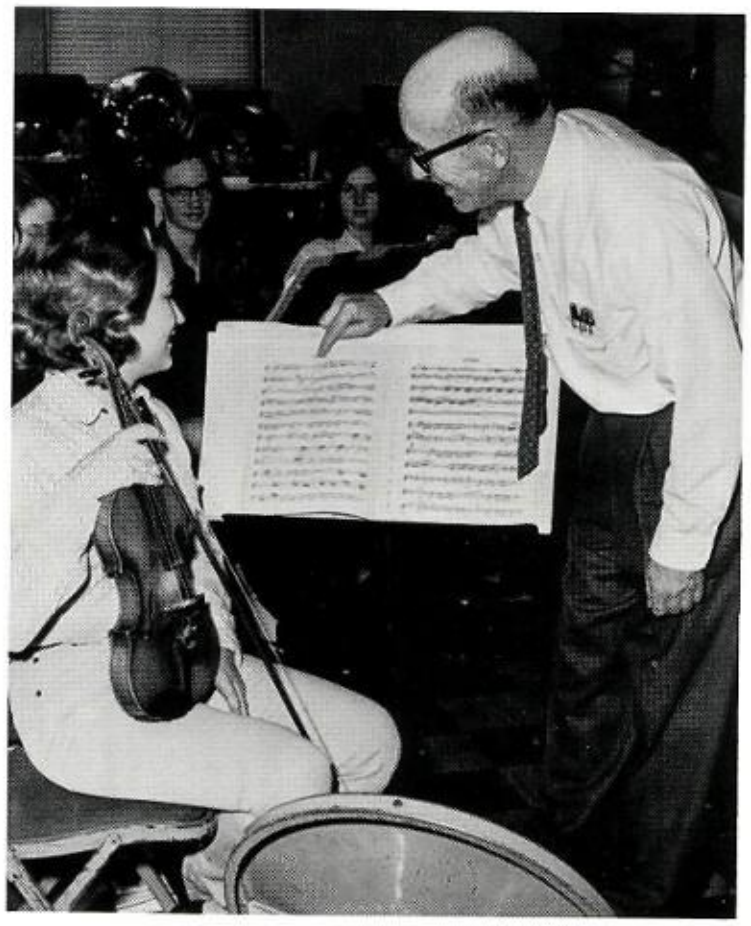
Musical Groups Set Cultural Goals

To increase student participation and enjoyment of school programs, three separate classes were combined to form the 141 member chorus which, led by Mrs. Mary White, performs at Thanksgiving, Open House, Christmas and Easter programs. Consisting of forty students, another group sings for junior high schools and special occasions.

Chosen the sole orchestra to be observed in the Texas Music Educators Association Convention clinic, the group, directed by George H. Carson, also plays at Open House, the Christmas Program, and junior high schools.

DOUBLE SEXTET: Ellen Strictland, Barbara Singleton, Kathy Reed, Martha Morris, Sue Pettit, Carol Biser, Julia Koerner, Elda Bishop, Kathy Glatzel, Rachel Morris, Pam Aurin, Susan Bennett, Marilyn Miller.

"You need to improve your musical shorthand," suggests Mr. Carson to Joan Anderson.



Delegates Ronald Taylor, Norma Lilly, and Maria Sabido gain preview of DECA state conference discussing program with Sponsor Mrs. June Lay.

DE Molds Executives

To train future business leaders in marketing techniques, the distributive education classes give the student experience in the working world while he continues his education. Under the program a trainee leaves school at noon and goes on the job at a local business establishment, earning three credits a year toward graduation, which he combines with regular school subject credits. The group meets to hear lectures from professional and civic groups, and elects a delegation to the state Distributive Education Clubs of America convention held annually.

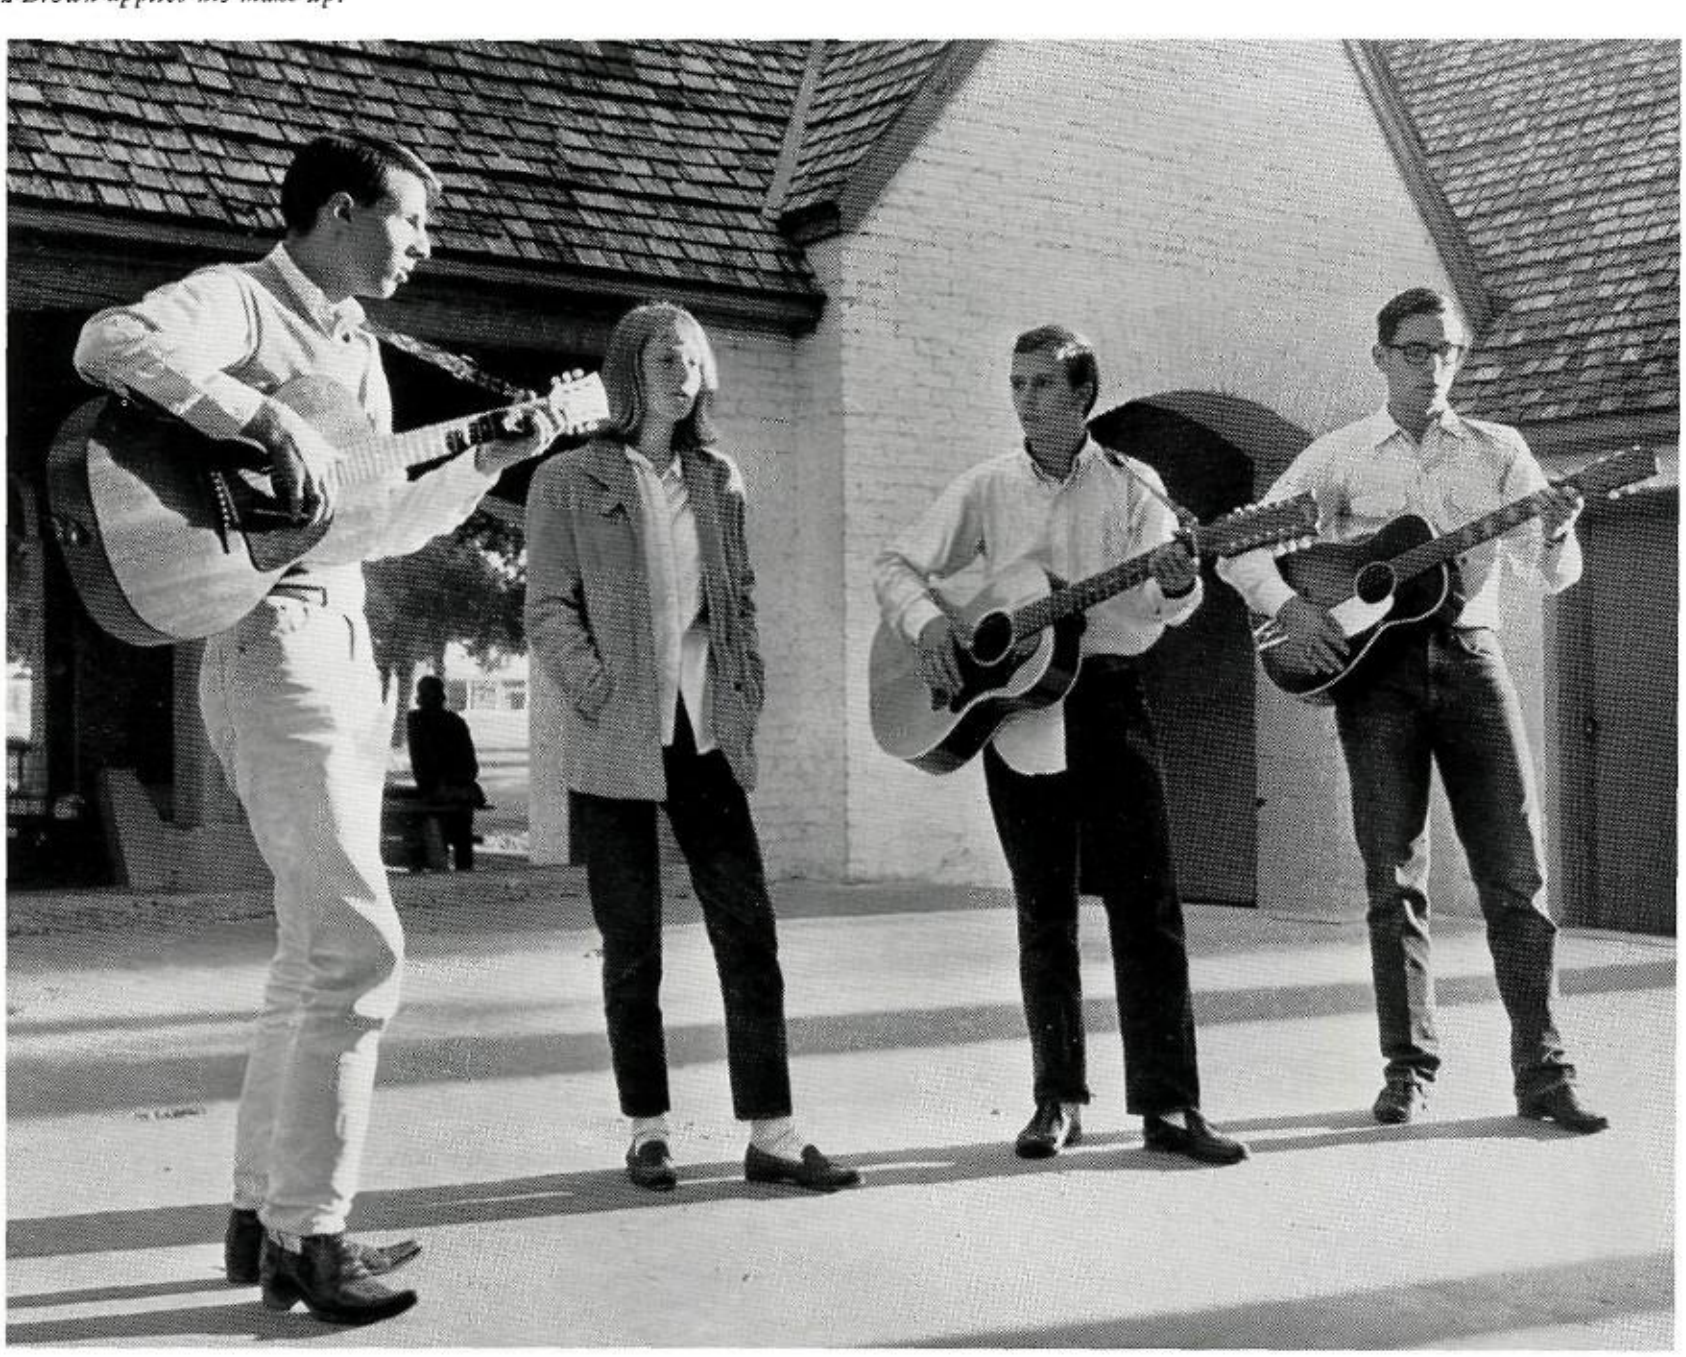
Aspiring Actors Gain Experience In Footlight Players' Annual Drama

"For some reason I feel I'm aging faster these days," quips Tim Shropshire as Liz Brown applies his make-up.

Following announcement of the cast at the October sunrise breakfast, the characters of "You Can't Take It With You" rehearsed long hours with this year's sponsor Mrs. Rosemary Burton. The two final performances in mid-December were received by enthusiastic audiences to the gratification of the players. In January the lunchroom became the scene for short skits boosting the Student Council's Lunchroom Week Campaign. Highlight of the Ranch Day program was an adaptation of "Dirty Work at the Crossroads" or "Tempted, Tried and True", a heartrending melodrama. The year was rounded out during the spring semester with several one-act productions directed by students.



Entertaining at the sunrise breakfast, the Four Hoarsemen, Tim Shropshire, Olivia Wade, Sammy Austin, and Dave Shambaugh strum and sing.

Footlight Players officers, Treasurer Steve Lord, Secretary Olivia Wade, Vice-President Anne Guerrant, and President Elizabeth Brown, glow with pride in their executive powers, but Sponsor Mrs. Rosemary Burton, center, knows who's really boss.

"I hate to horn in, but dear Karen King, what are you doing?"

A harrowing rehearsal prompts Eric Haenn to use Mike Fruge to dust the stage as horrified Mary Koish and Robert Drew view the outrage helplessly.

"When you wake up, you will all encourage Mrs. Burton to give me the leading role," says Jeryll Fester to his spell bound victims Anne Guerrant, Melody Camp, and Elizabeth Brown.

FNA Stresses Medical Career

Promoting the medical profession, Future Nurses of America offers its members a varied program of activities. As a major project for the year, the Future Nurses studied home nursing for two months under a Red Cross program. At monthly meetings topics such as public health nursing, army career nursing, and the requisite qualities for the field were presented and discussed.

FTA Emphasizes Educational Goals

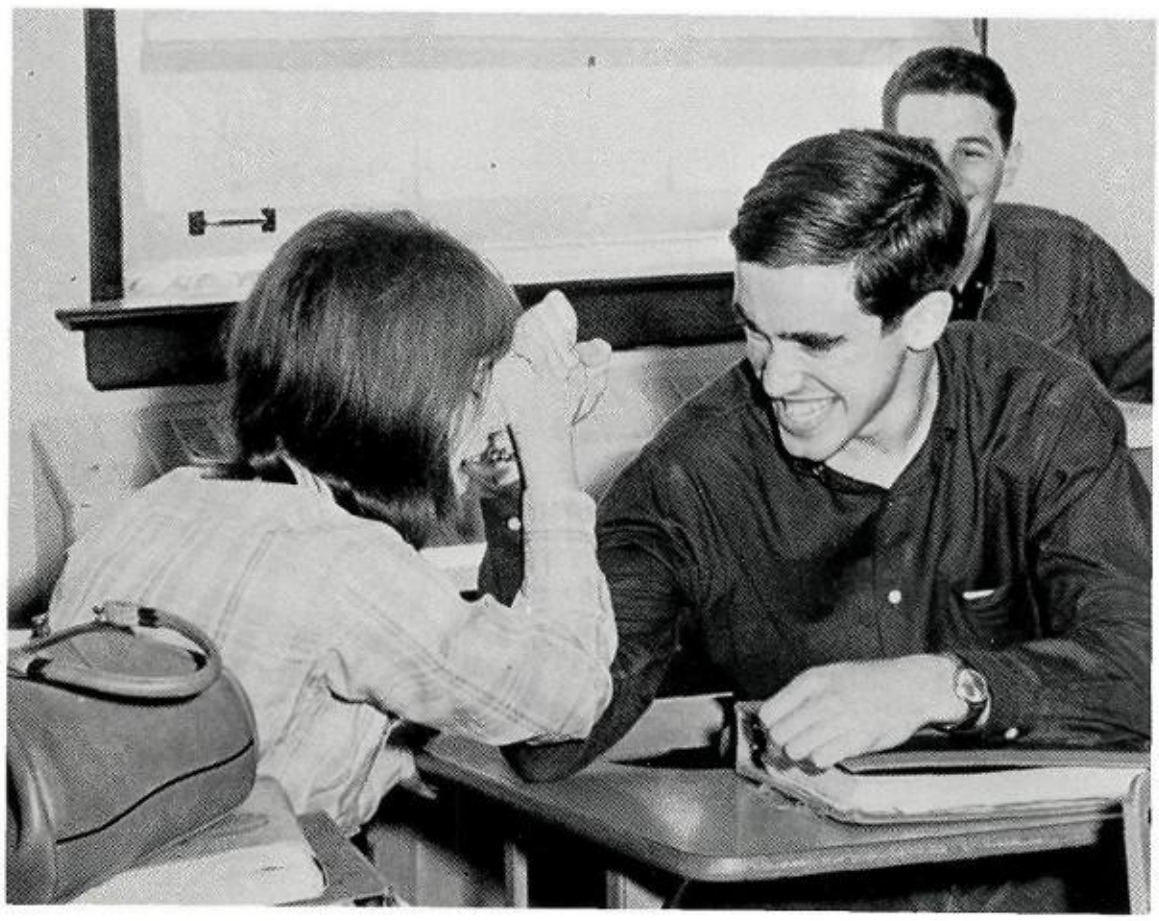
FTA officers (clockwise), Brenda Barnes, historian; Mary Andrews, secretary; Janis Jones, treasurer; Lynda Taylor, president; Linda Kay Braly, vice-president; and Sue Hubbard, president of District 5 FTA.

"Interesting students in the teaching profession is the main goal of Future Teachers of America," stated Lynda Taylor at the year's opening meeting, and this incentive guided the organization's activities. Meeting bi-weekly, FTA members studied teaching techniques presented in films on the overhead and Bell and Howell projectors. Mrs. Rosemary Burton spoke on the importance of instructor-pupil communication, and the value of speech courses to the prospective teacher. An international aspect was contributed by Mr. Milton Bransford's world-wide travel slides and a discussion of Puerto Rican schools by a transfer student from that country, Chini Streitwieser. Sue Hubbard serves as president of District 5 and Lynda Taylor is corresponding secretary.

Sponsor Miss Dona Lee Stovall and bulletin chairman, Janice Peterson, prepare o run off bulletins for a forthcoming FTA meeting.

"Here comes that sneaky worm again. Push his head back in the hole," admonishes Linda Kay Braly to Lynda Taylor.

JJ Staff Reports People, Events; Receives Awards and Experience



"What a sneaky way to get to hold hands in journalism!" says Brenda Kuykendall. "Yeah!" adds Brooks Harrington.

Stimulating features and straight news combine in the Jacket Journal to keep Heights students informed. Sponsored by Mrs. Gene Thompson, the bi-weekly periodical has fulfilled its purpose well, winning an All-Texas rating at the Texas High School Press Association convention in Denton, $200 for first place in the American Motorists Insurance Company High School Auto Safety Campaign for 1964, and three firsts in The Press's high school newspaper contest. A mid-year staff change was enacted as journalism students of the fall semester took over the positions formerly held by a more advanced staff, some of whom continued to aid in publication. Journalism students receive valuable experience for the future while performing a useful service for their school.

Researchers Attain New Honors, Initiate Expeditionary Venture

Under the dedicated supervision of Mr. Flavin Arseneau, the members of the science research group assembled an impressive list of honors for their projects while innovating a group sponsored trip. Besides dominating the winners' berths in the senior biological division of the Regional Science Fair, the future scientists captured five awards at the Texas Academy of Science. Researcher Robert Brock became the first Heightster in five years to be recognized by the Westinghouse Science Talent Search, the ultimate achievement for a high school student in science. A two-week field expedition in an isolated section of Padre Island, Texas, was undertaken by the group for the purpose of obtaining marine micro-organisms for their projects.

Maneuvers, Competition Train ROTC

Leadership, training, and preparation for the future are stressed in the Heights Reserve Officer Training Corps. Tactical theories developed in daily classes explain aggressive and defensive manuevers, problems of evasion and invasion, the use of camouflage, and troop development. These lessons are put to use on week end out-of-town field maneuvers supervised by M/Sgt. James McCready, commadant, and S/Sgt. Roger Wardell, assistant commandant. Three major competitions are entered by the corps during the spring, which include a visit to the Fiesta Flambeau. In February two Heights corpsmen took part in a radio broadcast panel discussion on the advantages of ROTC to the high school student. The top-ranking rifle team took first place honors in the city to retain the PMS trophy.

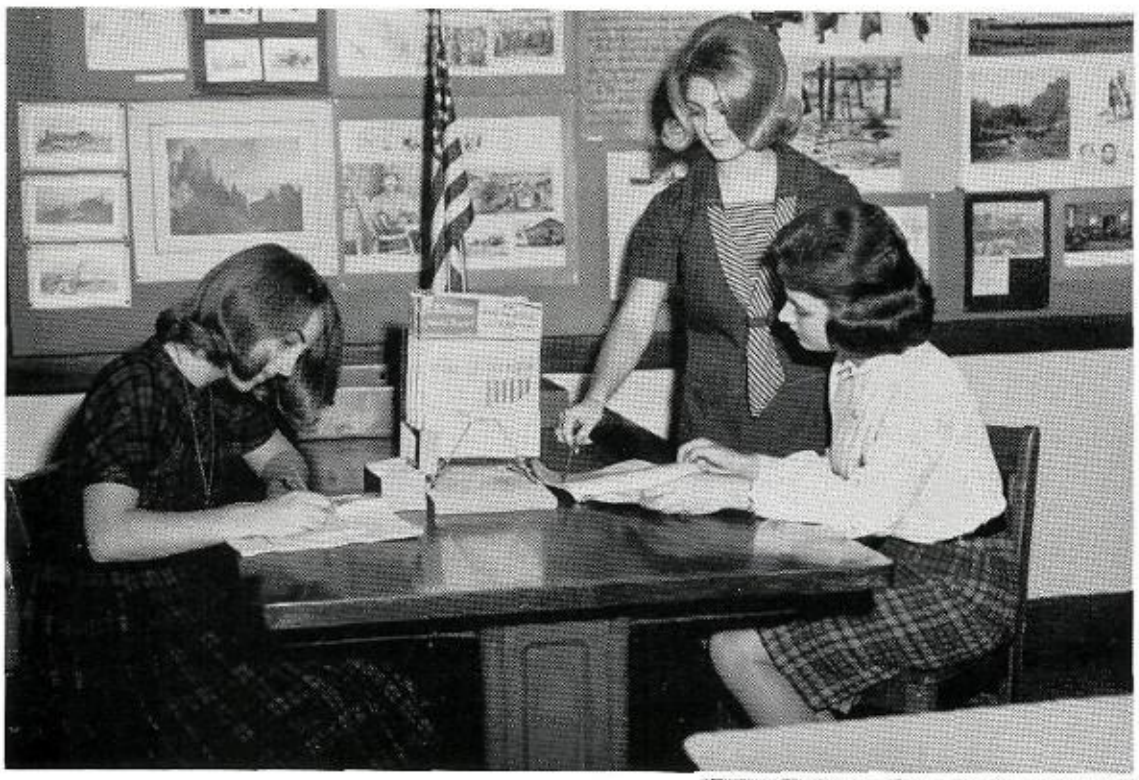
Council Revamps Organization

Caro Thompson, secretary, suggests improvements in the council cleanup project to other officers: Julie Montgomery, treasurer; Warren Russell, president; Judy Matke, vice-president, and faculty sponsors Mrs. Bonnie Parmeter and Mrs. Mary White.

Adjustment of committee membership and an overall revitalization of the Student Council program formed the basis for the '64-65 agenda of council activities. The most sweeping step was completed with the formal adoption of a new constitution drafted by a committee formed for that purpose. Sales of the "Jacket Packet" and similar souvenirs increased the treasury, allowing the purchase of a re-usable Christmas tree for the front hall. The council sponsored Homecoming and Ranch Day, published the student handbook, and, with the aid of the Advisory Council, pushed the mass Lunchroom Cleanup Campaign to successful completion.

"Ah, Rus, how did you sneak five listings of yourself in the handbook?" inquires Geoff Swanburg of smurking Rus Vowell as other Handbook Committee members Debbie Campbell, Mary Andrews, John Hawkins, and Judy Routh share in sponsor Mr. Milton Bransford's astonishment at the culprit's cunning.

New Creed Guides Forum Meetings



Working to lay a solid foundation of understanding and knowledge for a strong, successful democracy of tomorrow, Young Citizens' Forum continues to be a time and a place where students can evaluate international events, develop their own opinions, and learn to assume patriotic responsibility. Through the planning of the Executive Committee, Forum members, selected upon the recommendation of their history and government teachers, are challenged by authorities such as Fort Worth Police Sgt. Barney Koons, speaking on youth responsibility; State Representative David Finney, discussing bills to be proposed by the state legislature, and Decky McCoy, relating experiences of her United Nations visit. Student speakers explained the nomination and election of United States presidents and discussed urban renewal.

Clipping pertinent articles for future reference, Diane Patton, Janice Peterson, and Debbie Campbell devote much of their spare time to YCF.

'65 Yellow Jacket Offers Year's Story Emphasizing Individual

Within the cover of this book lies a part of each member of the Yellow Jacket staff, a bit of their ideals, aspirations, and hours of their work. Within also lies a part of us, the faces who have made a school, a year, from a time called 1965. The theme of this book will not die; the individuals who make up a school, a nation, will not fade.

Highlanders to Pocket Runner-Up

In posting a 7-3 record, the finest in nine years, the '64 Yellow Jackets grabbed second place in district. Having seized opening wins from Temple and McCallum of Austin, Coach Homer Ludiker's footballers were handed successive defeats by Abilene and Waco's Richfield. After an off-week, the big eleven bounced back to thrash Tech, Carter, and Poly as district play commenced. Matched with the North Side Steers in the '64 Homecoming Game, the Yellow Jackets welcomed back the exes to a 14-6 barbecue. On a Friday 13, the Paschal Panthers scored their 13th straight victory over the luckless Jackets. Their fighting spirit undaunted, the gridmen swamped the Eastern Hills battleship with a barrage of touchdowns to wrap up the season with a 35-15 stomp.

Little Eleven Dominates District

Despite a violent Paschal rush, Jim Carden manages to loft a 15-yard completed pass in a tough "B" team game.

Knowledge of fundamentals and that Jacket determination stirred the "B" team to a 7-1-1 record. Capturing the district championship, the juniors and sophomores playing for their first season were given inspiration and instruction by coaches Don Hood, Joe Prater, and Willie Taylor. "B" team play initiates grid participants for future blue and gold glory.

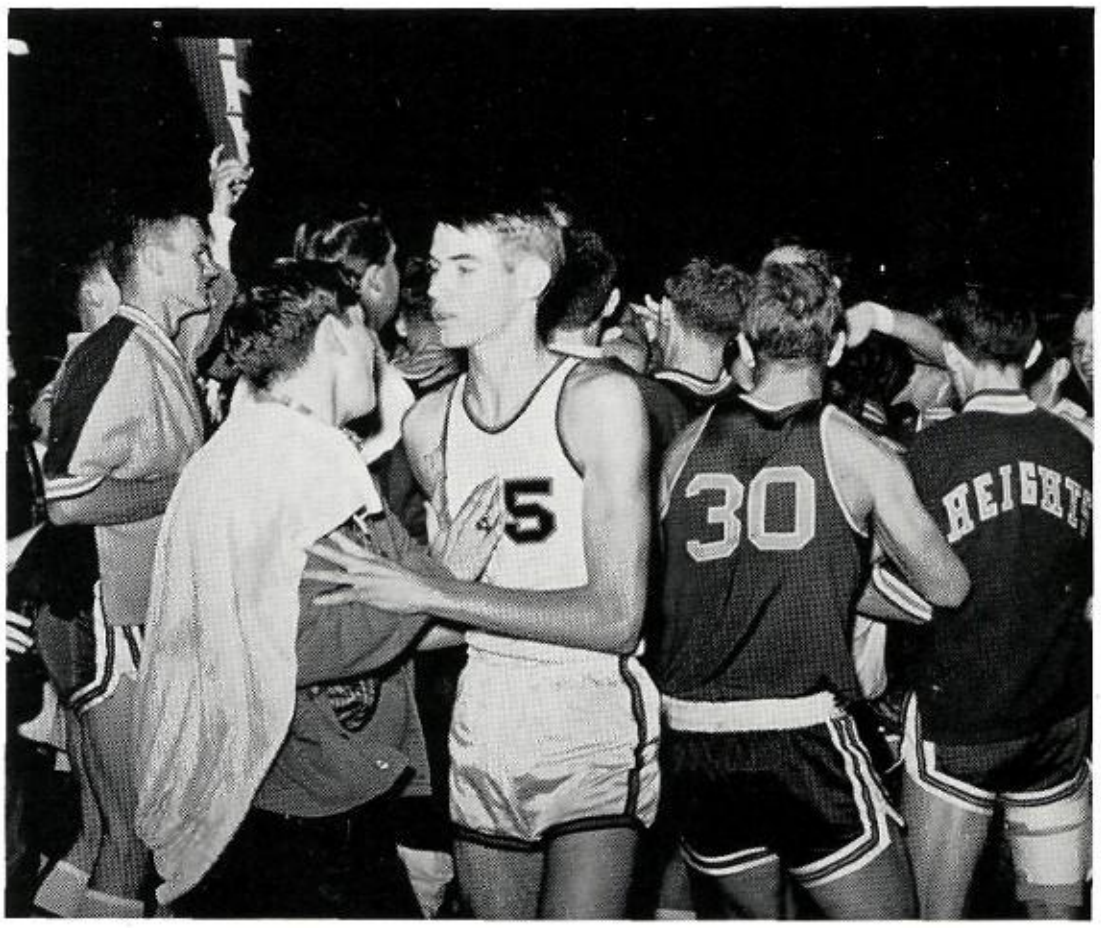
Cagers Trap Title With 12-0 Record

Pressing defense and run-and-shoot offense tactics of Arlington Heights proved too much for District 4A-5 basketball teams as the Jackets piled up a 12-0 standing. Breaking records in season play, the squad won both the first and second halves, setting an individual game high in scoring with their overwhelming defeat of Tech, 107-56. The Jackets also surpassed the overall team scoring record for season play. After this outstanding district season, the cagers were knocked from the state championship contention play by Thomas Jefferson of Dallas, 51-73.

Honored for their basketball skill and determination, Drew Madar, Bob Spurck, and Jimmy Wehman were selected for the all-district first team. Mike Kirkpatrick and Bill Shields earned second team placement.



Jubilant Jacket supporters flock from the stands to congratulate the new district champions.

Girls' Intramural Council officers include Joanne Lowery, Vicki Hedge, Kathy Anderson, Sue Ann Allen, and, SEATED, Donna Bronstad, president.

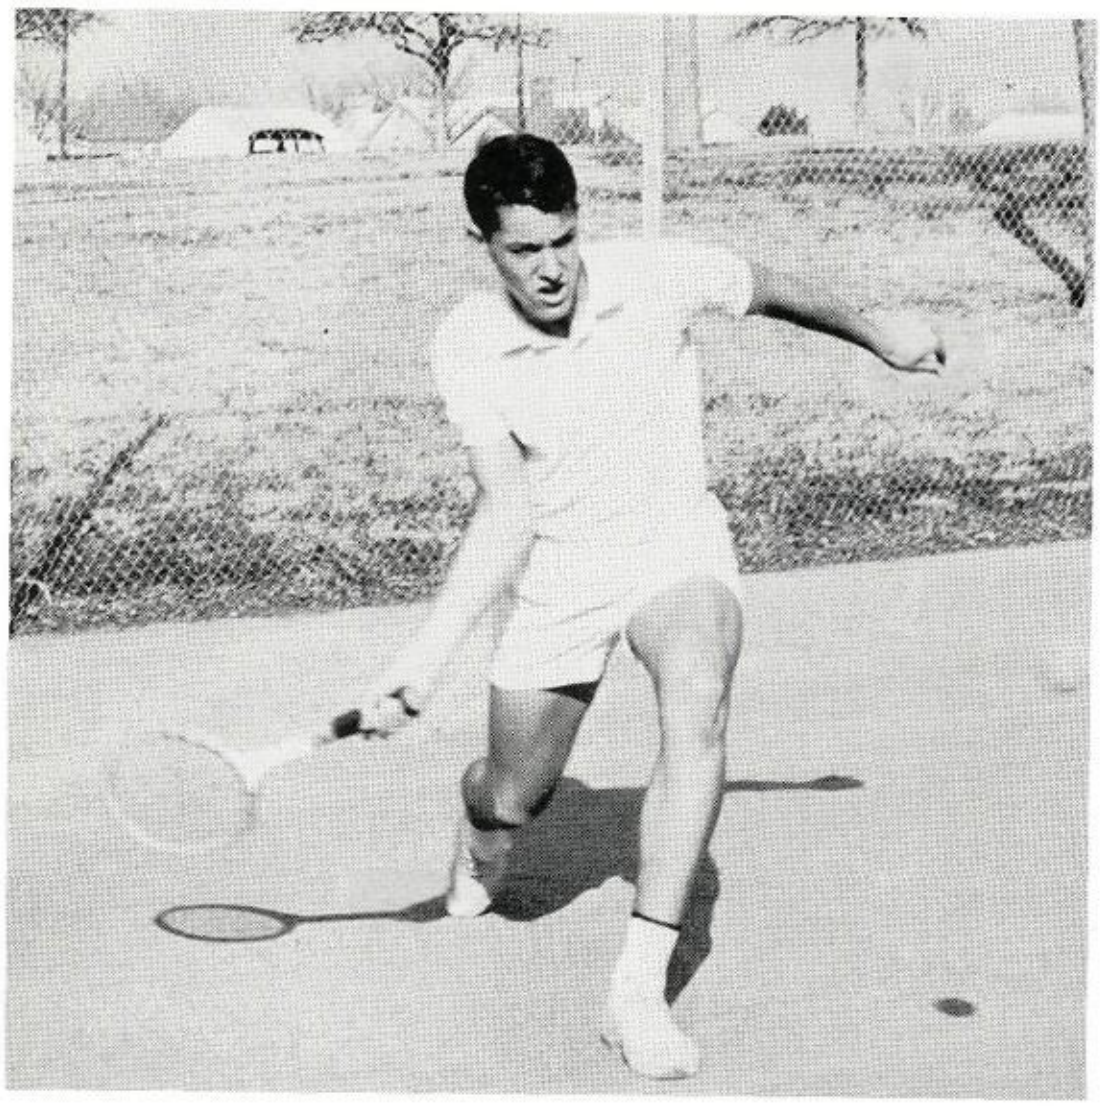
GIC Fashions Girl Athletes

Members of the Girls' Intramural Council strive to perfect their athletic abilities in the fields of volleyball, tennis, volley tennis, softball, and, when they can lure the boys out of the gym, basketball.

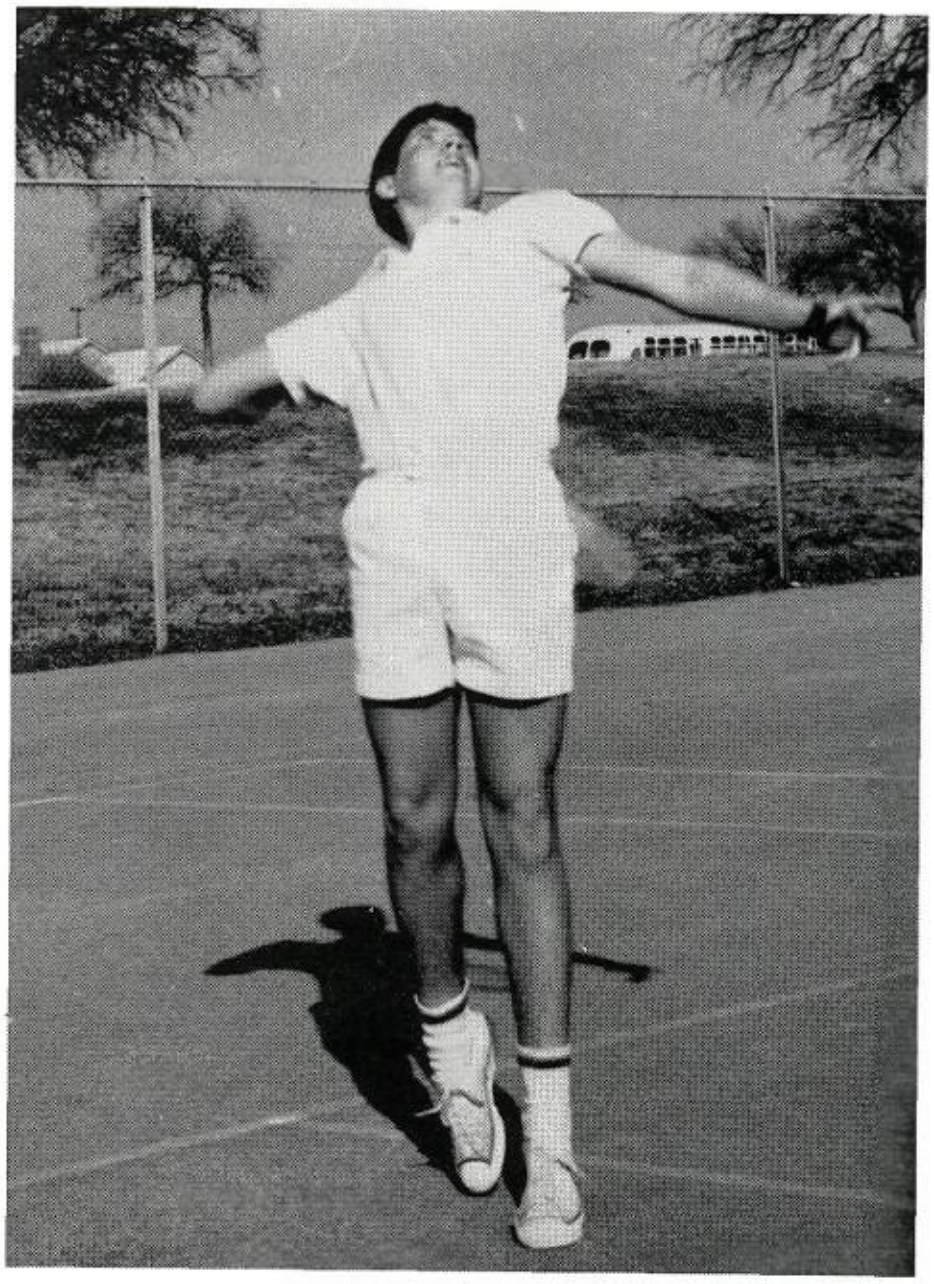
FIRST ROW: BOTTOM TO TOP: Jo Carole Williams, Susan Behnke, Lura Bennett, Kathy Anderson, Susan Barse, Gail Becker, Vicki Hedge, Margie Bullard. SECOND ROW: Barbara Hairston, Claudia Kane, Alice Gafford, Louise Stockman, Pati Dickey, Joanne Lowery, Virginia Mendez. THIRD ROW: Donna Bronstad, Kay Cody, Sue Ann Allen, Pam Joyce, Lynn Armstrong, Virginia Grubbs, Martha Papusch, Jeanne Valone, Cinda Toner.

Gail Becker positions to boost the ball over the net just out of opponent's reach.

Three State



Johnny Williams stoops to meet the ball with a smooth forehand.



Kenny McMillan reaches to return a high lob with an overhead smash at the net.

Rankers Brighten '65 Tennis Hopes

This season's forecast for the Jacket tennis team is sunny. Girls' team instructor Mrs. Martha Austin takes pride in the Texas interscholastic tennis champion, senior Patty Lowdon. Coach Dayton Carter's boys' team boasts sophomores Johnny Williams and Kenny McMillan, ranked tenth and eleventh respectively in the state sixteen-and-under division. Both teachers expect the team to rise like a phoenix from the ashes of last year's record. The '64 doubles players and the boys singles and doubles were defeated in struggle for district. Only Patty Lowdon, girls singles ace, escaped unscathed, and she climbed to the peak of her state division. This year's state-ranking trio should be the nucleus that will raise the '65 team to prominence.

Patient practice on the backboard polishes Joan Williams' backhand stroke.

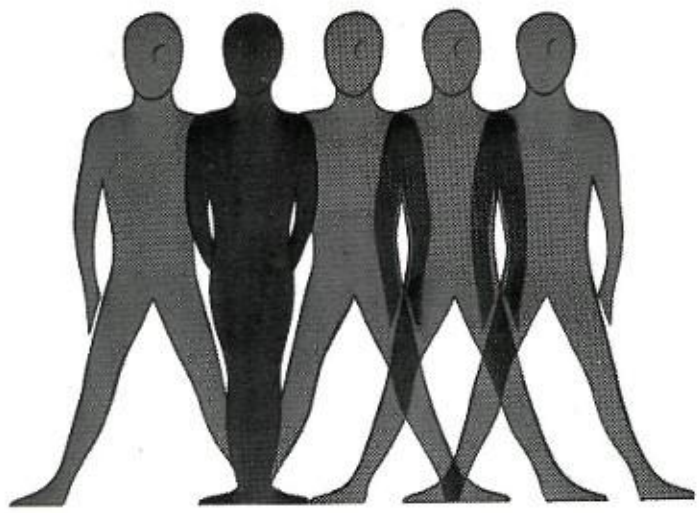
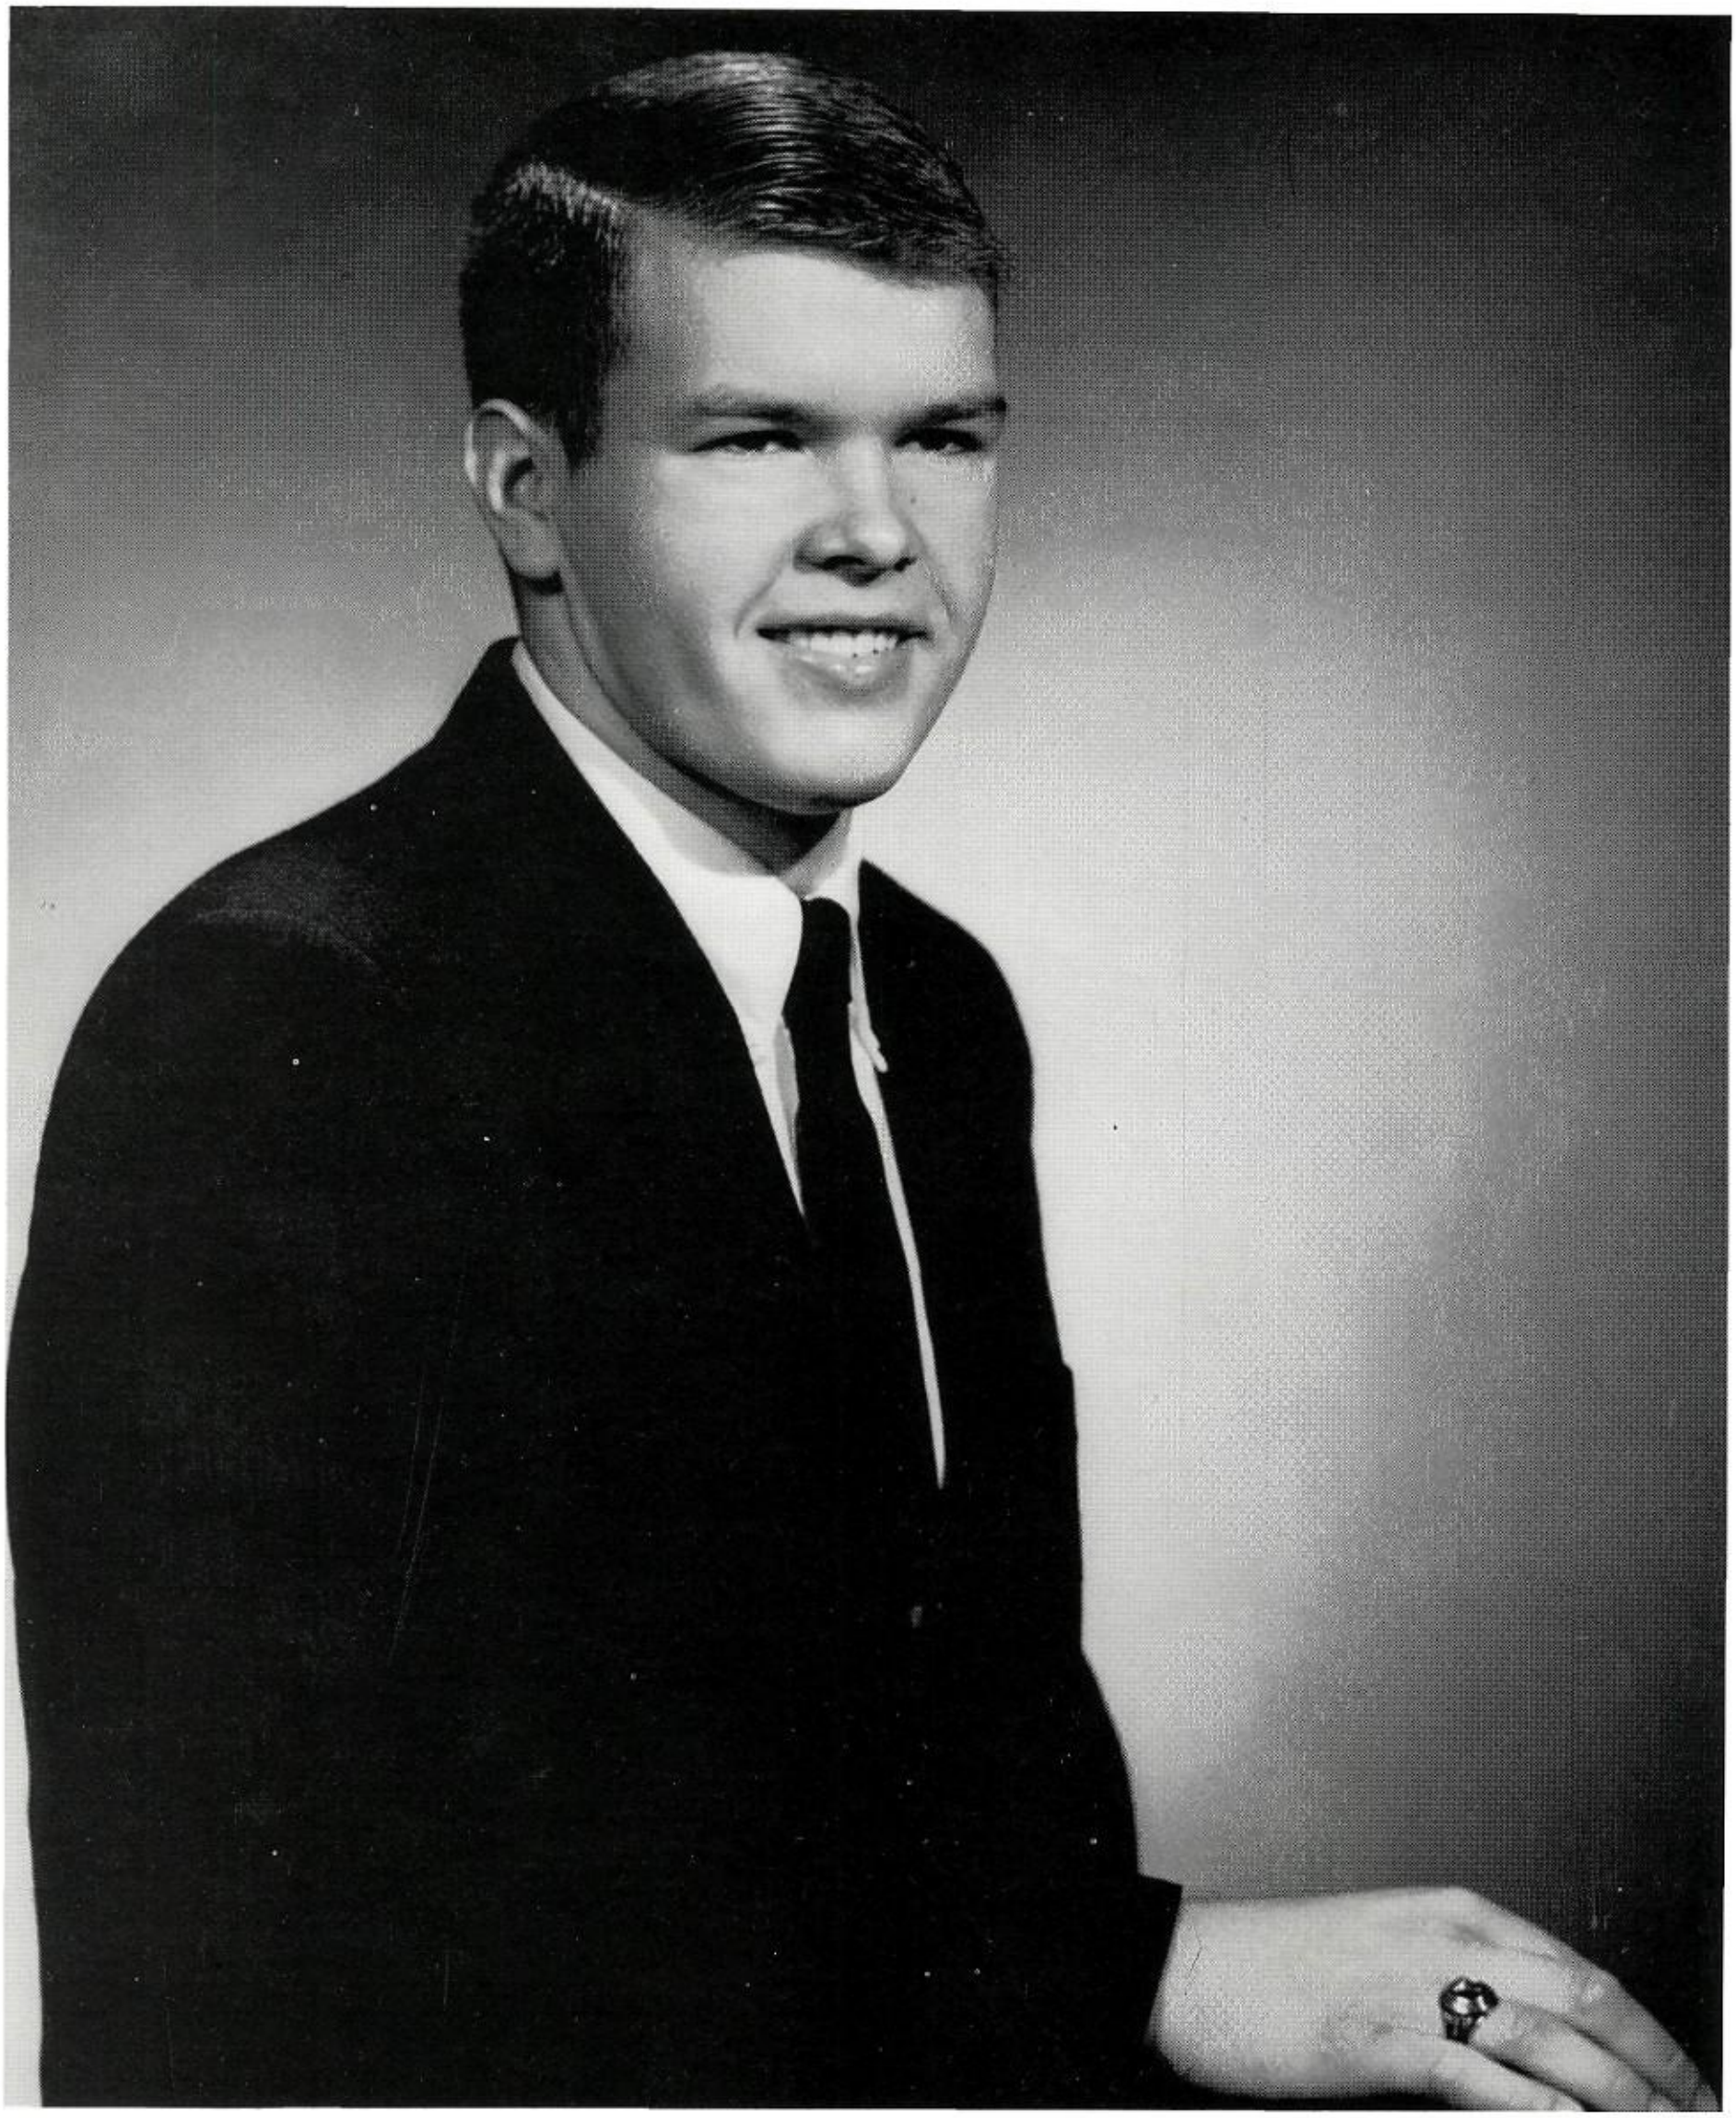
Patty Lowdon demonstrates the serve that has won her many championships.

SELF-RESPECT



Self-confidence is the first requisite of great undertakings.

SAMUEL JOHNSON



Mark Craig

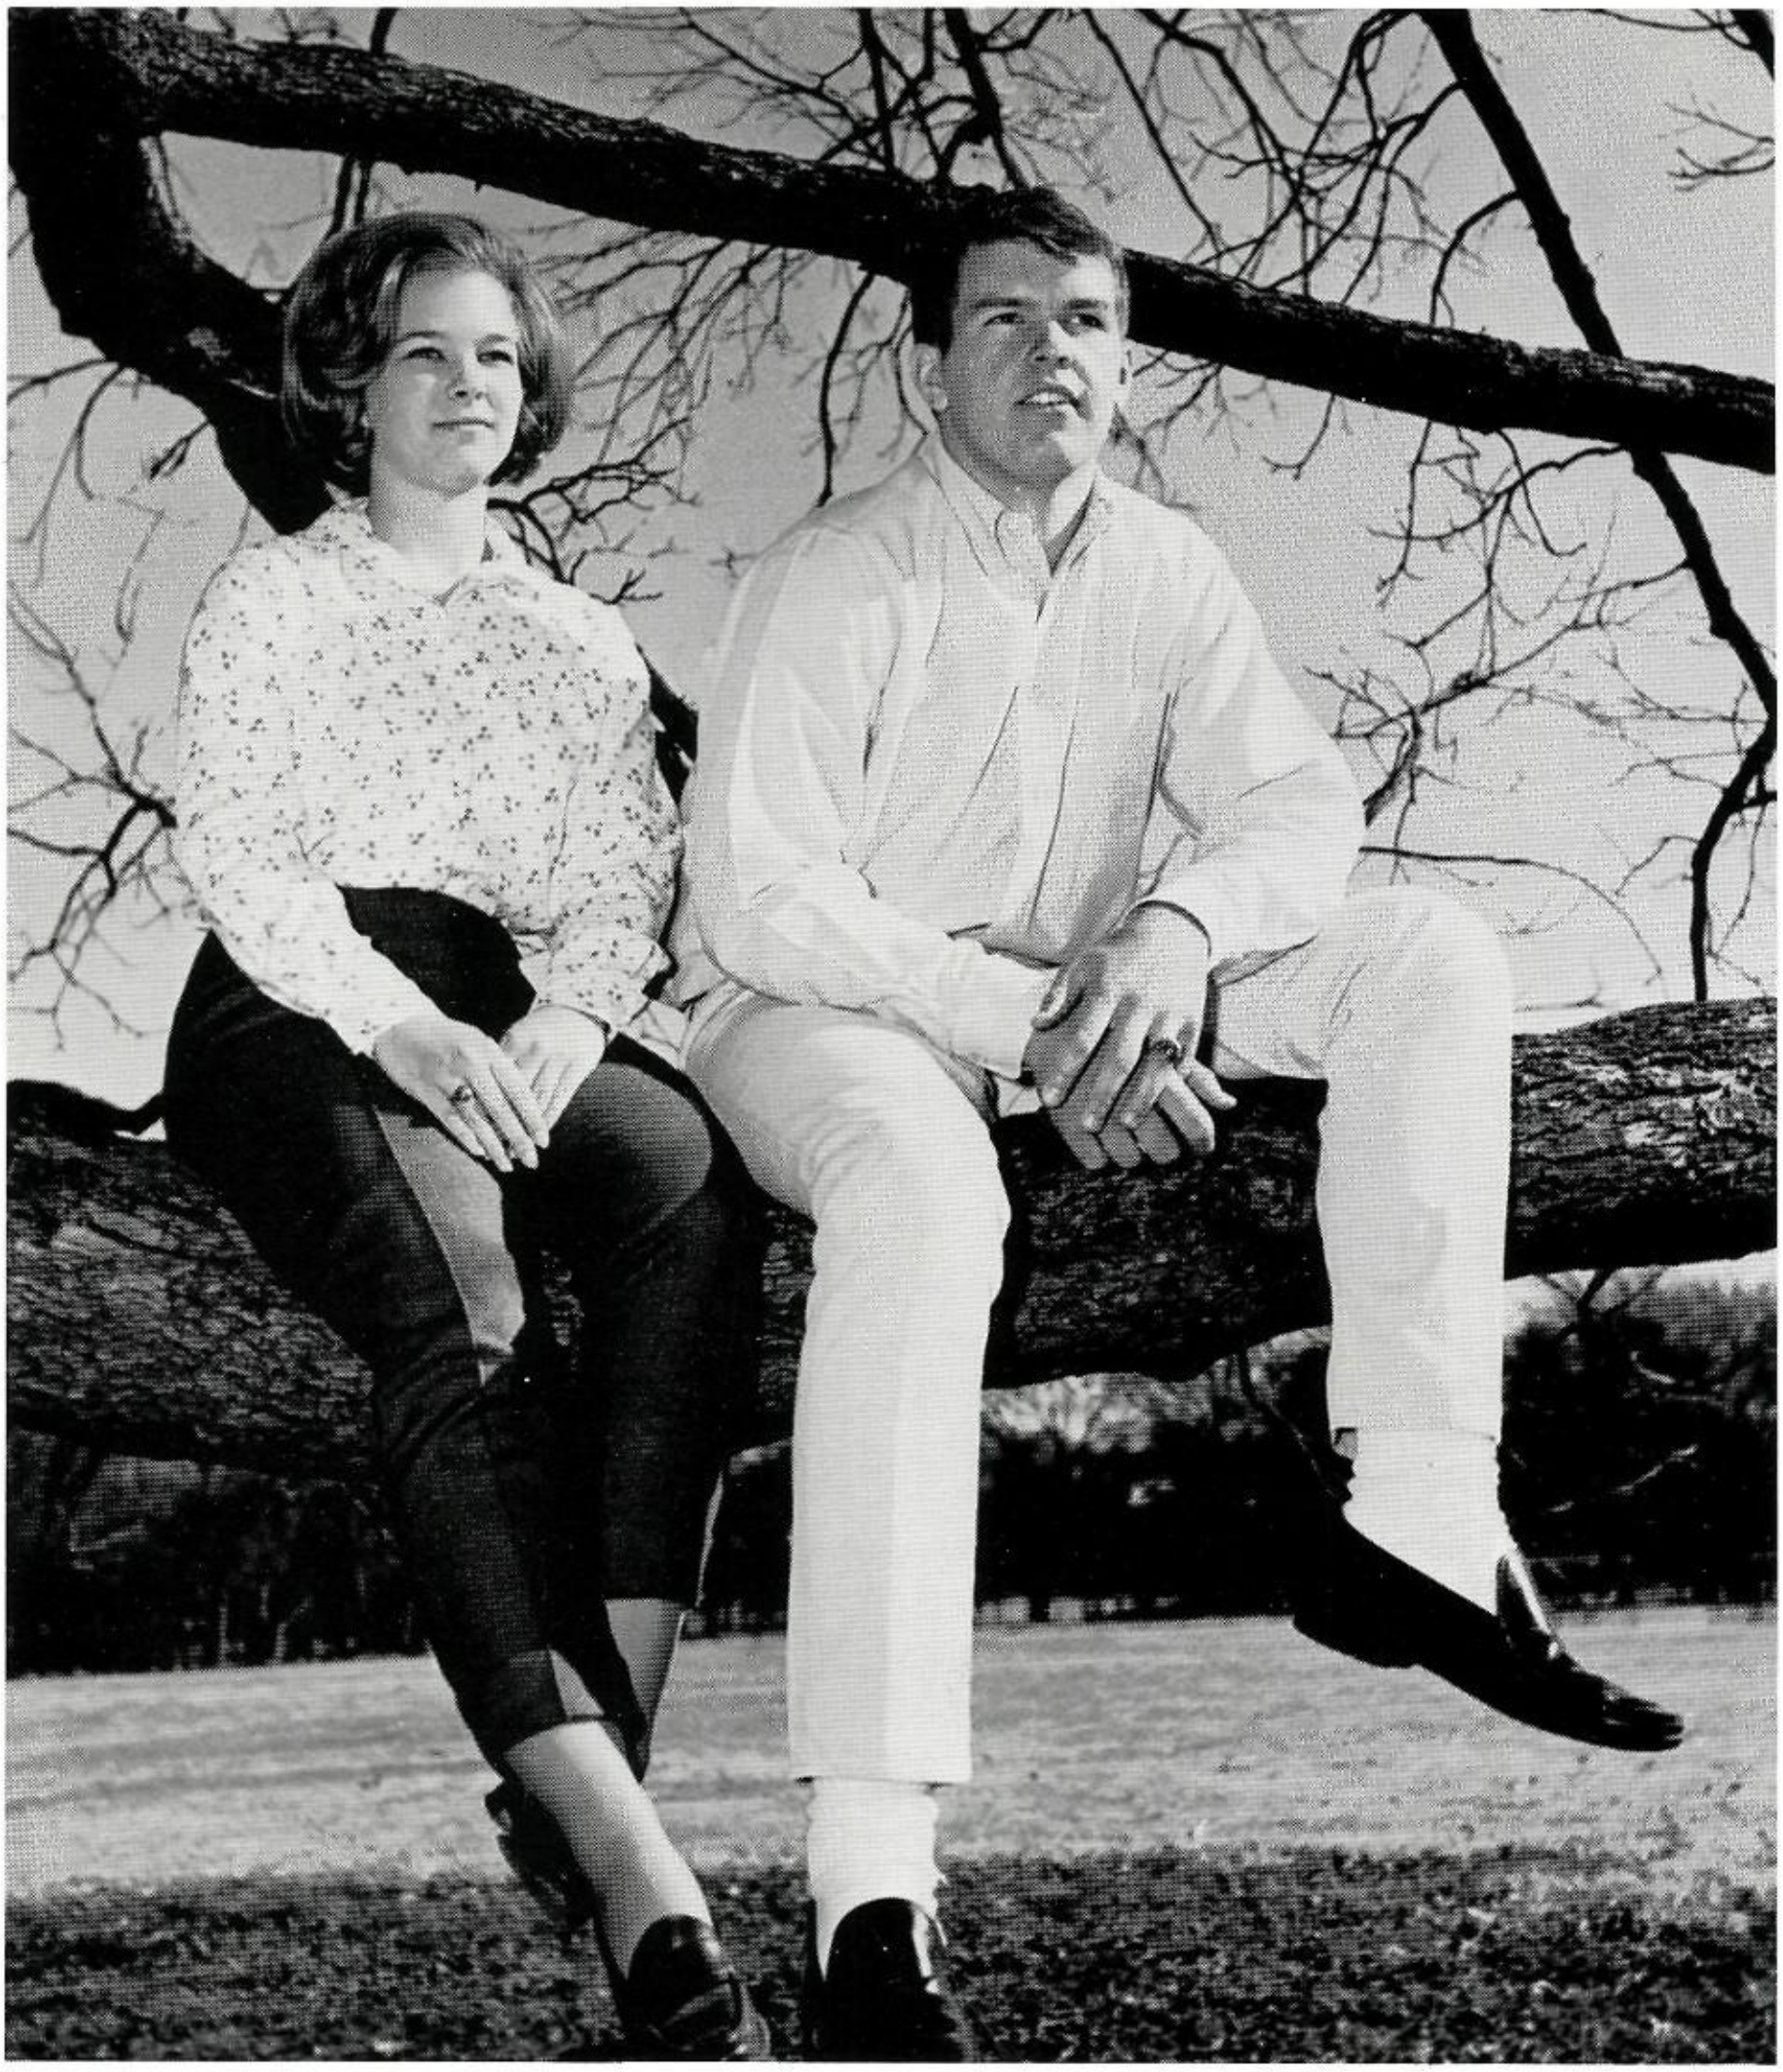
Mr. AHHS

Exemplifying the ideals which guide Heights' students and faculty, Mr. and Miss AHHS are seniors elected by student vote.

Miss AHHS

Outstanding qualities of leadership and service, no grades below "C," and "A"s, in citizenship are requirements for the honor.

Sue Hubbard



Mark and Sue Typify Heights Ideals

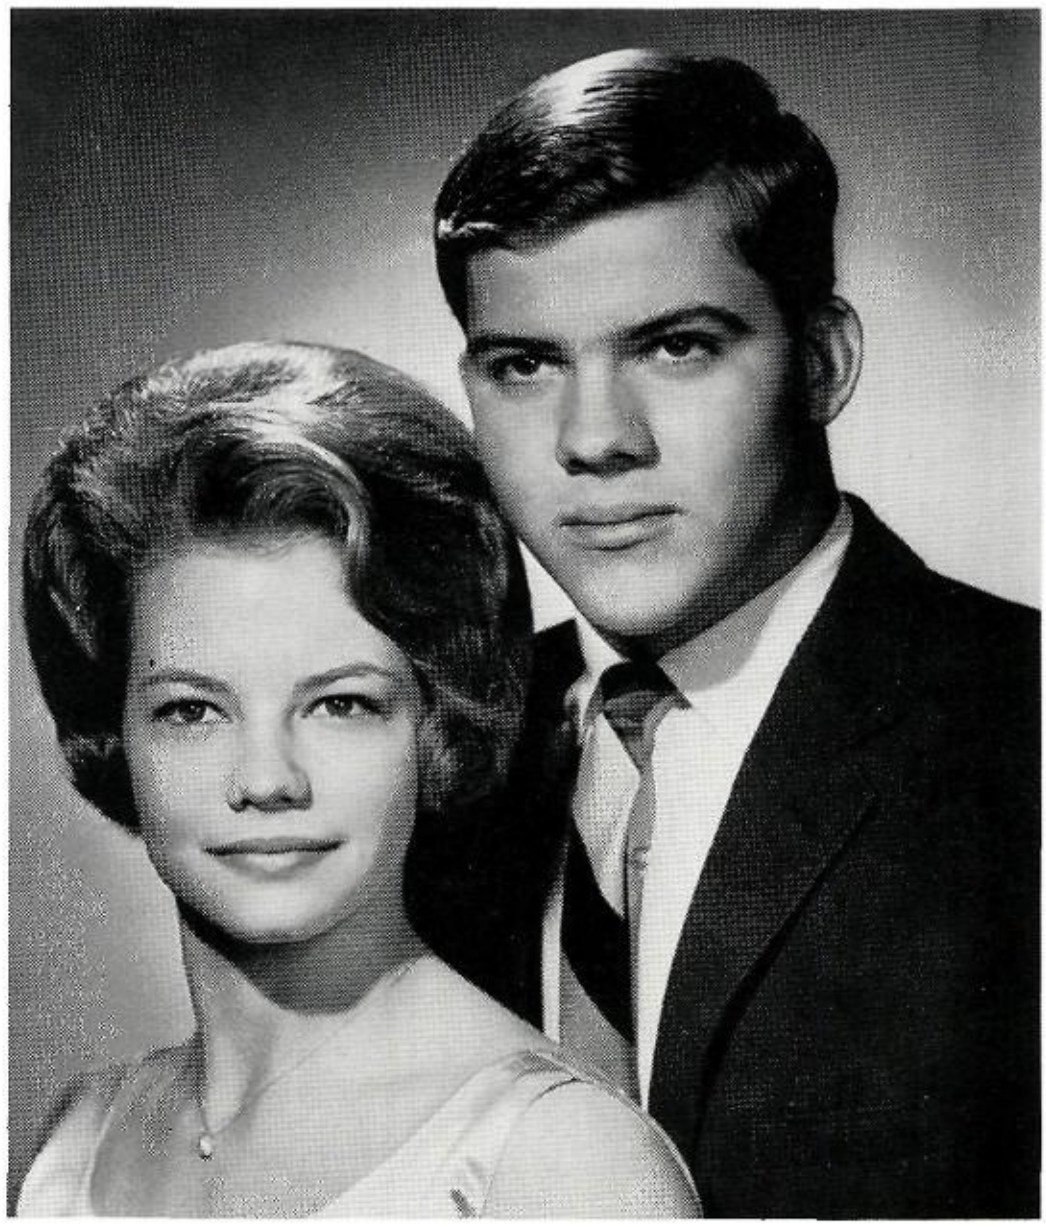
Through participation and leadership in various school-sponsored activities, Mark and Sue have well represented Arlington Heights. Lettering in football one year and placing on the All-Academic Team, Mark was also elected President of his homeroom for two years. He has worked on the Yellow Jacket staff as Sports Co-Editor and was a member of AY. His other honors included Junior Favorite Finalist, Leonard's Award, and "J" Club pin.

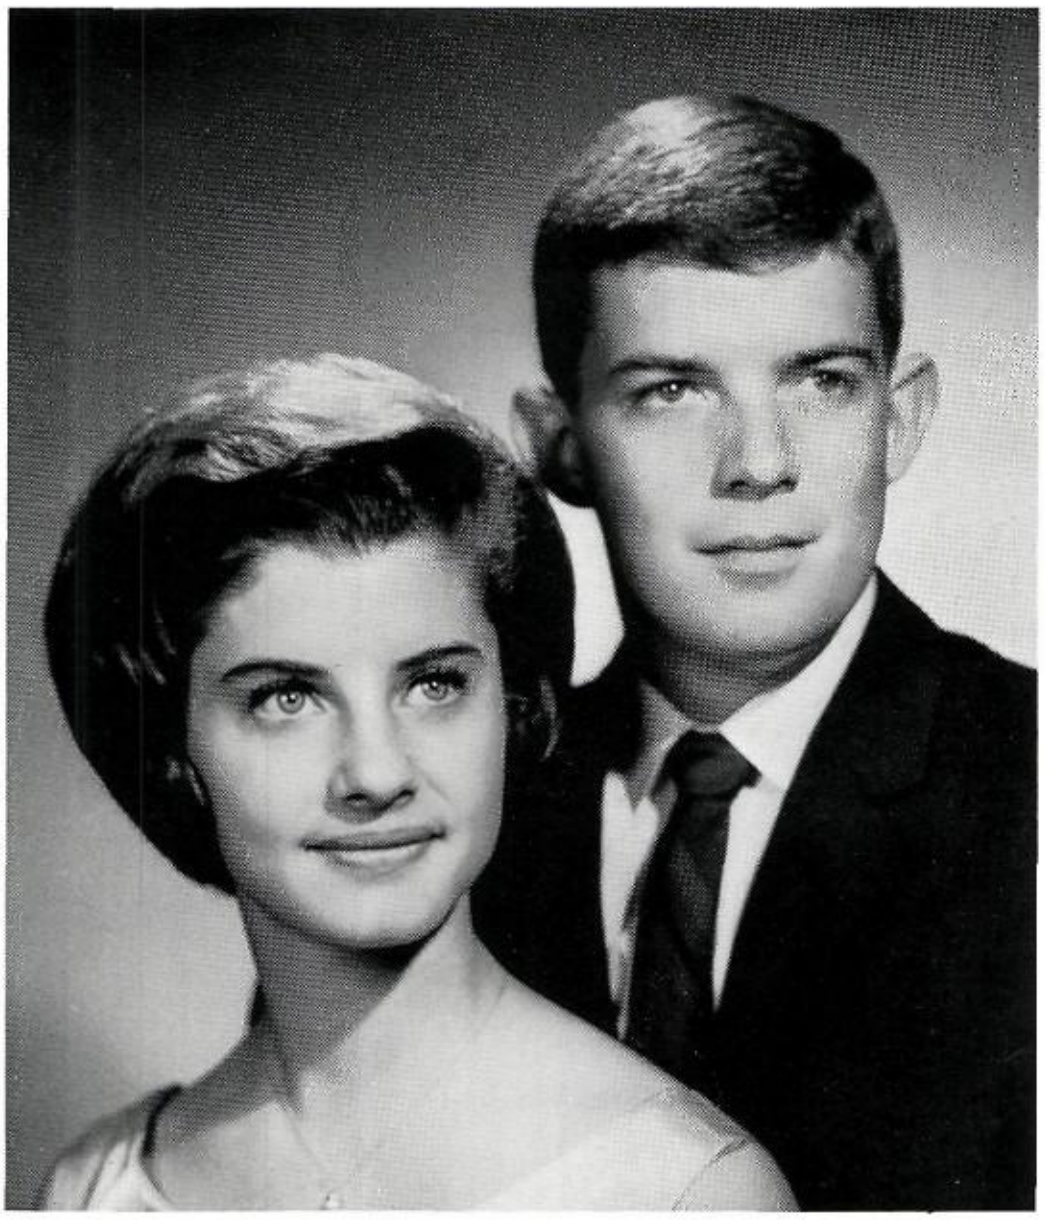
Sue Hubbard has been an active member of AY, Young Citizens' Forum, and FTA. As a junior she was elected Secretary of FTA and alternate cheerleader while she became President of the District 5 FTA Chapter of Texas and senior cheerleader this year. Sue has also been a homeroom officer for three years and has received the Leonard's Award and "J" Club pin.

Mr. and Miss AHHS Finalists

Tommy Croft
Jane Moore

As members of AY and the Student Council and Presidents of their homerooms, both Jane and Tommy have also received the Leonard's Award and "J" Club pin. Tommy has participated in football and was elected President of the "A" Club this year. Head Cheerleader Jane Moore was a member of Young Citizens' Forum and FTA while she was elected 1964-65 Football Queen and Treasurer of the Senior Class.





Joe Leverich
Margaret Pace

Leonard's Award and "J" Club pin were among the honors shared by Joe and Margaret. As a Student Councilman and member of the Young Citizens' Forum Executive Committee, Joe also served on the Yellow Jacket Staff and was elected vice-chairman of the Tarrant County Youth Council. Active Margaret has been both Sophomore and Junior Favorite and two-year President of Red Cross. She was a member of AY and Young Citizens' Forum and worked on the Yellow Jacket and Jacket Journal staffs.

Ranch Foreman and Queen

Hugh Massey

Elected by the student body, Foreman Hugh Massey was presented at two assembly programs on Ranch Day. Having ridden in the Grand Entry at the Texas Cowboy Reunion Rodeo in Stanford, Texas, Hugh has since pursued his ranching interests at various local riding clubs.

Arden Westbrook

Ranch Queen Arden Westbrook has ridden in the Grand Entry of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show and participated in English jumping competitions. Her riding skill was developed while she was young, as she achieved first place in advanced riding when she attended Camp Wa-Na-Ka. The pretty senior also has ridden for various Fort Worth citizens at local estates.

Homecoming Queen

Joan Moore

Reigning over the first victorious Homecoming team in thirteen years was Senior Joan Moore, 1964-65 Homecoming Queen. Student Body President Warren Russell presented Joan with a mum and gold charm at the Homecoming pep rallies.

At the half-time activities of the Heights-North Side game she received a dozen red roses and the traditional kiss from the 1963-64 Student Body President, Isaac Butterworth.

Most Beautiful

Most Handsome

Alicia Wagner

Elected by the student body to be a finalist in the Mostest Contest, Alicia Wagner was chosen by judges to be Most Beautiful. Presented in both casual and formal attire, her bright smile was a charming asset as she sought the title.

Gary Angle

Escorting Alicia was Gary Angle, Most Handsome. His good looks, athletic appearance, and stage presence were the outstanding traits which won him this honor.

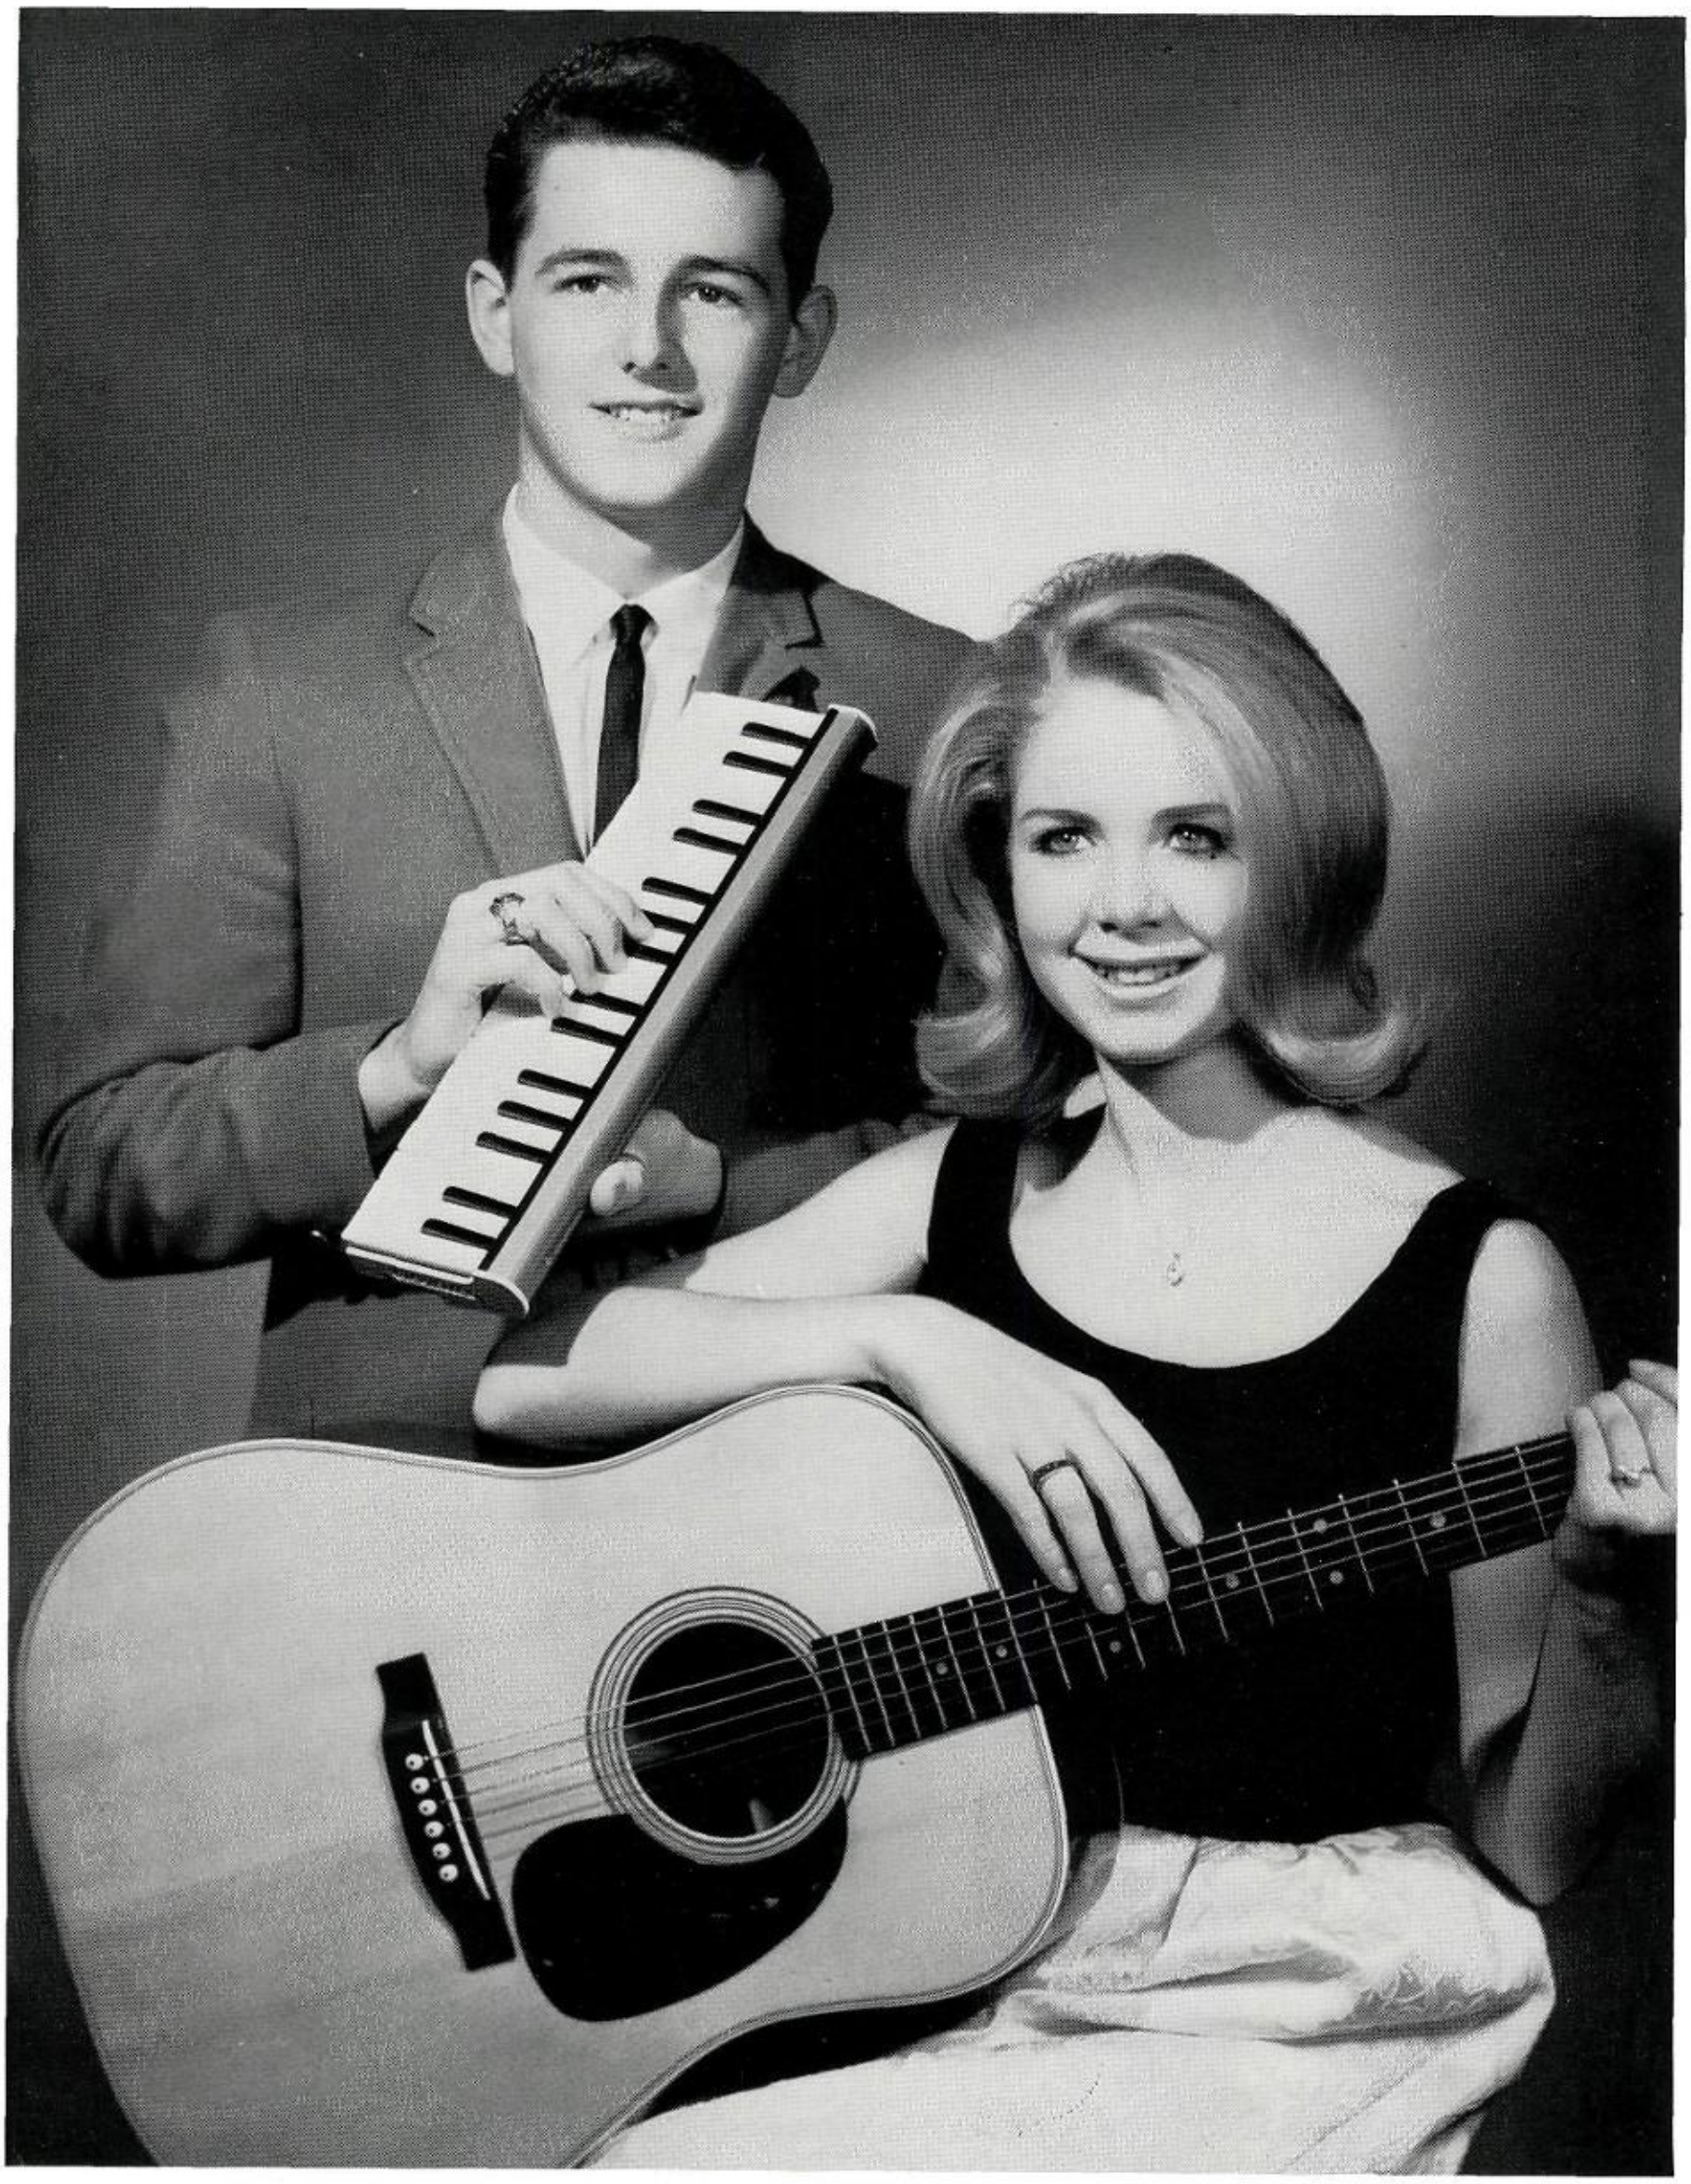
Most Athletic

Patty Lowdon

Chosen Most Athletic as a junior and senior, Patty Lowdon has lettered in tennis three years. She was rated number one in the Texas Interscholastic Tennis Competition in 1964 and was ranked 16th in the United States singles and 11th in doubles. This outstanding senior also enjoys horseback riding, skiing, and swimming.

Gene Mahurin

Fullback Gene Mahurin was a two-year letterman and member of the All-District Team. His outstanding playing also won him an honorable mention on the All-State Team. As Secretary-Treasurer of the "A" Club, Gene won the James Holmes Memorial Award this year. His other interests include basketball and swimming.



Most Talented

John McCluney

Having taken piano for 12 years, John McCluney has studied mainly classical music. At the Mostest Program he played both the piano and the clavietta. His versatility was shown by the fact that he composed his piece, "Shore Leave."

Marlena Reiners

Chosen Most Talented by several prominent judges, Marlena Reiners sang two songs, "El Presso Numero Nueve" and "Homesick Hillbilly." She has appeared at various places professionally and was a finalist for Miss Teenage Fort Worth.

Most Friendly

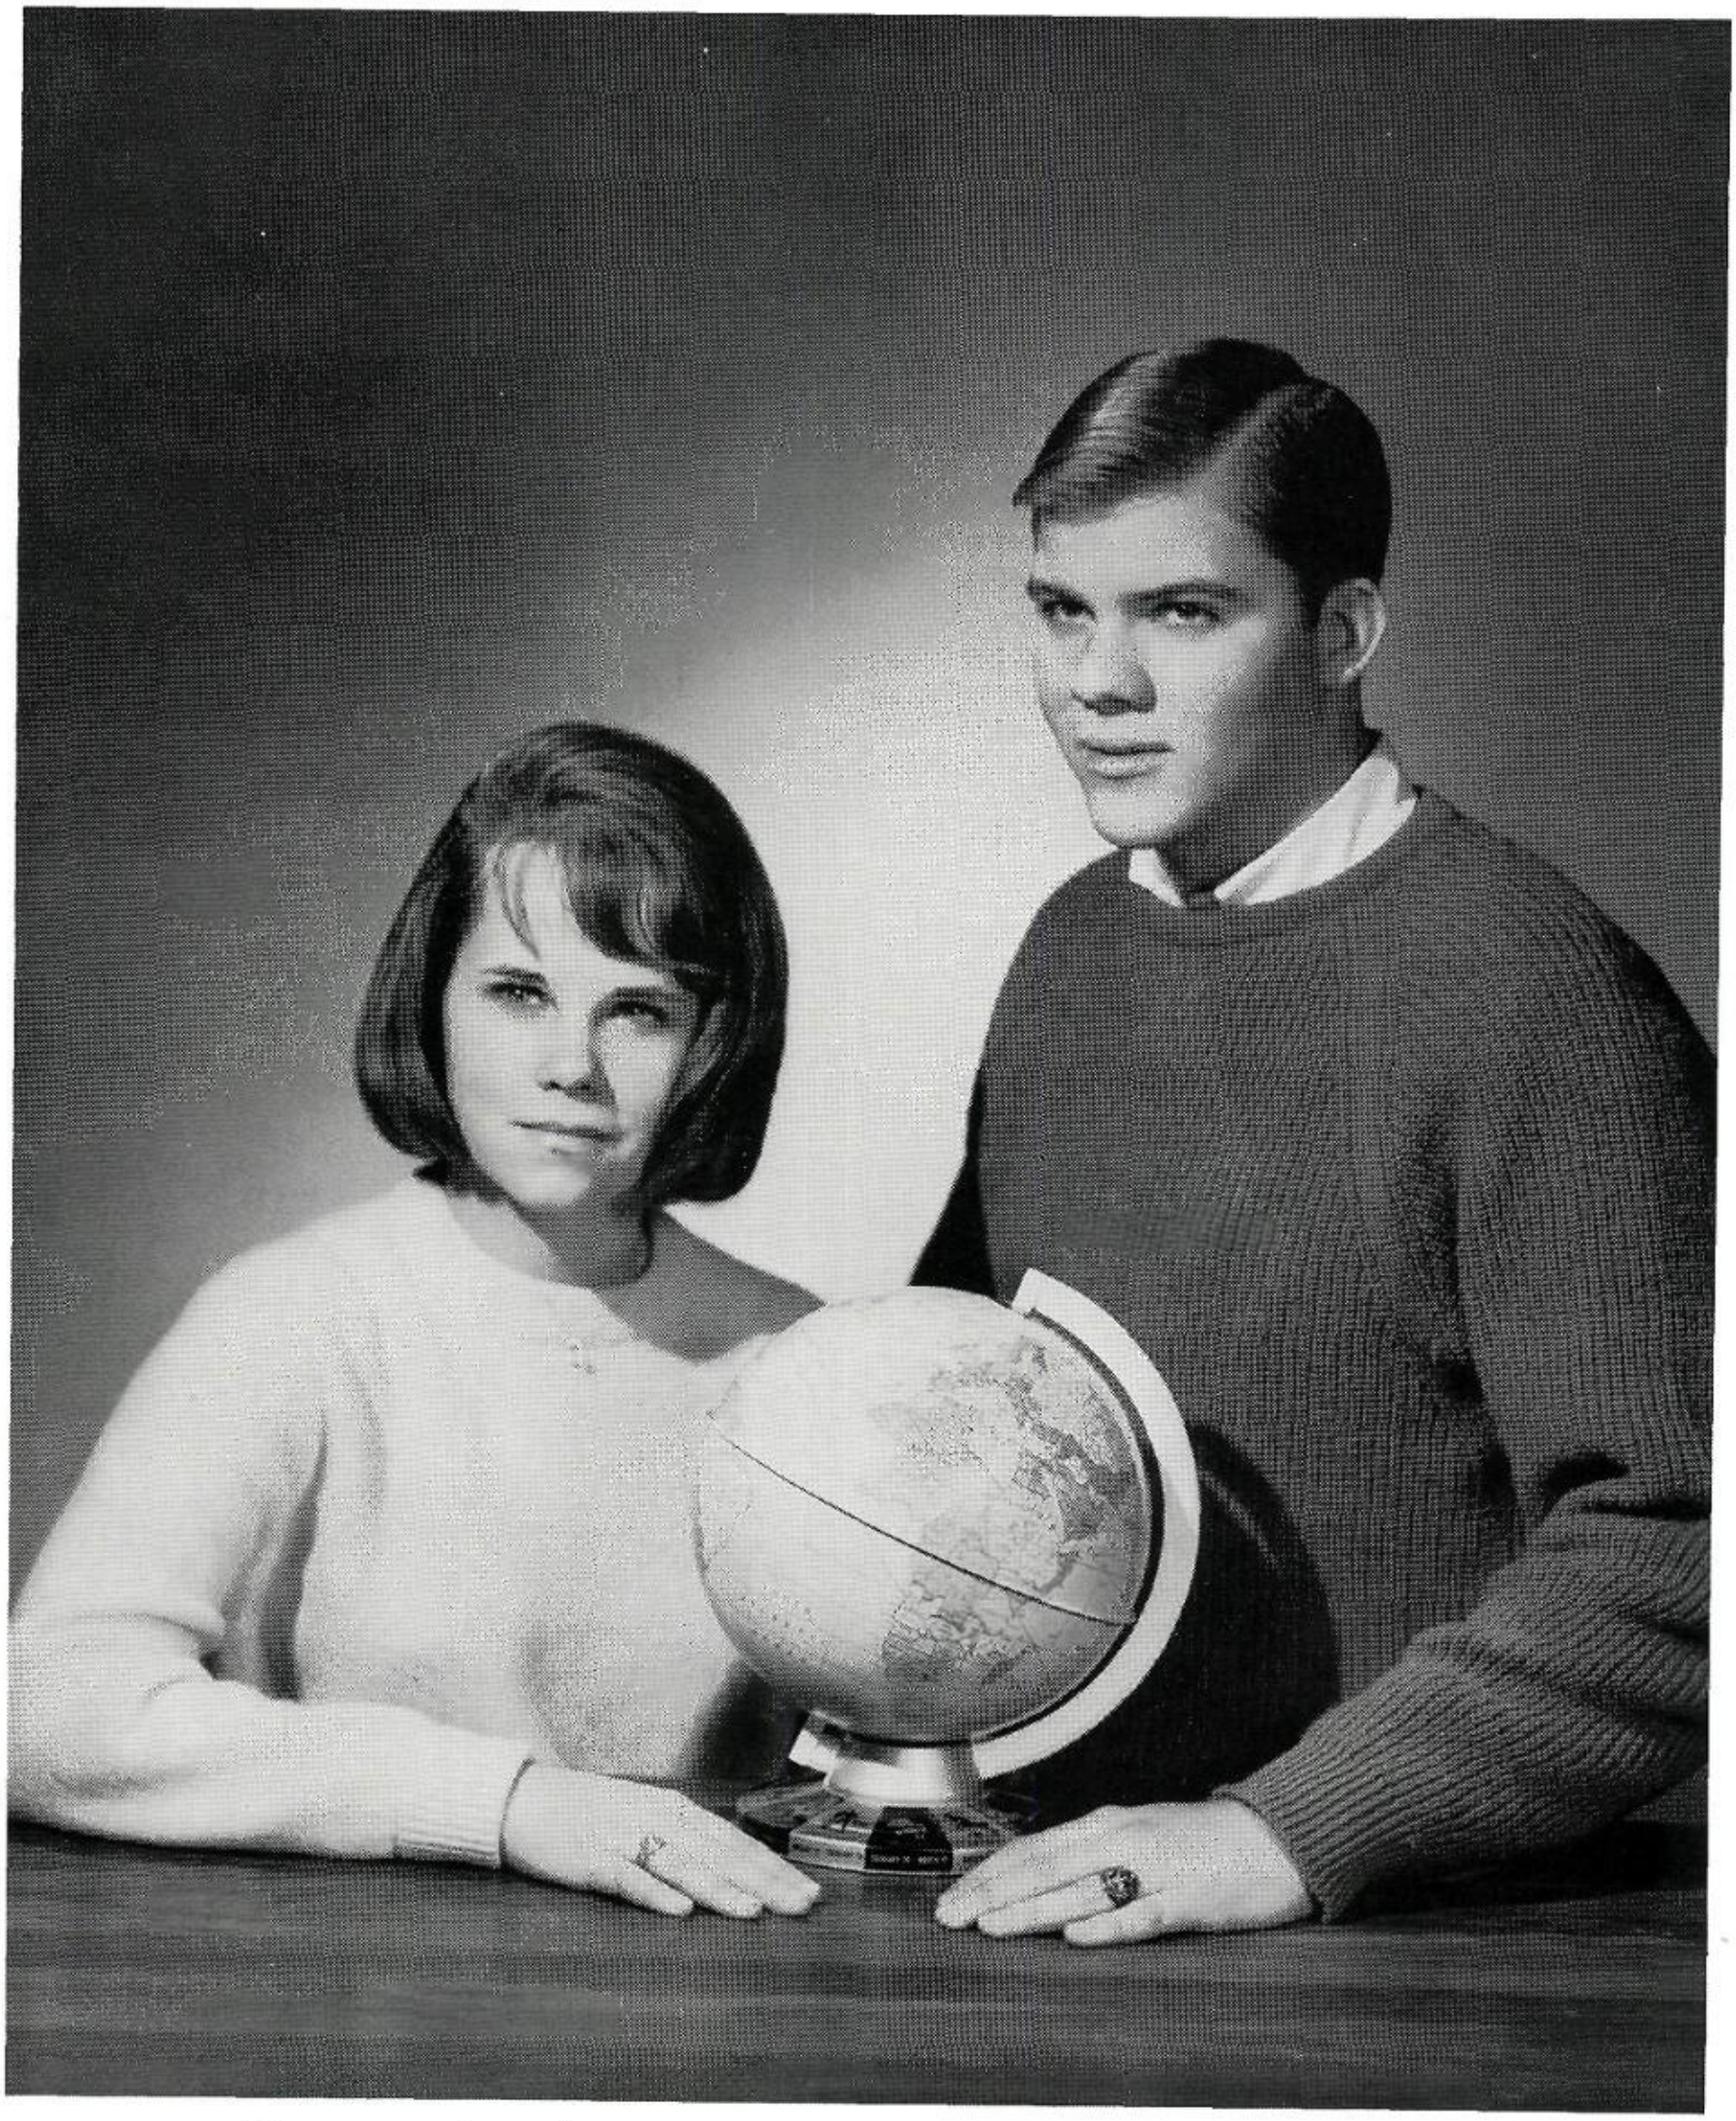
Margaret Pace

Elected both sophomore and junior favorite, Margaret Pace was chosen by the student body as best representing Heights's friendliness. She has been an active and interested participant in many school-sponsored activities.

Charlie Williams

Charlie Williams has also been sophomore and junior favorite while he has promoted school spirit as a three-year cheerleader. His warm cheerfulness has become well-known on the Hill.

Most Studious



Tamara Smith

As Vice-President of the Senior Class, Tamara Smith has actively participated in Allied Youth and Young Citizens' Forum. She has been an ROTC sponsor and an office assistant. Tamara's consistently high grades have enabled her to be a recipient of the "J" Club pin and Leonard's Award."

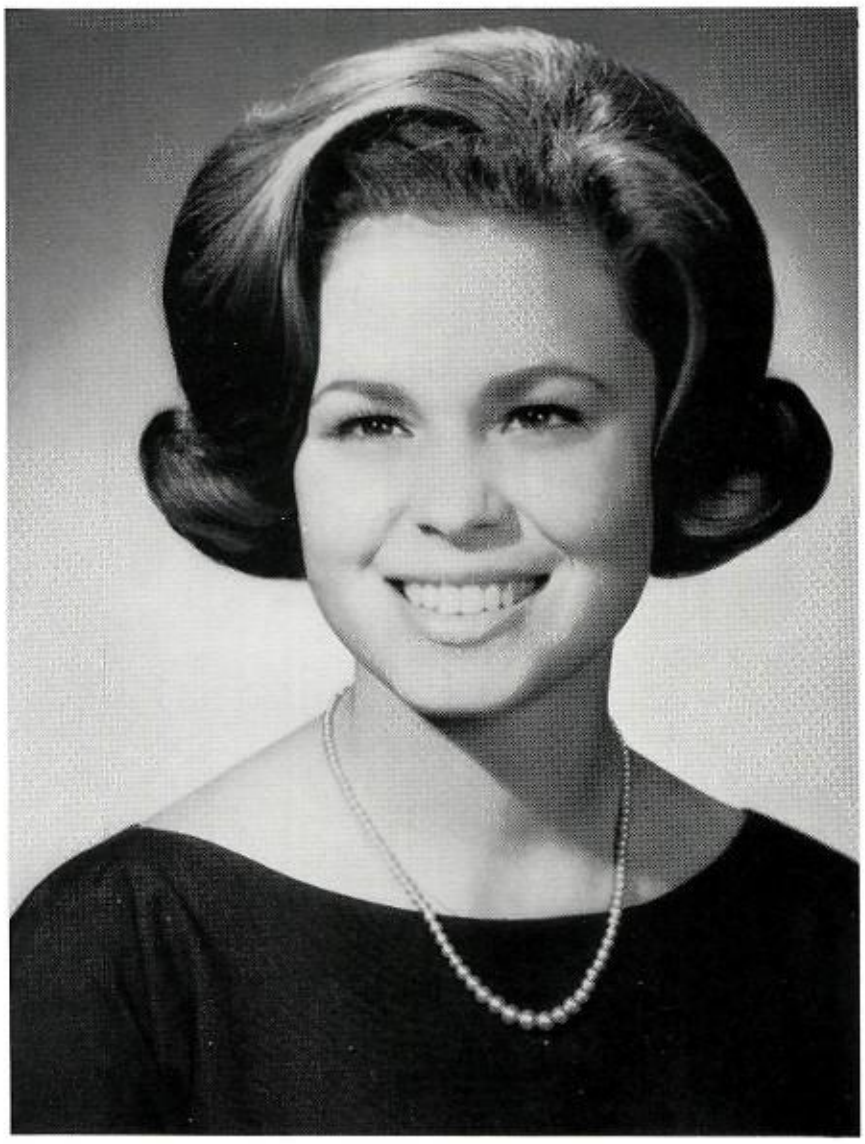
Tommy Croft

Tommy Croft has maintained high grades throughout his three years at Heights. As an end on the football team he made the All-Academic Team. Tommy has participated in many school-sponsored organizations and received both the "J" Club pin and the Leonard's Award.

Seniors Win Special Awards

DAR Award

Joan Williams was selected by the faculty to be the recipient of the Daughters of the American Revolution Award after she was chosen as one of the finalists in a ballot by the Senior Class. Nomination requirements for this honor included grade average of "A" in citizenship and above-average reports in scholastic subjects. The final selection was based on the qualities of dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism.



Joan Williams

Merit Finalists

Robert Brock and Bruce Patrick were named National Merit Scholarship Finalists after becoming semi-finalists from scores made on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test in the spring of 1964. Scholastic Aptitude Test scores and personal recommendations were the governing factors in their selection as Finalists.

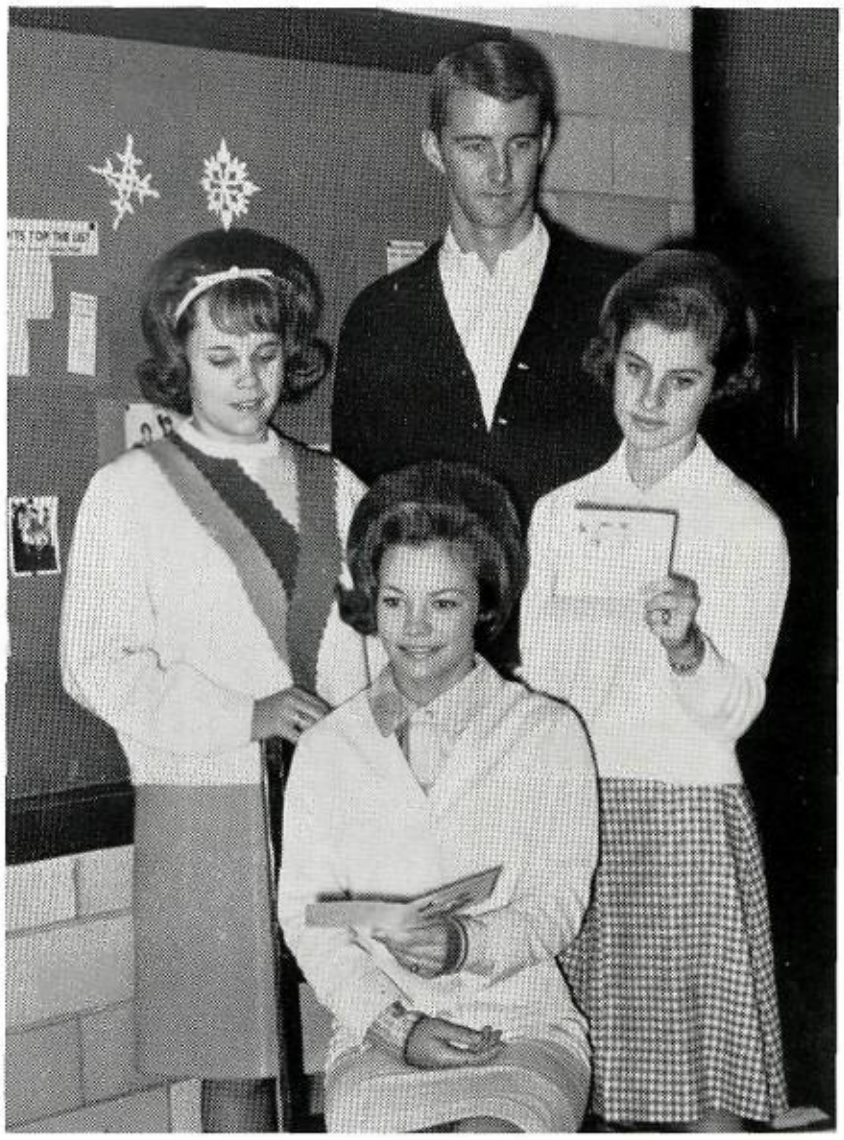
FORESIGHT

That is to be wise to see not merely that which lies before your feet, but to foresee even those things which are in the womb of futurity.

TERENCE

Final Year Promises Memories as Round of Activities Planned

Sparkling with enthusiasm and the thrill of "their year," seniors of '65 began planning early for the momentous events of spring. Class officers, assisted by a steering committee composed of senior homeroom presidents, assumed major responsibility in arranging the traditional picnic, casual party, and formal banquet and dance. Key speakers were selected for baccalaureate and graduation exercises, and the annual magazine sale to finance activities was organized. Senior class sponsors, headed by Mr. Willie Taylor, supervised these preparations.



Senior class officers, clockwise, John B. Collier, IV, president, Margaret Pace, secretary, Jane Moore, treasurer, and Tamara Smith, vice-president, study selection of invitations for graduation exercises.

Avis Collinsworth symbolizes the hospitality Heights extends to exchange student Stella Flores from Argentina.

Homeroom presidents Gary Luskie, Garland Kerr, and Billy Schultz prepare forms for the senior magazine sales campaign.

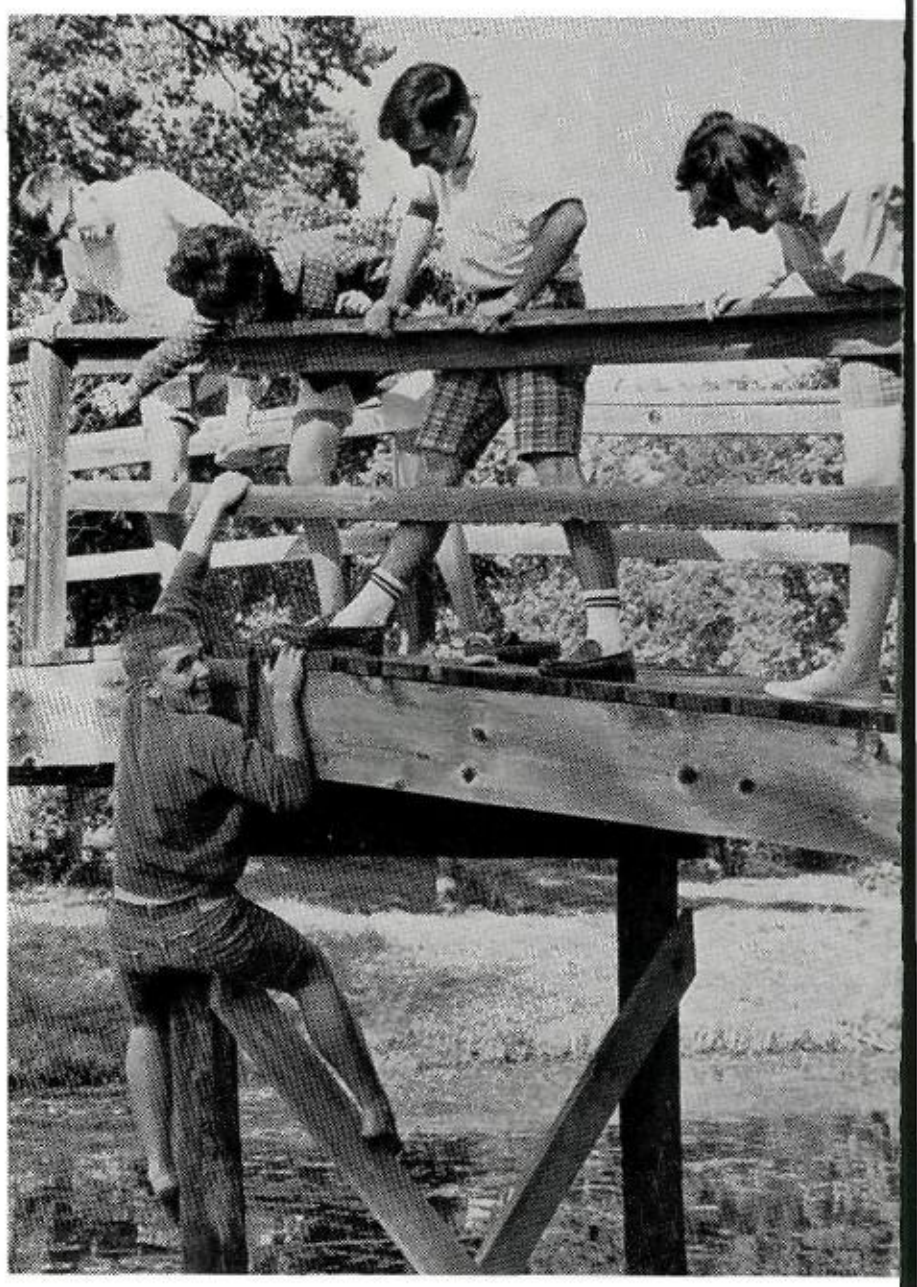
Williams,



"Did you ever get the feeling you weren't wanted?" shreiks Ted Calinson as conspirato,s toss their victim to the sharks.

"Is it someone you know, Geoff?" inquires Marianne Montgomery of Geoff Swanberg as Ken Howard works his way greedily toward Gaylene Pfeffer's hand.

Ultimately each man must stand alone
And make the decisions
Which either bury his destiny or mark him
An individual.

Grateful appreciation is extended to Harris Costume Shop, to Bob Maulsby and Ralph Cordray of Photographic Arts, to the Yellow Jacket Staff, and to sponsor Mrs. Anne Stanton, whose dedicated work has made possible the 1965 Yellow Jacket.

TAYLOR PUBLISHING COMPANY
"The World's Best Yearbooks Are Taylor-made"

To a real great guy that I've have had many great times with. I hope we will be friends forever. Lots of luck down the path of life. Your pal forever
Jerrell
Jones

Mike,
Speech has been great this year with you: reading poetry;
taking notes; memorizing scripts.
Since I'm leaving this year
I'll gladly leave all of this
"fun" to you next year.
Bruce

Mike, Even though I don't know you very well, I think you're sweet & nice
Love ya,
Linda Obrunik

Mike,
I don't know you very well, but I do know enough to see that you a
a very nice Person
May God's riches
blessings go with yo
Marcia Bessig
"05"

To a great actor. I wish you the best of everything.
Dennis Morton -

Mike,
You're a real great guy who I've enjoyed knowing for many years.
Lots of Luck
Mike Schlueter

Mike,
Good Luck on Speech
We all need it.
Love, Cotton
Every night I say a prayer for Miss Taylor

To Mike from Mike. It's been a blast with you in Speech this year. Keep the fun going next year.
Good Luck,
Mike Ehmer

Mr. Athletic,

Your the fastest runner, highest jumper, biggest talker, most muscled boy in our P.E. class. Just kidding.

Steve Amos
